QUAY IS IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF THE GUBERNATORIAL SITUATION AND PENNYPACKER'S NOMINATION IS CERTAIN.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 10.—Senator Quay has complete command of the situation. He unhorsed Elkin and Reeder in the meeting of the state committee this afternoon and took the saddle. He had 206 delegates tonight in the organization caucus composed of the Pennypacker and Watres delegates. The number necessary to nominate a candidate for governor is 180. Penrose will be temporary chairman by the force of the 206 votes in Quay's caucus. Sibley will be permanent chairman by unanimous consent. He was approved in Quay's caucus and also in Elkin's caucus without opposition. Senator Quay will be the state chairman and manage the campaign. Pennypacker will be the nominee for governor, and it is not impossible that the delegates will insist on making Watres the nominee for lieutenant-governor. In the Elkin caucus only 146 persons answered to roll call, but the presiding officer made the announcement that 189 delegates had answered to their names. Frank Reeder, the present state chairman, was selected as the Elkin candidate for temporary chairman.

ELKIN'S FATE IS SEALED BY DAY'S EVENTS

Col. Quay's Two Victories Show What Conclusion Will Be Recorded.

THE COMMITTEE CAPTURED BY HIM

By ROBERT SIMPSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—Tomorrow's battle for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania was won in the meeting of the state committee this afternoon, when Senator Quay took the control of the organization out of the hands of Elkin. The real contest was not long-drawn out, but it furnished one of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in a political gathering.

Quay had been seated in the front row of committeemen with Penrose. Elkin occupied a chair facing the committee. At the moment when Quay reached out for the victory that was his the two men faced each other in the open space in the supreme court room between the chairs and the desks of the officers of the committee.

There was intense feeling manifest as they stepped forward until their hands almost touched as they shook their fingers at each other, Elkin declaring: "I want no nomination that does not come fairly," and Quay replying: "You will get no nomination; you will not be nominated at all."

Quay Knew His Strength.

Senator Quay knew every man whose name was on the membership roll of the state committee, and where each man stood. He knew that a majority was with him, and he made the fact a matter of record on a test case involving right of membership on the committee by appointment of the state chairman to fill a vacancy. Then he clinched his victory and nailed it tight.

Elkin made a motion for the appointment of a committee of seven on credentials to make up the temporary roll of the convention. Senator Quay suggested that a committee of five would work faster. Elkin adopted the suggestion, and in accordance with the resolution the committee was appointed by the chair. Announcement of the names disclosed three Elkin men and two friendly to Quay.

The senator immediately moved that Penrose and A. S. L. Shields of Philadelphia be added to the committee. He stated the reason to be that Penrose and Shields were friends of his and that the credentials committee as named was deliberately made up against him. The addition of their names would restore the equilibrium and make the credentials committee representative of the sentiment of the convention.

There was a hot protest from Elkin, which Senator Quay met with energy and decision, and Senator Penrose seconded him with the declaration that it is customary to so constitute committees of a body that they shall be representative of its majority.

Reeder Takes a Hand.

Elkin and Chairman Reeder protested in vain. Senator Quay was firm. He charged deliberate unfairness. Reeder came down from the chair to deny Quay's charge that the matter had been arranged in a whispered colloquy between the chairman and Elkin and created a scene not less dramatic than the verbal encounter between Quay and Elkin.

In the end Quay won, and the credentials committee, as made up, represented the sentiment of the members of the state committee, which divided, 75 for Quay and 41 for Elkin.

Elkin closed the discussion with words that sounded like an admission that all is over, but the recording of the vote against him in tomorrow's convention, when he declared:

"You've got to reckon with the people of Pennsylvania, and that day of reckoning will come."

He will be in the convention tomorrow, holding the credentials of an Indiana county delegate. Elkin had expected to win at least four delegates to the state convention by the action of the state committee's committee on credentials. He will be short that number, and delegates from Venango, Warren, Mercer, Crawford, Erie and other northwestern Pennsylvania counties he had been counting on.

Dark Horse Talk for Sibley.

The one thing on which all factions and all delegates agree is the choice of Congressman Sibley for permanent chairman of the convention. The Quay caucus named Penrose for temporary chairman, while the Elkin caucus named Gen. Reeder. Both caucuses united on Sibley.

This fact has caused some talk of a sudden shift to Sibley for governor. There are also rumors of a shift from Pennypacker to Watres by Quay, but there is the highest authority for saying that there will be no shift, and that Pennypacker will be the nominee, with a strong probability that Watres will be his running mate.

The caucuses disclose that Quay, with 206 delegates, dominates the situation, and when the convention meets an even more numerous following for the senior senator will be apparent. Except the delegates led by Von Bonnhorst, to whom is now added U. H. Stauffer, the Allegheny delegates are on the wrong side. They acted under the lead of Recorder Brown in this matter.

Day and Night of Shouting.

Since daybreak this morning the scenes about the railroad stations and streets of the city were alive with campaigners and bands of music from every section of the state. The headquarters of the rival candidates for governor were jammed with good-natured crowds all day long, and bands of music vied with one another in tempting the politicians to a pitch of enthusiasm.

Two special sections over the Pennsylvania railroad from Philadelphia brought hundreds of shouters for Pennypacker from that city. The W. R. Andrews club of Washington, composed of 200 clerks in the government department, accompanied by the Washington Times band, arrived during the morning and had a short parade, after which they called upon Senators Quay and Penrose at their headquarters.

A band of 420 Watres shouters arrived from the coal regions this morning in charge of ex-Mayor Fellows. They marched up Market street to the Watres headquarters, where they were met by their candidate and his managers.

The Lackawanna contingent had a dozen banners calling for "Watres and Harmony," announcing that he had risen from a breaker boy to his present place, and that he was going to go from the breaker to the state capital.

Over 3,000 Pennypacker enthusiasts marchede tonight to the music of 12 bands from Philadelphia and other eastern cities. The parade was made up largely of shouters from Philadelphia. The crowd on the streets tonight was the largest ever known in this city, and several persons were injured in the crush along the sidewalks.

CRAWFORD FOR PENNYPACKER.

Meeting of That County Indorses Him and Flood for Second Place.

HARRISBURG, June 10.—(Special)—A meeting of the Crawford county people was held at the Lochiel hotel today, at which a vote was taken, which resulted as follows: For Pennypacker, 38; for Elkin, 3; for Watres, 2.

After this vote the delegation indorsed Judge Pennypacker for governor and Dr. Flood for lieutenant governor, and requested the Crawford county delegates to sustain both candidates in the convention. A resolution favorable to W. R. Andrews for anything that he might suggest was also adopted.

206 ATTEND THE CAUCUS OF ALLIES

Quay Forced to Make a Speech to Quiet His Shouting Friends.

FIGURES SEAL DOOM OF STONE

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—Two hundred and six delegates answered to their names in the joint Pennypacker-Watres caucus. This vote insures control of the convention by the anti-Elkin-Stone forces and the defeat of the state administration's candidate for governor. It was a clear, clean, decisive victory. The votes were present, and they were called and counted in the open.

When the result was announced there was an enthusiastic, spontaneous outbreak, a whirlwind of applause, another magnificent tribute to the leadership, the judgment and the personal magnetism of Quay. The 206 delegates stood and cheered their leader; cheered him as they have always done, and always will so long as he shall lead. There was a stampede of delegates in the direction of the "old man." All wanted to reach him and congratulate.

"Quay," "Quay," the crowd shouted, and to escape the friendly onrush the senator was persuaded to mount the stage. After the applause had quieted Col. Quay said:

"Gentlemen of the convention, for a majority of the convention is here present, the nomination for governor of Pennsylvania is in the hands of the gentlemen here assembled, and they will have control of the proceedings of tomorrow's convention.

"I congratulate the state of Pennsylvania upon the happy consummation and result of the fierce struggle of the last few weeks. It is a struggle which produced a reaction which will reunite the Republican party of the state of Pennsylvania. (Cheers.)

"This result will break factional lines and promote the nomination of a ticket which will have a majority of a quarter of a million at the election of November next. The result of the caucus tonight denotes the result of the convention tomorrow.

"I did not come here to make a speech, but merely to inaugurate the proceedings of this caucus as to its action tomorrow. It becomes my pleasing duty to nominate for temporary chairman of the convention the junior senator from Pennsylvania, the Hon. Boies Penrose."

There was but one roll call. It was for

ELKIN MUSTERS ONLY 146 VOTES IN HIS CAUCUS

The Chairman Makes It 189, but Reporters' Count Differs.

CHAIRMAN REEDER IS RENOMINATED

By ROBERT SIMPSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—There was a large crowd tonight at the meeting of the Elkin delegates in the hall of the house of representatives, but not more than 146 delegates answered to their names. These include contesting delegates. There was much confusion and the delegates were almost lost in the throng.

Elder Peeler of Indiana, who presided, announced that 189 delegates had voted, but none of the reporters could figure it out that way. T. Larry Eyre was made secretary of the meeting and he did the counting for the Elkin result announced by Mr. Peeler.

That gentleman, on calling the meeting to order, announced that the caucus had been assembled at the instance of the Indiana county delegates. The answers to the roll call by counties were:

Allegheny	20	Huntingdon	2
Armstrong	1	Indiana	3
Bedford	2	Jefferson	3
Berks	5	Lancaster	12
Blair	5	Lawrence	4
Bradford	1	Lebanon	4
Butler	1	Luzerne	7

Crawford	3	Tioga	4
Dauphin	6	Union	1
Elk	1	Westmoreland	4
Franklin	1	Wyoming	1

The Allegheny Elkinites lost Stauffer since their arrival. Dr. Flood's arrival today held three from Crawford county for Elkin, the doctor having himself substituted for Flowers. He found little prospect of a nomination for lieutenant governor on the ticket with Pennypacker and took chances with the opposition.

After the roll call Mr. Elkin was called on for a speech. He told of the early approval of his candidacy by party lead-

QUAY WINS COMMITTEE WITH EASE

By Majority of 34 Votes, Almost Two to One, He Holds the Reins.

ELKIN INFORMED HE CANNOT WIN

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—In the meeting of the state committee this afternoon Senator M. S. Quay demonstrated that he was still in control. He won half a dozen of the hard-fought battles. His victories were so decisive that there can no longer be any doubt about the outcome of the final fight tomorrow. The death knell of the Stone machine was sounded and John P. Elkin sees the handwriting on the wall. He knows that he will not be nominated for governor. In fact, Senator Quay so told him this afternoon.

There have been many political battles fought in Harrisburg, but never in the history of M. S. Quay has he waged war as he did this afternoon. He had his campaign thoroughly planned and there was not a break in his schedule.

John P. Elkin was there to conduct his fight. It was teacher against pupil, and the preceptor easily demonstrated that he had not imparted all of his political knowledge to his recently-graduated scholar. Credit must be given Elkin for a manly stand, but the generalship of his opponent was too much for him.

First Shook Hands, Next Fingers.

The meeting lasted over four and one-half hours and abounded in dramatic incidents. It was the first time Quay and Elkin had met since the day the senator advised the attorney general to step aside for the sake of party harmony. When the two men shook hands today the crowd howled. If they thought that the gathering was to be turned into a love feast they were mistaken. Before a sine die adjournment had been reached the two men engaged in many tilts, in which considerable bitterness was shown.

Perhaps the most dramatic incident of the meeting was when the two men faced each other, and Quay, shaking his finger at Elkin, said:

"You cannot be nominated in any way tomorrow, and you will be given fair play."

The Stone machine had planned to control the state committee and fix the temporary roll of the convention to suit its purposes. Quay had not overlooked this end of the fight. He had a surprise for the Elkinites when they attempted to put their schemes into effect. The first roll call developed the fact that Quay controlled the committee about 2 to 1.

The senator not only prevented all of the brute-force games attempted by the Stone machine, but he forced the adoption of such rules as to prevent anything but fair play in the convention tomorrow. This was done despite the fact that State Chairman Frank Reeder is subject to the orders of Gov. William A. Stone.

Chairman Reeder Reversed.

When Reeder tried to appoint an Elkin committee on contests, when the majority of the members of the committee were the other way, Quay forced a reversal of the control of the committee. This body then refused to give seats to the mushroom delegates the Elkin men tried to put on the rolls. This brought a wail from Elkin and resulted in the quotation from Quay given above.

Quay did not lose a point during the whole fight. He entered the contest as if he enjoyed it. He stood out in the open, made his own bullets and fired them. It was not so with Stone. He did not appear, nor has he shown himself in public during the fight.

It was a treat to the audience. There are few people in Pennsylvania who have ever seen the senator stripped

Some of the Campaign Hats Seen at the State Capital.

QUAY'S MANY TRIUMPHS IN LIVELY STATE COMMITTEE MEETING

for action, as he was today, and it is probable that he will never have occasion to fight a similar battle.

There will be some skirmishing tomorrow, but to most men it was evident that the main engagement with the enemy occurred today. When the meeting adjourned despair was written upon the faces of all of the principals in the Stone camp.

The great victory in the state committee, coming right on the very hour of the convening of the caucuses, was a disastrous thing for the Stone machine.

Settled the Floating Votes.

The man who was wavering in the fight and wanted to be with the winner did not need to longer hesitate about where he should plant his colors. Elkin would have given much to have avoided the occurrences of the afternoon, but he was powerless to prevent what happened.

Quay saw his chance and accepted it. Although almost three score and ten, he carried his years like a boy today and displayed the wisdom of the great political general that he is. He had but one purpose, and that was to show that he controlled the committee by an overwhelming majority. Few men could have thought of demonstrating this fact in the way he did. A running story of the meeting reveals the plan, and the way Quay unfolded his scheme and invited the enemy into the pitfalls almost leads one to believe he must have had some dress rehearsals.

Elkin served notice that he would die game. He promises to battle tomorrow as though he had a chance to win. Perhaps, when he reflects, he will be sorry for some of the things he said today. When it was found that the plans of the Stone machine had come to naught and the effort to snatch the nomination by any means had failed there was bitterness in his tone and lack of wisdom in his speech. He threatened that there would be a reckoning in the fall. It is not believed he has any intention of bolting, but his remark has caused much comment and injured the candidacy of the attorney general not a little.

Political Friends Fall Out.

Even that even-tempered gentleman, Frank Reeder, accused Quay of uttering falsehoods, and he quarreled with men today who have been his lifelong friends. It was the fact that close friends had fallen out that made this meeting abound in so much bitterness.

Quay and Penrose were early to arrive at the supreme court chamber, where the meeting was held. Few knew that Quay would be present. He is not a member of the state committee but had secured the proxy of ex-Senator William Meredith of Kittanning, who is one of the members-at-large. Penrose also had a proxy. The senators were loudly applauded when they entered the room.

Secretaries W. R. Andrews and Thomas Garvin, Quayites, arrived about the time that Quay appeared. The meeting was to be held at 3 o'clock. Shortly before that hour Andrews announced that all who were not members or who did not have proxies would have to withdraw. The room was filled with many outsiders. When Andrews made this announcement, Quay inquired:

"I would be glad to be informed whether the chairman intends to be present, or whether you will preside."

Andrews said he had seen Reeder yesterday and thought that he would be here. Penrose then requested that some one be placed at the door to exclude all but members.

Elkin Takes Quay's Chair.

It was shortly after this that the first sensation happened. Elkin pushed his way through the crowd at the door. He saw a vacant chair in the front row between the ones occupied by Penrose and B. F. Gilkeson, the man who opposed Quay for chairman in the memorable "nog combine" fight. Elkin did not know it belonged to Quay, who had stepped over to talk with the secretaries. Elkin shook hands with Penrose and Gilkeson and was preparing to seat himself, when Quay appeared. Both men flushed. There was an instant's pause, and then Quay said:

"Hello, John, how are you? If you want to sit down there, I will hold you in my lap."

Quay's hand went toward Elkin and the two men shook hands, while Elkin said: "Hello, senator, how are you?" and walked away. The big crowd joined in loud applause.

Chairman Reeder then appeared and called the meeting to order. As he did so Elkin handed in a proxy for the seat of Horace J. Thompson of Indiana. He immediately was recognized by the chair and said:

"I understand that there are some contests, and suggest that a committee of seven be appointed to consider them."

Quay and Penrose were on their feet in an instant, exclaiming: "This is not in order."

Insisted on Regular Order.

Quay—I made the same suggestion to the chairman at 3 o'clock yesterday.

Elkin—The committee was not in order then.

Quay—Neither is it now. I have no objection to the appointment of the committee by the chair, but believe we should proceed in the regular way. The matter can be taken up later.

Elkin—That is satisfactory to me.

Chairman Reeder said that the meeting was held in conformity with custom, to prepare the temporary roll of the convention. He ordered the secretaries to call the names of the committeemen.

W. J. Whitehouse of Schuylkill interrupted to know where objections could be made to the names as they were called. He was told that objections would be heard. The roll of delegates-at-large showed that Recorder J. O. Brown and ex-Senator W. H. Andrews were members. The committeemen from Allegheny county were John R. Murphy, John C. Oliver, Thomas G. McClure, S. C. Jamison, P. J. Murphy, M. G. Leslie, R. Bigham and J. W. Ruhlandt. Jamison was the only absentee.

There was no evidence of trouble until Chester county was reached on the roll call. When the name of T. Larry Eyre, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, and chief lieutenant for Elkin, was called Senator Quay asked by what authority Eyre had secured the seat made vacant by the death of C. H. Speakman. Chairman Reeder said he had appointed Eyre.

Quay Refers to the Rule.

Quay said it was never the custom, when he was chairman—and he was chairman of the state committee years before the present distinguished gentleman who now occupies the position—to fill vacancies by appointment.

"I will refer you to the rules," said Quay. "They say that delegates to the state convention are the proper persons to elect members of the committee. There is no authority for appointment by the chair. I would like to know your authority."

Reeder—I followed a time-honored custom in making this appointment. Many of them have been made in the past, and I have never known them to be questioned.

Quay—Were they made since this rule was adopted?

Reeder—I do not recall.

Reeder—I referred the matter of appointment to the Chester organization and it reported in favor of Eyre. There was no desire on my part to serve a particular faction. If the committee thinks that I was not justified in making the appointment it is within the province of the body to correct the roll and rebuke the chair.

Elkin—I had the distinguished honor to serve as chairman during four troublesome campaigns. Frequently during that time I made appointments, and in so doing acted under the instructions of the gentleman from Beaver.

Quay—You never did it with my knowledge.

When Quay Was Appointed Senator.

Elkin—It has been our unbroken custom to fill vacancies by appointment. Nature abhors a vacuum, and all organized bodies must fill vacancies to keep up their organization. I recall that a vacancy in the United States senate was filled by appointment some years ago.

Quay—Yes, and the senate turned it down.

Elkin—Yes, for reasons the gentleman from Beaver knows.

Reeder—It is my recollection that a vacancy was filled in 1900 by appointment.

Quay—You had no right to do it.

Elkin—I suppose, then, if all of the delegation to the last state convention were to die there would be no state committee.

Quay—I have no objection to Eyre serving Chester on this committee. I have no doubt that he could secure the support of the state delegation to the 1901 convention. My main objection occurs lower down on the roll, in the case where the chair has turned down the Carbon delegates and appointed to suit himself. When that county is reached I will insist upon the rules being observed.

Reeder—The appointment of Gray in Carbon was made before the delegates designated Watkins as their choice. I am of the opinion that the delegates are powerless, and that they die with the sine die adjournment of the convention.

Conventions Sometimes Meet Again.

Penrose—Conventions are frequently recalled.

Reeder—A convention may be galvanized into life by a call, but as individuals the delegates are dead after the adjournment.

Elkin—It is not the custom to recall conventions to fill vacancies. I cite the case of Josiah Adams in 1899 when his place on the state committee was filled by the state committee.

Ex-Chairman B. F. Gilkeson—I recalled a convention to fill the vacancy for congressman-at-large when Gen. Lilly died.

Quay—I will withdraw my objection to Eyre and wait for the Carbon case.

The roll call developed that Spiker of Huntingdon was serving as a committeeman for one of the eastern counties. Quay objected and had his name stricken from the list.

When Beaver was reached, Chairman H. P. Bunn said that under the rules of his county the county chairman became a member of the state committee, and as Dr. H. S. McConnell had resigned as chairman, and he had been elected in May, he should be substituted. He is not in accord with Quay.

Quay—My friend Bunn is chairman. I know nothing about this rule he speaks of, but there is no doubt it exists. The county committee has no right to name a state committeeman, however. My presumption is that McConnell is still a member until he resigns here. I offer a substitution for McConnell in Oliver P. Molter and move that he be seated.

The Carbon Case Reached.

The committee agreed with Quay. The Carbon case was opened next. Quay presented the credentials of David G. Watkins and moved that he be seated in place of W. E. Gray. He said Watkins succeeded W. R. Stroh who died last winter.

Reeder—Before the committee—

The chairman was drowned by cries of "question," the demand being led by Penrose.

Quay—Give Mr. Reeder a chance. No one accuses the chair of trickery.

Reeder—The objection to my explaining would indicate that the committee does not repose the confidence in me that I would hope for. I never saw Gray until this morning. I do not know whether he is for Quay or against him. The appointment was impartially made. The Carbon organization suggested that I name Gray. There was no ulterior or sinister motive, nor was Gray named for a factional purpose. As an individual, I have taken a stand; but as state chairman, I am endeavoring to act with absolute neutrality. I have no interest in the matter.

Quay—I cannot believe that any member casts a doubt on the integrity or impartiality of the chair. I suppose the appointment was made before the factional disturbance that has unfortunately arisen. This is just a question of observing the rules.

A Philadelphian's Opinion.

David H. Lane of Philadelphia—Rules are the constitutional law of a party. The unanimous action of this body could not supersede the organic law. These rules have become the statutes of the state. Precedents of the kind attempted here today are dangerous. We should frown on this illegal act.

Elkin—It is of no interest to me which of the members is seated. My friend from Philadelphia forgets that Watkins' credentials are sent here by two members of a convention that has ajourned sine die and their power here ended. The legal status of this case is that no one can be seated.

Quay—The delegate from Indiana makes some good points, except that the organic law provides that certain things can be done by delegates.

The roll was called on the Quay motion to seat Watkins. Eyre refrained from voting and Quay told him that his right to vote was not questioned. Elkin voted no. There were 75 votes to sustain Quay's motion and 41 against it. The committee consists of 122 members, and there were six absentees. J. O. Brown voted with the Stone machine and Andrews against it. Messrs. McClure, J. R. Murphy, P. J. Murphy, M. G. Leslie and J. W. Ruhlandt followed Brown. Oliver and Bigham voted with Quay. The senior senator started the applause when the result was announced.

Quay—I suggest to the gentleman from Indiana that we refer the delegate contests to the full committee.

The Size of the Committee.

Elkin—I renew my motion to appoint a committee of seven.

Quay—Make it five.

Elkin—I do not want to be on the committee.

Quay—I suggest that the committee be named before notice of the contest is given.

Reeder—I would rather wait.

Quay—All right; I only wanted to expedite business. Many here want to attend the caucuses tonight.

While Reeder was deciding upon the committee Quay walked over to Eyre and said: "Now, Larry, you had better see your delegation and get your credentials fixed up."

Reeder announced this committee: Warren McCreary, Butler; David H. Lane, Philadelphia; W. C. Peoples, Westmoreland; James G. Glessner, York; W. E. Gray, Centre.

Quay—I would suggest that Senator Penrose and A. S. L. Shields of Philadelphia be added to the committee. My reason for this proposal is that the chair has appointed a majority from the minority in this committee. He should know this. I will show him that I am right. McCreary is for Elkin, Lane is for Pennypacker, Peoples is for Elkin, Glessner is for Pennypacker and Gray is for Elkin. I want the two names added so that a majority of this committee will have its just representation.

Elkin—The senator is more unfair than the chair can possibly be, because he wants to put two friends on the committee. We only want fairness; we only ask that delegates who have been elected by the people be seated.

The Leaders Grow Excited.

This had brought Quay to his feet, and the senator and Elkin advanced toward each other. Both were flushed and showed signs of rising anger.

"I do not want any nomination," said Elkin, "that does not come from delegates elected by the people."

Advancing closer and shaking his finger at Elkin, Quay said:

"You will not get a nomination that comes in any way."

Elkin—I'll get a nomination if the people have their way.

Quay—You will receive fair play.

Elkin—What will be the result if you add two of your friends? Penrose is standing by your side and assisting to conduct your campaign. Is it fair to put him on?

Penrose—It is always fair to give the majority its proper representation. Here, where the friends of Quay outnumber you, two to one, you appoint three of the minority to our two.

Elkin—I'll trust the five men that have been appointed. There may be one real contest and a number of fake ones. If there are any delegates for me who have not been elected by the people, I do not want them seated.

Quay—The appointment of the two men named by me simply restores the committee to its proper completion. I desire to say that owing to a whispered conversation between the delegates from Indiana and the chair about the appointment of the committee, I must insist upon the addition of Penrose and Shields to the committee.

Reeder Impeaches Quay's Veracity.

This brought Reeder to the floor and Larry Eyre took the chair. Reeder said: "My relations with Senator Quay have been very close for many years; but when he says that I whispered, he states a falsehood."

Quay—I won't tolerate that. If you intend it for an insult, I resent it.

Elkin—I never whispered to Reeder.

Penrose tried to interrupt Reeder, and Eyre rapped him down. Then Quay endeavored to speak, and he was told to sit down. He defiantly cried:

"I will not sit down." And he did not.

Elkin—You tried to arrange to make this motion yesterday.

Reeder—There was no colloquy whatever. No communication between Elkin and me on this floor. Everything has been said in the hearing of all. It is not to the credit of the senator to cast this reflection upon me.

Lane—Didn't you know that you had named a majority of Elkin's friends?

Reeder—I did not.

A Voice—Reeder, I thought you were a man.

Elkin Asked for Recognition.

Reeder—Quay said to me yesterday that when Luzerne was reached on the roll-call he wanted to make a motion. Prior to that Elkin has said to me that at the opening of the meeting he desired to be recognized.

Quay—Did you communicate that to Mr. Quay yesterday?

Reeder—No, sir; I could not in honor do so. Acting upon the suggestion that I would be called upon to name a committee on contests I took the roll of committeemen and prepared a list. Some of the men I selected are not here. I had on my list Blakeley of Venango, George E. Gray of Carbon, Col. Clearwater of Elk, Glessner of York, Peoples of Westmoreland, Lane of Philadelphia, McCreary of Butler, Whitehouse of Schuylkill, Millar of Dauphin, Beach of Delaware and L. F. Hoyt of Bradford. I did not know where they stood.

Elkin—I do not care whether or not you put these men on the committee. Pack the committee and seat your delegates if you want. I want to remind you that there must be a reckoning with the people of Pennsylvania. That reckoning will surely come.

The roll was called and Penrose and Shields were added by a vote of 72 to 45.

The committee took a recess of a half hour while the contests were being considered. Quay went into the room where the committee was meeting. After remaining quite a while he came out and remarked that he had been told to leave the room because he had been accused of mixing in. During the wait for the committee to report Quay spoke to Elkin and they shook hands. Elkin said the conversation was purely personal.

Two Reports on Contests.

Mr. Shields made the report for the majority of the committee and his report seated these Pennypacker delegates: Fourth district of Schuylkill, Samuel Lee and J. F. Shaner; Twenty-eighth of Philadelphia, P. E. Smith, G. Muller, L. Lyle and H. R. Schoch; First of Luzerne, M. B. Williams and C. A. Miner. The contest in the Fifth of Luzerne was dismissed because proper notice of contest had not been served.

Gray made the minority report. He agreed as to Philadelphia and the Fifth of Luzerne, but recommended the seating of these Elkin delegates: Fourth of Schuylkill, John Woodward and George Sickles; First of Luzerne, A. G. Fell and A. H. Morgan.

Shields moved the adoption of his report, but both sides insisted upon making speeches. J. H. Dando spoke for the Elkin delegation in Luzerne. Penrose suggested that each speaker be confined to 10 minutes.

Elkin—I desire to serve notice that I have something to say before the committee and the convention. I do not apprehend that the senator wants to adopt the gag rule.

Penrose—I do not.

Elkin Protests Wildly.

Elkin—Let the committee consider the Luzerne contest. In order to accomplish a particular result, are you going to disfranchise the people of Wilkesbarre? I say now, and I will say tomorrow, that I do not want a nomination unless a majority of the delegates elected by the people give it to me. Watres and I announced in Luzerne. We discussed the issues in public. The returns on a popular vote gave me 1,365 votes and Watres 1,195. Since the people gave me this vote I should have the two delegates. If they are honest men, they will go into the convention and obey instructions. Are you Republicans as honest as you are willing to vote to unseat two men honestly elected? We cannot stand on that principle before the people. This contest shall be carried into Pennsylvania, and the whole people shall know of the methods to thwart their will.

"In Schuylkill," continued Elkin, "one convention elected two delegates for me and two for Pennypacker. A United States senator is a party to cutting out two votes and retaining the other pair; but I cannot believe that you will agree with him. When by brutal methods you disfranchise the people, you should throw out your own votes. I am willing to take my chances before the people, if you are."

Shields—On behalf of the committee, I desire to say that there was a clear majority for the delegates we seated.

Result of the Roll Call.

C. A. Snyder of Schuylkill spoke for the Elkin delegation, and W. J. Whitehouse for the Pennypacker men. The roll was called aand resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Quayites. The members voted as follows:

To adopt the majority report—Delegates-at-Large Lane, Barker, Andrews, Quay, Hertzler, Rice, Penrose, McClure.

Against the report—High, Sherman, Plummer.

Not voting—J. O. Brown.

For the report by senatorial districts—First, Schofield, Crawford; Second, Becker, Rupp; Third, Kiser, Henderson; Fourth, Warner, Shields; Fifth, Crow, Berlieback; Sixth, Durham, Devlin; Seventh, Stulb, Wildmore; Eighth, Hazel, Lukens; Ninth, Howard, Mathues; Tenth, Gilkeson, Shelly; Twelfth, Holland, Freed; Thirteenth, Slokom, Keller; Twentieth, Shelton, Doran; Twenty-second, Dreher, Mitchell, Watkins; Twenty-third, Gregory; Twenty-fourth, Maus, Vincent, Brown; Twenty-fifth, Owlet, Larabee; Twenty-sixth, Sears, Foran, Candell; Twenty-eighth, Glessner, Peoples, Gilmore; Thirty-first, Wells, Davis; Thirty-second, Bashore, Emmert; Thirty-third, Burham; Thirty-fourth, Satterlee; Thirty-fifth, Sunshine; Thirty-sixth, Johnson; Thirty-seventh, Wilson, Rankle; Byrne, Walton; Forty-first, Meredith; Forty-second, John G. Oliver; Forty-fifth, Bigham; Forty-sixth, Molter; Forty-seventh, Harbison; Forty-eighth, Parshall; Forty-ninth, Wood; Fiftieth, W. R. Andrews—Total, 67.

Against the majority report by senatorial districts—Eleventh district, Sande, Worley; Fourteenth, Wagenseller, Littlefinth, Kunkle; Seventeenth, Klout, Houch; Nineteenth, Eyre, Gladman; Twentieth, Fleitz, Dando; Twenty-third, Hoyt, Twenty-fourth, Crawford; Twenty-fifth, McClelland; Twenty-seventh, Woader, Ritter, Schoffstahl; Twenty-ninth, Crone, Lee; Thirty-fourth, Blythe, Gray; Thirty-fifth, Orr; Thirty-sixth, Jordan, Thirty-seventh, Elkin, Ditrebeit; Thirty-eighth, Wagenseller, Jamison, Wilson; Thirty-ninth, Peoples; Forty-first, McCreery; Forty-third, McClure; Forty-fourth, Leslie; Forty-seventh, Downs; Forty-eighth, Cessna; Fiftieth, Flood—Total, 84.

The other members were either absent or refrained from voting.

Closed With Pleasantry.

Quay wished to know about the arrangements for the convention. He said he did not want the convention mobbed, and thought none but delegates and state committeemen should be allowed on the floor. Quay, addressing Reeder, said:

"When you were absent in Europe some years ago we had a convention. I think that it was the 'combine' convention. People went into the hall in the night. Some people will probably remember that I was nearly torn to pieces while attempting to get into the convention. We should divide the seats among the friends of both. You should have good, able-bodied and sensible men at the door."

Then, addressing Elkin, Quay said: "Probably you remember the jam at the senatorial election some years ago. You were my friend there."

Elkin—Yes, I helped you all I could.

Quay—I thank you for it, but I cannot help you now.

Elkin—I'll help myself now.

It was finally decided that the tickets would be evenly divided. Reeder said the delegates could get their tickets at headquarters.

Quay—Where are they this year?

Reeder—In the Lochiel.

This apparent ignorance on the part of Quay caused a general laugh, and Quay moved to adjourn the committee sine die, and the Elkin people were glad to agree and find comfortable quarters.

CONVENTIONS HELD.

County Tickets Are Nominated and Pattison Is Indorsed for Governor.

FRANKLIN, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—The Democratic county convention met today. Nominations were made as follows: County commissioners, George Keyes, Cornplanter, and Jared A. Frank, Sugar Creek; auditors, W. J. Pringle, Oakland, and E. J. Hutchinson, Polk. It was decided to leave the nominations for assembly and the rest of the county ticket to the county committee, who will act after the state convention at Erie. The delegates to the state convention are W. J. Breene, Oil City, and J. S. Carmichael, Franklin. They were instructed to vote for Pattison.

MEADVILLE, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—The Democratic county convention today made the following nominations: State senator, Andrew J. Palm, Meadville; assembly, John L. Wilson, Titusville; J. S. Martin, South Shenango; L. D. Brown, Linesville; sheriff, Fred E. Thomas, Cambridge Springs; prothonotary, Charles L. Webb, Meadville; register and recorder, Claude W. Williams, Vernon; treasurer, J. J. McCrum, Titusville; district attorney, E. Lowry Humes, Meadville; clerk of courts, Henry Haas, Meadville; commissioners, William Johnson, Fairfield, and M. G. Beatty, West Mead; auditors, Burton Wykoff, Richmond, and Lot J. Anderson, Meadville. Resolutions were adopted indorsing Pattison for governor. Harvey Thomas, Conneaut Lake; John Fertig, Titusville, and Frank Hart, Cochranton, were elected delegates to the state convention.

The election of county chairman stirred up a tempest. A paper signed by all but one of the newly-made candidates asked for the election of E. W. McArthur of this city. William Kelm, Meadville, opposed this on the ground of "machine rule," and nominated W. W. Gelvin of this city, who was elected.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., June 10.—The Franklin county Democratic convention nominated W. J. Zacharias of Chambersburg and W. Tell Omwak of Waynesboro for the legislature. These state delegates were chosen: W. Rush Gillman, James F. McFerren, Ed B. Diehl, S. A. Skinner and W. H. Boggs.

SCRANTON, PA., June 10.—Democrats of the Second and Third Lackawanna districts elected delegates to the Erie convention and both sets were instructed for Pattison.

Car Ferry Turns Turtle.

MACKINAW CITY, MICH., June 10.—The big car ferry St. Ignace turned turtle while loading cars at St. Ignace early today and went to the bottom of the slip in 24 feet of water. The crew escaped. The sinking of the St. Ignace leaves the railroads between the two Michigan peninsulas without means of transferring their trains across the straits.

the purpose of making a demonstration of strength. Everything was by acclamation. Every motion was carried unanimously.

Senator Penrose was indorsed for temporary chairman; Congressman Joseph Sibley for permanent chairman of tomorrow's convention, and Senator Matthew Stanley Quay was declared the choice for chairman of the Republican state committee by a stentorian shout from the 206 delegates, which was chorused by the hundreds more who had been admitted to seats in the hall and galleries.

The six delegates from the Sixth legislative district of Allegheny county went into the Quay caucus, as did U. H. Stauffer of Allegheny City.

The Quay caucus was held in the auditorium of the board of trade. At 9 o'clock it looked as if the entire state delegation of 356 were in the hall. Philadelphia's 86 were bunched at the left of the stage, and the six from the Sixth legislative district of Allegheny were closeup on the right. The Watres men were in the center. One of the surprises was the presence of Dr. B. H. Warren of Westchester, who held the proxy of W. P. Reynolds, a Chester county delegate, who could not be present. Dr. Warren said he would vote for Judge Pennypacker because the sentiment of Chester county favors the judge.

Penrose Opens the Caucus.

There was a wild cheer when Senator Quay entered at 9:20. Senator Penrose was with him. A moment later Commissioner Durham sauntered up the aisle and he was given an ovation.

Senator Penrose called the meeting to order and nominated the Hon. B. F. Gilkeson as chairman. It was made unanimous. W. R. Andrews and Thomas Garvin were elected secretaries. W. R. Andrews called the roll, after Col. Quay said it was the official roll as made up this afternoon by the state committee.

On the call U. H. Stauffer of Allegheny answered. He was cheered. All of those from the Sixth legislative district were present. Samuel Walker held the proxy of L. L. Davis.

In the Philadelphia list when the name of Durham was reached there was great cheering, and it was repeated when Senator Penrose's name was called. The chairman reported 206 delegates having responded to their names. The vote by counties was:

Stauffer Answers to His Name.

The first jolt given the postscript man's friend was when U. H. Stauffer, one of the Allegheny city delegates, whom John R. Murphy promised to deliver to Gov. Stone, answered present. There was much applause. It meant that Stone was unable to control his home delegates, even though he holds the recorders of the great cities in the hollow of his hand and has threatened them with official annihilation if they failed to turn in solid delegations. Promptly and clearly answered the six delegates from the Sixth legislative district, the men who Recorder J. O. Brown says were given to Quay by Recorder George von Bonnhorst.

Armstrong county got a cheer when one of its delegates responded, and there was another delirious spasm when "M. S. Quay" answered as a Beaver county delegate. Butler county's two delegates responded to home sentiment by answering when their names were called, and the claims of T. Larry Eyre were exploded when Chester county gave an anti-Elkin vote. Crawford county, which was instructed in behalf of Dr. Flood for lieutenant governor, contributed one vote for reform, and the other three will join tomorrow. Fayette sent four men, and the fifth will be with them in the convention, thanks to Frank Fuller, the Quay leader of "Old Fiatt."

More Losses for Elkin.

Then the single delegate from Fulton, heretofore credited to Elkin, decided to get in line with the majority, and he had company from Juniata in the person of Delegate Arbogast, who was misquoted last night as being for Elkin. McKean gave one vote—a loss for Elkin—and Mercer reported two, which will be made three in the convention. Schuylkill made a Pennypacker gain by giving six votes, and Tioga, "dear old Tioga," Stone's home county, which he thought he controlled absolutely, and which he ought to control from the standpoint of energy and investment, presented one of its four in opposition to Stone.

Indicating the probable course of the delegates friendly to Congressman Sibley and Gen. Charles Miller was the vote of the Warren delegates in support of the Quay caucus program.

Col. Quay presented the name of Senator Penrose for temporary chairman of the convention. Senator Penrose presented Mr. Sibley for permanent chairman, and W. L. Matthues, the Republican leader of Delaware county, named Col. Quay for chairman of the Republican state committee. All were unanimously indorsed, and the caucus adjourned.

ers and his sudden taking off. He dwelt on the success of his campaign. He condemned the proceedings in the state committee which had deprived him of four votes which he had expected. In closing he spoke of his opponents as two most estimable gentlemen who are able to combine for the organization of the convention; but when they seek to combine their delegates to make a nomination for governor trouble will begin.

There were speeches by Frank McClain of Lancaster, George C. McNees of Armstrong and J. D. Hicks of Blair. There was a call for Clarence Burleigh, but he had counted the votes as the roll was called and had departed.

Joseph K. McCurdy nominated Gen. Frank Reeder for temporary chairman for tomorrow's convention, and Senator Stober of Lancaster nominated Congressman Sibley for permanent chairman. Both were approved by acclamation. Gen. Reeder was called on for a speech and responded by declaring that he would sink or swim with Elkin, and if elected temporary chairman of the convention he will be fair, not only to Elkin, but to the other candidates.

The Elkin meeting was preceded by an Elkin parade and demonstration made up of local organizations, with a large delegation from Indiana, Pa., and some from other points. There was the usual red fire and noise.

Late tonight the Elkin headquarters issued a statement that Elkin had 189 votes in caucus. Elkin supporters offset this claim by talking hopefully of Elkin as the nominee four years hence.

THESE ON THE FENCE.

Westmoreland Delegates Sent to Convention Without Instructions.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—An unusual feature of the Westmoreland county Republican convention, held here today, is that no resolutions were presented. The leaders decided that no instructions be given the delegats, who left for Harrisburg tonight, and that no indorsement be given to either of the candidates for governor.

Major E. B. McCormick was made president of the convention, and he was afterward elected county chairman. He belongs to the Huff wing of the party, having been their candidate against Senator Woods two year ago. He was unanimously chosen by the committeemen.

Uninstructed, but Favor Elkin.

BEDFORD, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention was organized this afternoon by the reelection of John M. Reynolds as county chairman. The delegates to the state convention were uninstructed, but Mr. Reynolds assured those present that both delegates would vote for Elkin.

A SENSATIONAL WAR BEGINS BETWEEN ALLEGHENY LEADERS

J. O. BROWN SEES BONNY ACROSS YAWNING GULF

Declares War Upon County Recorder for Keeping Six Votes Out of Caucus.

THE DELEGATION SPLIT

Von Bonnhorst's Contingent Goes Over to Pennypacker, Which Excites the Wrath of the Machine Men.

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—The Elkin claim that the Allegheny delegation of 36 would vote as a unit for the attorney general was not based on facts. When the delegates arrived this morning a split was announced, and later, when Chairman J. O. Brown called time in the caucus, he was six men short.

Recorder von Bonnhorst and the six delegates from the Sixth legislative district were having a caucus of their own. The recorder addressed the men, told them the sentiment of the district was for Judge Pennypacker and urged his indorsement. Francis J. Torrance spoke in the same vein, and the judge was then indorsed by the six delegates.

WESLEY R. ANDREWS,
Private Secretary to Senator Penrose and a Pennypacker Supporter.

Recorder Brown's caucus adopted resolutions indorsing Mr. Elkin, 29 of the 30 votes going to the attorney general on the first ballot, which was made unanimous.

Sharp talk between Brown and von Bonnhorst occurred prior to the caucuses, when Brown insisted that von Bonnhorst should turn in his men for Elkin and make the action unanimous. When von Bonnhorst refused and his men were instructed for Pennypacker, Recorder Brown voiced his anger.

"An impassable gulf has been created between von Bonnhorst and myself," said the recorder to The Gazette correspondent. "As Bonny has decided to serve himself instead of the people, it becomes necessary for us to rebuke him. I will use every effort in my power to prevent his re-election as recorder of Allegheny county, and will support, preferably, a Citizens party candidate."

Other remarks antagonistic to the county recorder were made by Chairman Brown.

Mr. von Bonnhorst did not become apoplectic when he heard of the "impassable gulf." He said Chairman Brown is a Republican; that he is one himself, and that all Republicans have the right to decide their own course and weigh the responsibility. He denied that he had coerced the delegates, and declared they had voted in accord with the sentiment of their constituents.

It is not believed that Recorder Brown will take such a serious view of life after tomorrow's roll call, and if he is certain he will not bolt a county ticket he helped to frame.

"JACK THE SLASHER" HAS BEEN A CONVICT

Detective James Steele Yesterday Identified the Vandal as a Penitentiary Man.

Joseph Durbinski, alias "Jack, the Slasher," has been a convict. He was identified yesterday as Frank Keillovich, who served three years in the Western penitentiary for larceny, by Detective James Steele of Allegheny. The identification took place at the hearing given the vandal before Magistrate Bernard McKenna yesterday morning. To make the identification complete the Bertillion cards made out in Keillovich's case were produced and they left no room for doubt.

Durbinski, or Keillovich, was arrested on September 27, 1899, while entering a house in Arch street, Allegheny, by Officer Frank Shaw. Detective James Steele was detailed on the case and soon established a chain of evidence connecting the fellow with the robbery of the house of Patrick McNamara, of No. 1019 Main street, Sharpsburg. At the McNamara home and at the Allegheny house where he was arrested, the fellow stole jewelry. He was tried, found guilty and sentenced to the Western penitentiary for three years. He served his time in full, barring the commutation.

At the hearing before Magistrate McKenna, Durbinski was held for court on charges of burglary and entering a house with the intent to commit a felony, made against him by Thomas Maxwell of No. 3331 Liberty avenue, and by James Schaefer of No. 1003 Bluff street. He was also held on same charge for entering the house of Charles Berninger, at 300 Main street.

Durbinski was asked by Magistrate McKenna where he got the watch that was found on him. He said he had bought it from a jeweler in Smithfield street and had paid $100 for it. This watch was identified as having been taken from Berninger's house. Durbinski said he came to this city from Mackinaw City. In addition to this he said that he had worked nine days in the Pittsburgh Malleable Iron Company's plant, and during that time he had been living with John McClosky in Fortieth street.

Durbinski's stories have been most conflicting. He has been shamming lunacy for the purpose of preventing an identification.

Strother Pleads Guilty.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—William Strother, the negro Turkish bath attendant who was arrested last January for the murder of A. Deane Cooper, the millionaire proprietor, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary.

WILL MEET TODAY TO DIVIDE OFFICES

CONFERENCE OF CITIZENS AND DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEES.

Democrats Want a Congressional Candidate, but Citizens Hope to Convince Them of Their Mistake—Some Names Which May Be on the Ticket.

If the Democratic party and the Citizens parties have agreed upon the division of the county offices that is to be made at the conference of the two committees of 10 today they are very chary about giving it out.

The conference will be confronted with three problems, whether to put up candidates against all the county officers, which include the orphans' and common pleas No. 1 judgeships; how to divide the offices between the Democrats and the Citizens, and who the candidates are to be.

It was definitely announced at the Citizens headquarters yesterday that there was no doubt that the party would put up candidates against William H. Graham, James Francis Burke and Dr. A. J. Barchfield, who are the machine candidates for congress in the Twenty-ninth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second districts. The names of the Citizens are agreed upon, but were not made public. George Shiras III. is the man most prominently mentioned as the candidate against Graham. As the rival to James Francis Burke, Maj. A. P. Burchfield is prominently mentioned. He has said several times that he did not wish the nomination, and now H. K. Porter is said to be the man. James W. Brown of the Twenty-second ward may be named as the Citizens candidate to run against Dr. Barchfield.

Many Democrats demand a revision of the congressional nominees, but the Citizens hope to convince their allies that to put Democrats on the ticket would be entirely irregular, the districts being Republican. By giving the Democrats more than a liberal share of the county offices it is hoped that they will not demand congressional representation in the ticket. Still, it is likely that the Democrats will name congressional candidates of their own.

The Citizens party's central committee of 32 will meet at headquarters in Third avenue on Thursday at 4 p. m. to select congressional nominees.

At the conference today the Democrats will insist that the following officees be given to them: Judge of the orphans court, at least one of the county commissioners and probably the two, the register of wills and the clerk of courts. If they secure these offices they are willing to let the Citizens have the judgeship of the court of common pleas No. 1, the county treasurer, the recorder and the director of the poor, and maybe one of the county commissioners.

Attorney J. J. Miller is the Democratic candidate for the orphans court judgeship, no one being mentioned on the Citizens side, and the possible candidates against Judge Stowe are Thomas M. Marshall, John S. Robb, Joseph Swearingen and C. C. Dickey. One of them will probably be named should the idea of opposing Stowe be carried out.

For county commissioner on the Democratic side James A. Clarke is an avowed candidate, and D. J. McCarthy, Patrick Foley and Dr. W. E. Johnson of Etna are in a receptive mood.

J. D. O'Neill of McKeesport is a candidate for the nomination for county recorder on the Citizens ticket. For register the Democrats talked about are F. X. Barr, Attorney George H. Stengel, Attorney Charles A. O'Brien, Charles B. Payne and Henry Meyer.

Besides the names mentioned other names will be presented this afternoon by both Citizens and Democrats. The conference will seek to agree upon the names of men of high character, and harmony will be the keynote.

The following are the names of the two committees of 10 that will confer today: Citizens party—D. B. Oliver, chairman; Joseph J. Gilchrist, Thomas S. Bigelow, Charles S. Crawford, Dr. Cadwalader Evans, W. C. Reitz, U. M. Beck, R. J. Cunningham, John G. Messner and L. S. Levin. Democratic party—Col. J. M. Guffey, Lew F. Holtzman, George S. Fleming, Henry Meyer, John A. Bleichner, E. J. Frauenheim, William J. Brennan, Charles B. Payne, T. B. Alcorn and A. J. Barr.

ANOTHER THEATER.

This Time It Is Gulick and McNulty, Who Are to Build at Penn Avenue and Seventh Street.

The latest rumor about a new theater for Pittsburgh has it that R. M. Gulick and P. J. McNulty of the Bijou theater will, within 24 hours, close a deal for the erection of a playhouse at Seventh street and Penn avenue, the estimated cost of which is put at $1,000,000.

The property to be purchased is that of the Second Presbyterian church, which is said to be under option through F. F. Nicola. This property extends from the corner of Seventh street and Penn avenue to Scott alley, which parallels Seventh street. In the rear is another alley, which makes the property a theater site in conformity with the Pennsylvania state law. The story goes that it is proposed to erect on this property the finest theater in Pittsburgh, in which only first-class attractions will be played.

STRONG PLATFORM ON GREAT ISSUES

ROOSEVELT PRAISED AND HIS POLICY INDORSED.

Gratitude to the Army of the Philippines and to Civil War Veterans Expressed. Protection Adhered to—Plank on Trusts.

By ROBERT SIMPSON,
Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 10.—The platform to be adopted tomorrow will affirm the national platform of 1900; will deal with prosperity, for which their due share of credit is given United States senators and congressmen of Pennsylvania as well as for the maintenance of our national prestige. Adherence to this policy is demanded.

The memory of late President McKinley is made the subject of praise, and his death, which occurred since the meeting of the last state convention, is spoken of as a national calamity.

President Roosevelt is praised and the Philippine policy indorsed. The army in the Philippines is defended and profound gratitude to it is expressed.

The realization of Cuban independence is referred to in fitting terms. Protection is adhered to in strong terms, and our debt of gratitude to the soldiers and sailors of the civil war is acknowledged.

There is a strong trust plank and a declaration for an honest ballot and wise immigration laws.

MYSTIC SHRINERS IN FRISCO OASIS

Reports for Past Year Show the Most Successful in History of the Order.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The imperial council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine began its twenty-eighth annual session this morning in Golden Gate hall. The meeting was preceded by a parade, which, though intended merely as an escort for the imperial officer, was quite an imposing display. It included about 1,500 nobles, some of them mounted, and many in picturesque oriental attire.

Grand Marshal H. D. Hurlbut, with his staff and aids, rode in the lead, immediately followed by a mounted bugle corps. Then came a body of men, all in white except their red fezes, forming a strong contrast with the black horses they rode. Another body of aids preceded a band which played weird eastern music, to which marched the Arab patrol.

The Denver band and rum corps preceded a carriage drawn by four black horses, in which rode Imperial Potentate Shaffer and Past Imperial Deputy Potentate Field. A long line of carriages followed. The delegates to the imperial council and their guests of honor brought up the rear of the procession.

After addresses of welcome the council went into secret session. The committee on credentials made its report and standing committees were appointed. Imperial Potentate Shaffer then delivered his annual message to the imperial council on the condition of the order and its progress during the year. The record of the year is the proudest in the history of the order, showing a gain of 8,000 nobles in the jurisdiction, with 80 temples in the United States, two in Canada and one in Hawaii. The increase in the finances is the largest known in the order. While no new temples have been instituted during the past year, applications are on hand for new temples from Galveston, Texas, Roanoke, Va., and Seattle, Wash.

Reports from the treasurer, recorder and the standing committees were all most gratifying.

Saratoga, it is understood, will be the next meeting place. In accordance with a time-honored custom, Deputy Imperial Potentate Cush Aiken of Omaha will be chosen imperial potentate without opposition. There was a magnificent parade tonight.

NO SUBSTITUTE POSSIBLE FOR PENNYPACKER

Quay and Other Friends Repudiate Suggestion to Drop the Judge.

HE WILL BE NOMINATED

J. Hampton Moore Equally Positive on That Point—Both United States Senators Pleased With the Day's Developments.

By CHESTER D. POTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—"Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker will be nominated in the morning on the first ballot. While it has been known for some time by Col. Quay and his friends that the judge was certain to win, doubt was expressed by many not fully informed as to his actual strength. The caucus roll-call tonight developed enough votes to nominate Pennypacker with a margin of 26." So said J. Hampton Moore, leader of the Philadelphia campaign for Judge Pennypacker, tonight. Mr. Moore continued:

FRANK REEDER,
Chairman of the State Committee and Commissioner of Banking.

"Opposition stories that another would be substituted for Pennypacker are absolutely false and are circulated for the purpose of making trouble. Judge Pennypacker is the strongest man who could be nominated, and he will head the ticket."

Senator Penrose said: "The day's results are entirely satisfactory. As an humble toiler in the vineyard, I can add nothing to this."

No Substitution, Says Quay.

Senator Quay was the picture of contentment when seen by The Gazette correspondent after midnight. Senator Penrose, Commissioner Durham, W. B. Gill, Charles Seiger, James P. McNichol and other friends were with him. The senator was going over the details of yesterday and arranging the program of today. He positively repudiated the suggestion that Judge Pennypacker would be dropped and another substituted for first place. It was his opinion that if Pennypacker could not win no one else could, and he believed the judge to be the strongest man who had been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial nomiation.

"No man can beat a Republican ticket headed by Judge Pennypacker," said James P. McNichols.

Francis J. Torrance, chairman of the Republican committee of the city of Allegheny, said: "I have gone over the figures with Senators Quay and Penrose and am absolutely sure of the nomination of Judge Pennypacker on the first ballot. His nomination will be an inspiration to Republicans throughout the commonwealth. It will tend to unify the Republican factions and strengthen the ticket and will save us the menace of losing the state to a Democratic governor. I rejoice with other Republicans on the outlook, which presages a continuance of Republican unity and prosperity under the happiest auspices."

An Ideal Candidate.

Ernest L. Tustin, late chairman of the Union party, Philadelphia, said: "The Independent Republicans have long contended for the nomination of a man unidentified with any faction, and whose political life is free from participation, actively or otherwise, in the methods and legislation against which they have so honestly and vigorously contended.

"Judge Pennypacker, in these respects, is an ideal candidate, strong, honest, fearless and personally independent. Although his appointment undoubtedly would be from the so-called stalwart or regular ranks, yet no unworthy man, no matter what his political influence, would ever knowingly receive an office under his administration. I believe the nomination of Judge Pennypacker would do more to unite all Republicans, regular and independent, into one great, united party for the governorship, than that of any other man. Some of the members of the late Union party are strongly opposing the candidacy of Judge Pennypacker while secretly hoping for the nomination of some other man whose record they might assail after the nomination with the hope of defeating his election; yet the vast majority of Republicans who have been independent in state and municipal politics look on the nomination of Judge Pennypacker as the fruition of their long cherished ideals."

THOUSANDS TO ENLARGE WEST PENN HOSPITAL

An Old Unused Ward Is to Be Reconstructed and a Pathological Laboratory Will Be Built.

The executive committee of the West Penn hospital has authorized the reconstruction of Warde E, known as the "Old Soldiers' Ward," which has been in disuse for the past 10 years owing to the lack of repair funds.

The committee has appropriated several thousand dollars for the work, which will be started in a few days. The exactions of the past two years have made it necessary that all the resources of the hospital be used, and the executive committee has had in contemplation the reconstruction of the unused ward for some months.

The committee has also ordered that the sun porches on the west wing of the hospital be rebuilt, and work will be started on this contract at once. All the new work will be completed by September 1.

Beside ordering the reconstruction of the unused ward and building of new sun porches the executive committee has adopted plans for a new pathology building, 30x18 feet, to be erected at the west side of the hospital buildings.

The new structure will be built of brick, two stories high, and will be used by the staff and resident physicians of the institution. This laboratory has long been needed by the hospital and its completion will add greatly to the facilities of the institution.

For the past six months an average of 250 patients per day have been treated at the West Penn hospital. The place has been cramped for room and many patients have been refused admission owing to the limited facilities for handling them.

The new additional ward will accommodate 35 more patients and this will increase the capacity of the institution to over 300 patients. The new ward will be equipped and put into use immediately after its completion.

FAST MAIL WEST.

Pittsburgh Benefits by a New Arrangement of Service Between New York and St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—The fastest daily mail sevice ever attempted between New York and eastern cities and St. Louis and western points is provided for in arrangements made by the postoffice department, effective next Sunday. The contract calls for a daily schedule of 23½ hours between New York and St. Louis over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Beginning Sunday a fast mail train will leave New York at 2:45 a. m. daily and arrive at St. Louis at 2:15 o'clock Monday morning. This shortens the present schedule by about eight hours and means a gain of a day for eastern mail bound to far western points and the southwest. The new fast mail will reach Pittsburgh at 12:45 p. m.; Columbus, 4:20 p. m.; Richmond, Ind., 6:55 p. m., and Indianapolis, 8:40 p. m.

The early arrival at St. Louis permits connection with all the fast early morning trains out of there, including the heavy mails dispatched at 3 o'clock.

ELKIN'S FRIENDS CONCEDING HIS DEFEAT TODAY

Unbiased, Non-Partison Opinion Is That Pennypacker Will Win.

STONE'S CAUCUS PADDED

Its Officers Issue a Statement Still Claiming the Attorney General Will Be Nominated Governor of Pennsylvania.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., June 10.—Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker of Philadelphia probably will be the nominee for governor at tomorrow's Republican state convention. Ex-State Senator William M. Brown of New Castle will be nominated for lieutenant governor. Maj. Isaac B. Brown of Erie will be the candidate for secretary of internal affairs.

Senator Quay expects to succeed Gen. Frank Reeder of Easton as chairman of the Republican state committee and conduct the campaign this fall.

Attorney General John P. Elkin of Indiana is still battling for the nomination for governor, but his most sanguine adherents concede Pennypacker's nomination. Elkin said tonight he would stay in the fight to the finish and that his name surely would be presented in the convention.

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Watres of Scranton practically took himself out of the contest when his delegates participated in tonight's caucus held by the Pennypacker managers. Watres' name also will go before the convention, and the indications are he will poll about 25 of the 358 votes in the gathering.

To Whom Victory Belongs.

Should Judge Pennypacker be the nominee it will be a great victory for Senators Quay and Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham. They have led his forces all through the fight and have always predicted he would be nominated.

The Elkinites claim 180 delegates participated in their caucus. In their list they count the four Northumberland delegates. If their figures are correct, then Elkin's nomination is assured. There is doubt, however, as to the reliability of their count, as it is alleged several persons answered the roll call to the names of delegates not present.

The convention will meet at 10 a. m. in the Grand opera house. Under a resolution adopted at today's meeting of the state committee, after each delegate has been furnished a ticket of admission, the remainder will be divided proportionately among members of the state committee. Secretaries W. R. Andrews and Thomas H. Garvin, adherents of Senator Quay, will have charge of the distribution of these tickets.

Latest Elkinite Bluff.

After the Elkin caucus the following signed statement was issued by his campaign managers:

"At the caucus of delegates to the state convention favorable to the nomination of John P. Elkin, 180 regularly elected delegates responded to their names and went on record for Mr. Elkin's nomination. This is nine more than the number required to nominate. In addition to these 180 delegates there were a number of delegates who had publicly committed themselves to Mr. Elkin and who have been conceded to him by his opponents, who were unavoidably absent from the caucus, but who will be in the state convention tomorrow and vote for his nomination. Among these delegates are the four delegates from Northumberland county instructed to vote for him as the result of an overwhelmingly majority in favor of Mr. Elkin in a popular vote at the Republican primaries.

Mr. Elkin has won this fight and he will be nominated.

The announced claim from the Quay caucus of 206 votes, is ridiculous on the face of it. There could not possibly, of course, have been that many regularly elected or properly substituted delegates present. This alleged showing, it will be noticed, is 19 votes short of the claim made of 225 votes which Senator Quay has persistently made for Judge Pennypacker. Tonight's Quay claim of 206 votes also includes the Watres following. Col. Watres' friends have claimed at least 28 votes, which, deducted from the alleged 206, would leave Judge Pennypacker short of the number necessary to nominate him.

The old trick of padded rolls and packed caucuses will not work this time. Mr. Elkin will be the next Republican nominee for governor.

SNAP JUDGMENT CHARGED.

H. L. Reinecke's Election to the Central Board Is Questioned.

H. L. Reinecke has been elected a member of the Central Board of Education from the Humboldt sub-school district, Twenty-sixth ward. It is claimed by some of the members of the board that the meeting Saturday evening, when Mr. Reinecke was chosen, was not properly called, and some dissatisfaction exists.

The call for the meeting was sent out by Dr. Reinecke at the petition of John Keil, J. A. A. Haupt and John Beck, also members. The meeting was called for 7:15 p. m. instead of 8 o'clock, said to be the customary time, and when W. L. Hirsch and Carl Cappel, the chairman, arrived, Mr. Reinecke had been chosen a member of the Central Board of Education, and the meeting had adjourned. Mr. Hirsch and Mr. Cappel say they did not receive notices of the meeting until about the time it was called for.

PETER BRICKNER IS CHASED BY FATE

TRAIN FIRST CRIPPLES SON AND THEN FIRE DESTROYS HOME.

One Woe Upon Another's Heels Did Tread So Fast They Followed—In the Burning of the Home Mrs. Brickner Had a Narrow Escape.

Misfortune from two wholly unexpected sources yesterday visited the family of Peter Brickner of No. 2718 Cobden street, South Side. The first occurrence was when the father was called to the South Side hospital to see his 9-year-old son Edward, who had been received suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg.

While the father was trying to comfort and soothe his son, he was notified by his brother that the family's little home on the hillside had been entirely ruined by fire, and that his wife had narrowly escaped death.

It was about 1 o'clock when Edward, in attempting to cross the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad tracks at the head of South Twenty-seventh street, was struck by an engine and thrown to the side of the track. Amputation will probably be necessary.

The fire occurred about 10:30 o'clock last night. The blaze started in the small store owned by Mrs. Victoria Weiss, at No. 2712 Cobden street, and within a short time had traveled over several buildings to the Brickner home.

Mrs. Brickner was in an upper story and after some of the household goods had been carried out of the building it was discovered that she was missing. Thomas Brickner then rushed into the burning building and in the second story found his sister-in-law lying unconscious on the floor. He quickly secured a blanket and after wrapping the woman in it, made his way with difficulty down the burning stairs. His appearance with the body of his sister-in-law brought cheers from the crowd.

Cobden street is located on the hillside and the burning houses attracted people in large numbers. From No. 2712, where the fire started, the blaze communicated to the house adjoining, occupied by John Hess. While the blaze was working its way to the Hess house it also communicated to the building on the other side, No. 2710, occupied by Joseph Lentz.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp while Mrs. Weiss was in the yard in the rear of her house. Her damage is estimated at about $600, with an insurance of $300. A Mrs. McKay who occupied a room in the Weiss house lost about $50 worth of furniture. The loss on the Hess house will amount to about $500 and the damage to the Lentz house and goods will not be above $50.

CITY IS AT FAULT.

No Precautions Taken Against Accidents at St. Luke's Sanatarium in Chicago.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—Today's investigation of the causes for the catastrophe at the sanatorium of the St. Luke's society reveals negligence on the part of officials of the sanatorium and the city. Had the city officials performed their duty the frightful loss of life would have been prevented.

The health department, the office of the building commissioner and the boiler inspector are involved in the charges of criminal carelessness. The officers of the St. Luke society will be compelled to show by what right they operated a sanatorium without a license, and explain the locking of delirium tremens patients in rooms on the top floor and shackling them. At the instance of the coroner's office the president of the St. Luke society and several employes who were arrested last night will be detained to await the action of the coroner's jury.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention that you read this generous offer in the Pittsburgh "Daily Gazette." Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

GERMANY SENDS TWO WARSHIPS TO VENEZUELA

Cruisers Sail Under Hurried Orders Issued from Berlin.

MAY BLOCKADE HARBORS

The Object Is Supposed to Be for the Enforcement of Payment of Claims—The United States May Not Interfere.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, June 10.—The German cruiser Falke sailed for La Guaira, Venezuela, yesterday and the German cruiser Gazelle sailed for the same port today, under hurried orders from Berlin.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—In the absence of official advices on the subject, the officials here are in the dark as to the reasons for the hurried departure of German warships for Venezuela.

Germany has a big claim against Venezuela—that of the Berlin Company of Discount for the non-performance of engagements which the Venezuelan government has undertaken in connection with the great Venezuelan railway built by the government. One inference is that Germany has sent her vessels to La Guaira to enforce the payment of the claim, as Venezuela has not attempted to meet the obligation.

The diplomatic correspondence of the state department shows that Germany has considered the question of coercion in connection with the payment of the claim. A communication from the German embassy of December 20 last has this to say on the subject:

"In case the German government should be obliged to use coercion against Venezuela in connection with the pending claims it will have to be considered what kind of measures should be adopted. The most important measure of coercion—the blockade of Venezuelan harbors—would have to be carried through without a declaration of war preceding it.

"A blockade, therefore, would be a peace blockade. Such a blockade would touch likewise the ships of neutral powers, inasmuch as such ships, although a confiscation of them would not have to be considered, would have to be turned away and prohibited until the blockade should be raised. In the same manner European states have proceeded on such occasions, especially England and France."

It is not believed that the United States government would raise any objection should Germany undertake the blockade of Venezuelan ports to collect the claim of the Berlin company. The president in his last message to congress made the following observation:

"We do not guarantee any state against punishment if it misconducts itself, provided that punishment does not take the form of acquisition of territory by any non-American power."

MR. JAMES LAUGHLIN ELECTED A TRUSTEE

Pittsburgher Honored at His Alma Mater—Commencement Exercises at Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 10.—Alumni day exercises of Princeton university held today, the chief feature of which was the luncheon at the Casino. About 1,500 of the alumni attended.

The annual meetings of the Whig and Cliosophic Literary society were held and the polls for the election of an alumni trustee were opened. James Laughlin of Pittsburgh was elected for a term of five years.

The annual meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa society was also held and a tablet given by the classes of '82 and '93 in memory of George Yardly Taylor, '82, and Cortland Van Rensselaer Hodge, '93, two of Princeton's missionaries who were massacred by the Boxers at Pao-Ting-Fu, China, in June, 1900, was unveiled in Marquand chapel.

At the alumni dinner held in University hall, President Patton received a great ovation. President-elect Wilson said he recognized the gravity of his new responsibility and hoped to receive as loyal support by the alumni as had his illustrious predecessor.

Annual Luncheon and Class Day Exercises Held at Vassar—Reception in Evening.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 10.—The annual luncheon of the alumnae association of Vassar college today was presided over by Mrs. MacCoy of Bryn Mawr, president of the association. The class day exercises were held out of doors. In the order of the procession the junior class led, headed by the marshal, Ethel Dean of San Francisco. The sophomore class, Marshal Mary Thaw Thompson of Allegheny, Pa., came next. The daisy chain, carried by members of the sophomore class, followed.

The exercises consisted of the address of welcome by President Theodosia Hadley of Indianapolis and the class history by Caroline Sperry, North Adams, Mass., and Nina Eldred, Coronado Beach.

The class then proceeded to the tree, where the spade was handed from the senior class to the junior class. The charge was delivered by Lucy Burns of Brooklyn, and the junior response by Harriet Anderson of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Class day was ended with the glee club concert and the president's reception in the evening.

STOLEN JEWELS RETURNED.

Thieves Even Returned Money Not Known to Be Lost.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(Special.)—In a manner as mysterious as was their disappearance, the Kingdom jewels have been recovered. It is believed by the police that the thieves finding themselves too closely pursued returned the stolen valuables, hoping that prosecution would cease. A package containing every piece of jewelry that was stolen from Mrs. Kingdom, and three pieces of money that had not been mentioned, were handed in at the home of Detective Sergeant Valley this afternoon.

Nicholas Moran and John Waters, two well-known hotel thieves, who had been arrested in connection with the crime, were released this morning, the detectives concluding that they could not fasten the theft upon them.

Tea and Medals for Servants.

LONDON, June 10.—The bishop of London, the Rt. Rev. Arthur F. Ingram, D. D., has announced that Queen Alexandra will provide a "tea" for 10,000 female domestic servants, in celebration of the coronation. Each servant will be presented with a medal.

Divided the Stone Ransom.

SALONICA, ROUMELIA, June 10.—A secret congress of delegates met in Sofia at the end of March and arranged for the disposition of the money received as ransom for Miss Ellen M. Stone. The delegates decided to send bands into Macedonia on a secret mission.

PROTESTS STILL COME TO BUREAU OF HEALTH

Citizens Demand That the Streets Be Cleaned—Smallpox and Typhoid Cases.

Citizens are still complaining about the filthy streets. Yesterday nine protests were lodged with Superintendent Pitcairn of the bureau of health. Regardless of the many assurances given to the citizens, who complained on Monday about the streets in the Eleventh, Thirteenth and Seventh wards, nothing was done yesterday.

Director McCandless of the department of public works has not been disposed to regard the complaints that are submitted to him daily by the bureau of health officials. One man told a Gazette reporter yesterday that he had lodged three complaints with the bureau of health about the condition of Juniita and Francis streets. He said there had been dead animals on these streets on more than one occasion for over 48 hours. On Monday he was compelled to bury a dog that had laid in the street from Saturday night.

Owing to the unclean condition of some of the streets and alleys in the Eleventh, Thirteenth and Fourteenth wards over 30 cases of typhoid fever were reported to the health officers yesterday. A great many of these cases were in the Fourteenth ward.

In spite of the efforts of the health officers to stamp out the disease smallpox is increasing. There were five cases sent to the Municipal hospital yesterday. They were Lena and Mary Dagallo, 8 and 3 years old, of No. 26 Our alley; Grace Charles, 6 years old, of Stobo street, Twelfth ward; Florence Saja, 29 years old, of No. 2931 Penn avenue, and Moses Clark, colored, of Stobo street.

A citizen who signs himself "A Resident of the Smoky City" writes to The Gazette as follows:

Dear Sir: While our bureau of health is raving over the necessity of vaccination for preventing the spread of smallpox allow me, a man ignorant in things medical, to suggest the removal of the cause of at least a part of this dreaded disease.

In every vacant lot of this city there is located a germ-incubator of more or less capacity in the shape of garbage heaps. Every hill and every hollow exhale vile odors from their filthy burdens and seem to enter a silent protest at their refusal to send forth grass or shrubs.

Our air as it is is not famous for its purity, and requires but little to rob it of its life-giving qualities. Why, then, should these corrupting heaps be allowed to further pollute the air when we have a bureau of health whose undoubted duty is to prevent such pollution?

But garbage is not the only cause of complaint. Dead animals, dogs, cats and goats are allowed to lie in the streets and putrefy. Perhaps they were not reported, but surely some member of our energetic bureau of health must have passed that way in the right performance of his duty. That they do perform their duty rightly we know from the late vaccination crusade.

Again, the matter of inefficient sewerage should, in my opinion, be looked after by the bureau of health. How many streets are there in the city that are deficient in sewerage? Anyone who has traversed the hill district after a heavy rain can answer the question.

Many of the streets in this section have less drop sewers than level streets and naturally after a heavy rain, the water rushes past these drop sewers to the street below and there deposits the objectionable burdens it picks up in its mad rush.

Does the duty of this bureau consist solely in drawing salaries and posting "Place-no-garbage-or-rubbish-here-under- penalty-of-the-law!" signs? Also, incidentally, vaccinating people?

Why should they not go over the city at least once a week, or better still, have the various police officers be ever on the lookout for offenders against the laws of health? Make arrests, fine offenders. "An ounce of prevention," etc.

ANNUAL MEETING OPENS HERE TODAY

Distillers and Wholesale Whisky Dealers Will Be in Session.

Pittsburgh will be invaded for two days by the distillers of and wholesale dealers in whisky, commencing this morning, when William E. Broderick of Baltimore, president of the National Wholesale Dealers' association, will call the seventh annual convention together.

The first session of the convention will be at 9:30 o'clock. This session will last until about noon. At 2 o'clock another session will be called, which will last until 4:30. Then the members will go to the wharf, embark on the Mayflower, and go up the river. A stop will be made at Homestead, so that those who wish can inspect the great steel works.

There will be another business session at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Thursday afternoon will be devoted to seeing Pittsburgh. At night there will be a grand banquet.

All of the sessions and the banquet will be at the Hotel Henry. Nearly all of the members will stop there, too. Last night there were fully 100 delegates at the Henry.

Yesterday afternoon there were meetings of several committees. The most important of them was the executive committee. This committee consists of J. W. Frieburg, M. W. Murphy, Louis Grieshy, August Graff and A. J. Sunstein, the latter of Pittsburgh.

The most important business that will come before the convention will be a consideration of the bill now before congress which provides for a reduction of the tax on distilled spirits, which is now $1.10 a gallon. This bill had the support of Lyman J. Gage when he was secretary of the treasury, and of William L. Wilson, recently deceased, when he was commissioner of internal revenue. Mr. Gage said that it would in a large degree prevent illicit production.

The officers of the association are: W. E. Broderick, Baltimore, president; W. N. Hobart, Cincinnati, and A. M. Hellman, St. Louis, vice-presidents; David Stauber, Baltimore, secretary, and Ephriam Brice, Philadelphia, treasurer.

THE FEAST OF WEEKS.

Special Jewish Services Being Held in the Synagogues.

The Orthodox Jews of Pittsburgh yesterday celebrated the "Shevaugh," or Feast of Weeks, with special services in the synagogues. Last evening at the synagogues in Washington and Townsend streets a special blessing service was held by Rabbi M. S. Sivitz. The celebration began at 3 o'clock this morning.

The celebration will close tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock. During last night's and this morning's service attendants, according to the Jewish custom, remained standing while different members of the synagogue took turns reading the commandments and the story of Ruth. The services today will celebrate the anniversary of the death of King David. The service will continue from 7:30 this evening till 2 a. m. tomorrow, and during this time the Bible will be read aloud, while all in the synagogues will follow the reading from their Bibles.

GROWTH SHOWN BY ASSOCIATION OF CREDIT MEN

Annual Meeting Now Being Held at Louisville With Good Attendance.

PRESIDENT YOUNG'S TALK

Outlines the Good Work That Has Been Done and That Yet to Be Accomplished—Declines to Stand for Re-Election.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Louisville, Ky., June 10.—The seventh annual convention of the National Credit Men's association, representing a membership of 4,000 from all parts of the country, met here at 10 o'clock this morning. When President Elbert A. Young called the meeting to order there were about 300 delegates present, besides wives and daughters of the members.

President Young, in his annual address, said the association and its local branches could be credited with improvements in the mercantile agency service, assisting its members in advancing office methods, reducing credit questions to a system, establishing a fund for the prosecution of fraudulent failures, the passage of laws in many states prohibiting merchandise sales in bulk without notice to creditors, the formation of friendships and elevating the commercial standard of its members.

"A new era," he said, "is at hand, the possibilities of which no one can predict. The extension of agricultural, commercial, industrial and financial activity throughout the world has been unparalleled. We must no longer be satisfied with the limits of our local credits, but should adapt ourselves to larger fields.

"Notwithstanding the advantages in our favor we have no copyright on posterity, no certainty that our wonderful progress in international commerce will continue. Only by eternal vigilance can we maintain the advantages we have gained.

Need for More Patriotism.

"To adjust all the momentous pending questions will require the greatest wisdom on the part of our lawmakers. Concessions must be made by conflicting interests for the general good. We need less politics and more patriotism; less sectional feeling and more Americanism. There should be no party dividing lines on questions involving the prosperity of our people, or the enlargement of our commerce. We must not diminish our foreign trade, but, on the contrary, should strain every nerve to adopt a system which will steady and extend it. Commerce is the exchange of merchandise, and to continue must be mutual. Depression in foreign markets is not to our advantage. The more industries of other nations flourish, the greater their prosperity and the larger our purchases from them, the more they will be able to buy in return."

At the conclusion of President Young's speech, former Gov. Crittenden of Missouri presented to him, on behalf of the Louisiana association, a gavel made of white oak, the native growth of Kentucky.

The annual report of the treasurer, George G. Ford of Syracuse, N. Y., showed that from June 1, 1901, to May 31, 1902, the receipts were $13,000. The disbursements for that time were $12,973. The total cash balance over all expenses on June 1, was $88. The trust fund on June 10, 1902, was $2,756.

Association Is Growing.

The annual report of Secretary Pendergast showed that the membership of the association on June 1 was 4,000, an increase of 432 over last year.

Three new local associations have been added during the year at Los Angeles, Cal., Evansville, Ind., and Lincoln, Neb. The organization is preparing to extend its work to Texas.

The report recommends the return to the old plan of standing committees as the present committees have too many members and are cumbersome.

The total receipts for the past year were $12,955, exceeding those of the past year by $783. The expenditures were $12,969.

Various committees were announced, after which a paper on "The Strength of the Credit Men is Knowledge," written by W. A. Bogardus of New York, was read. New York, Denver and San Francisco are desirous of obtaining the convention in 1903. President Young has announced that he will not stand for re-election.

MORE FAST TRAINS.

Time Between New York and Cleveland and Cincinnati to Be Cut.

The fast running time between New York and Chicago announced last week has been followed by the announcement that the Pennsylvania company will reduce the time between New York and Cleveland and between New York and Cincinnati.

The new time between New York and Cleveland is to be 14 hours instead of 15 hours and 15 minutes. The train now leaving Cleveland at 4 p. m., central time, will leave at 5 o'clock, arriving in Pittsburgh at 8:40, central time, connecting with No. 16, the 10-hour train from Pittsburgh to New York. This train was run for a time a year ago, but was abandoned.

The time between New York and Cincinnati will be 17 hours and 10 minutes, a cut of 4 hours and 30 minutes. The train that has been leaving Cincinnati at 1:50 p. m., central time, will after next Sunday leave at 2:45 o'clock. It is due to reach Pittsburgh at 10:15, and a car from it will be attached to the train leaving for New York at 11:20.

Another change in the schedule will be the abandonment of the train that has been leaving Columbus at 7:40 in the morning, arriving at 2 p. m. In place of it will be a train leaving at 9:10 a. m., arriving in Pittsburgh at 3:20. Another change will be in the Cleveland trains. The train now leaving at 1:40 p. m. will leave at 3, reaching Pittsburgh at 7:40. Passengers can take the train leaving at 9, and be in Philadelphia at 7:30 a. m.

VOTED $1,000 FOR AN ENTERTAINMENT FUND

Central Board Will Spend This Sum on the State Teachers' Association.

J. H. McElroy, a member of the central board of education, offered two objections to the expenditure of public money at the meeting of the board last night. He objected to the appropriation of $1,000 for the entertainment of the State Teachers' association, to meet in Pittsburgh next month. The appropriation was recommended by the board's finance committee at the suggestion of Supt. Samuel Andrews. Mr. Andrews appeared before the board to urge the appropriation, saying that it was to be used to show the teachers Pittsburgh's manufactories, parks, libraries and conservatory, and to defray the expense of a reception.

Mr. McElroy first wanted to know who had invited the teachers to come, and then asked why the teachers expected the taxpayers of the city to pay for the entertainment of the guests. The appropriation was voted.

Mr. McElroy again objected, when the board was asked to pay bills, amounting to $400 80 that the baseball club of the High school had contracted. Although Mr. McElroy declared that "this baseball business is running wild and denied the board's authority thus to spend the taxpayers' money the bill was ordered paid. Other bills, amounting to $142, were approved on recommendation of the finance committee. The committee reported an expenditure during May of $80,956 41 and a balance of $540,011 51.

The committee on teachers and salaries reported favorably on the application of the Brushton and Homewood schools for one additional teacher. It also recommended that the allotment of teachers for the year beginning September, 1902, be the same as for June. This allotment is subject to reduction if the attendance of pupils during September and October is not sufficient for the number of teachers assigned. In accordance with the recommendation of the committee on high schools the board re-elected the old corps of teachers and added R. H. Ridge-ly as master and Miss Jean M. Craig as teacher in the normal department, to succeed Miss Tappan, resigned.

G. L. Swink was elected music instructor to succeed the late Prof. R. M. McCargar, at a salary of $1,500. Edward Kellar was an unsuccessful applicant for the vacancy. E. E. Rinehart was re-elected music instructor.

A peculiar communication from George H. Wilson, manager of the Pittsburgh orchestra, aroused the curiosity of the board. Wilson wrote that he had some radical changes in the public school music system to propose, and so the secretary was instructed to invite Wilson to appear before the music committee.

Resolutions on the death of William Pollock of the O'Hara sub-district, Twelfth ward, were adopted. Mr. Pollock was the oldest member of the central board, having served 25 years.

WRECK ON THE WEST PENN ROAD NEAR ETNA

Passenger Train from Freeport Collided With Runaway Freight Cars Last Night.

Train No. 49 on the West Penn road, due at the Alleghany station from Freeport at 10:59 o'clock last night, narrowly escaped total destruction near the Isabella furnaces at Etna last night. As it was, only the engine was wrecked. It was thrown from the tracks and turned over and reduced to such a condition that it appeared fit for little else but the scrap pile in the future. Strange to relate, no one was killed and only two people even injured, A. G. Kennedy of Freeport, the engineer, and one passenger. Engineer Kennedy in jumping had one leg severely injured and was otherwise bruised. The passenger, whose name was not ascertained, was cut by flying glass.

The accident was caused by some freight cars that had been left on one of the Isabella furnace sidings getting partially back on the main track in some unknown manner. The danger was not seen by Engineer Kennedy until it was too late to avoid a collision. All he could do was to jam down the brakes and shout to his fireman to jump. The fireman escaped without serious injury.

The crash was a fearful one. The locomotive seemed to rear up in the air and then turn and fall on its side. The freight cars that caused the accident were badly smashed and piled on top of each other. The suddenness with which the brakes were put on and the force of the collision threw most of the passengers out of their seats, and it is remarkable that more were not hurt.

It is not yet explained or understood how the cars dropped back from the siding on to the main track.

THE WATCH IN HOT WEATHER.

Men Again Carrying It in the Upper Outside Pocket of the Coat.

From the New York Sun.

Some men are as prone to take up a fashion as women. A few years ago it became a fashion to wear the watch in the upper outside pocket of the coat, fastening the bar of the chain in the buttonhole of the lapel, so that the chain ornamented that part of the garment.

Then the fashion disappeared. It has returned, and during the first warm days of last week when waistcoats were discarded the tendency to transfer the watch to the upper outside pocket of the coat was very marked.

An authority on such matters says the fashion originated in New York when negligee wear was more of a novelty among men than it is now. The same authority adds that the watch in the coat pocket is a better mode than wearing it in the pocket of the negligee shirt.

ACREAGE IS REDUCED; CONDITION IMPROVED

Government Report of Spring Wheat and Oats—Highest Average in Many Years.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Preliminary reports of the spring wheat acreage indicate a reduction of about 2,511,000 acres, or 12.8 per cent. Of the 19 states reporting spring wheat, 13 report a reduced acreage, Washington being the only state having 100,000 acres or upward in this product that reports an increase. There is a reduction of 745,000 acres in Minnesota and of 905,000 acres in north Dakota, due largely to unfavorable weather conditions during sowing time in the Red River valley; a reduction of 400,000 acres in South Dakota, resulting in the main from an increasing tendency toward a greater diversification of crops, and a reduction of 340,000 acres in Nebraska, consequent upon that gradual yielding of spring wheat to winter wheat, which is going on in almost every section of the state.

The average condition of spring wheat on June 1 was 95.4, as compared with 92 at the corresponding date last year, 87.3 on June 1, 1900, and a 10-year average of 92.6. The present reported average condition has been exceeded only three times in the last 15 years. Of the states having 1,000,0000 acres or upward in spring wheat, South Dakota reports a condition of 100, North Dakota 96, and Minnesota and Iowa 95. In Washington and Oregon, which together have over 1,100,000 acres in spring wheat, the condition averages are 97 and 98 respectively.

The total reported acreage in oats is about four-tenths of one per cent in excess of the acreage harvested last year. The changes in acreage are very evenly distributed and are generally inconsiderable, 25 states and territories reporting some enlargement of their acreage and 24 some reduction. Of the nine states having 1,000,000 acres or upward in oats, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota report an increased acreage, no case exceeding 4 per cent, and Pennsylvania, Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska a decrease.

The average condition of oats is 90.6, against 85.3 on June 1, 1901; 91.7 at the corresponding date in 1900, and a 10-year average of 90.

Imported Cottons and Linens.

Pretty Near Half What You Paid Early in the Season.

There is just enough egotism about us to say we have one of the finest collections of Imported Cottons and Linens in the country. We say country—Pittsburg is only a small part of it, and there are no stocks around the city that reach half way to ours.

And the way we sell these Imported Cotton Materials is a fine study in underprices.

Three thousand yards of German Linens, imported to sell for 40c a yard—are offered today for 25c a yard.

Twenty-five hundred yards of natural color Irish Linens—full yard wide—30c a yard the original price—our special price 18c a yard.

And the department is full of like values.

Black Dress Goods.

Mohairs and Etamines the Principal Subjects.

MOHAIRS—This is the time of the year when Mohairs step to the front. Nothing quite so nice for traveling suits or for bathing dress. Showing fine lines of this popular material from 50c up to $1.50 a yard.

Today several hundred yards of a 65c grade for 45c a yard.

ARE READY TO DIVIDE HIGH LABOR COST

Window Glass Company Plans to Upset the Trade.

WILL ELIMINATE THE SKILLED MEN

Factory Equipped With Blowing Machines to Start Today.

$10,000,000 OFFER FOR THE PATENTS

Plan to Cut Out Importation and Competition—Officers Will Get Handsome Royalty and the Company Will Share Half of Big Saving.

The American Window Glass Company today or tomorrow will put a plant in operation as a test, which, if successful, will upset the industry throughout the world. The old De Pauw plant at Alexandria, Ind., is equipped with 12 blowing and gathering machines. These, in their operation, will eliminate half of the tremendous labor cost which is by far the heaviest factor in the window glass industry.

President James A. Chambers, First Vice President M. K. McMullin, General Manager George E. Moore and T. Hart Given, a director, all of the American Window Glass Company, and John Lubbers, the inventor of the machine, own all the rights in the idea. For this, within a month, they have been offered $10,000,000. They refused it. The American Window Glass Company plans to take up the machine operation under a royalty system which will be half the profit resultant from the machine operation.

Within a year all of the factories of the American Window Glass Company are expected to instal the machines, which will turn on the world an army of blowers, gatherers and snappers. The flatteners and cutters, also high-waged men, will remain. For months in a factory of the American Window Glass Company in River avenue, Allegheny, the machine was in experimental operation. Sections of cylinders of glass made in this operation are at the offices of the American Window Glass Company. They have none of the flaws of the ordinary blowing. A lip runs the length of the cylinder and this is where it would be split in operating.

Will See the Test.

President Chambers, General Manager Moore and other officials of the company will be at Alexandria today to watch the test. It may be another day or two before the plant is ready to make its start in demonstration. After that, those who know, say that there will be a new epoch in the history of the window glass industry.

This will mean the disintegration of the wealthy organization of the workers, the cutting off of all importation in window glass and the crippling of the operations of all rival operations in this country. Patents have either been secured or will be in all countries where there are patent offices.

At Alexandria the machines will dispense with 36 men in each of the three crafts of blower, gatherer and snapper. Two or three men will displace these 108. The blower now earns an average of $500 a month, the flattener 75 per cent of this and the snapper from $40 to $50 per month. Blowers have earned as high as $630 per month and on the highest rate of wages now ruling it would be possible to add a fourth to this.

Will Use Electricity.

The machine system in the Indiana gas belt will employ electricity as a motive power. This will eliminate the vibration of the steam motive power employed in the experimental plant in Allegheny. The machine, which is a comparatively simple system of blowing glass by the substitution of electrically propelled appliances for the gatherer's muscular strength and compressed air for the lung work and skill of the blower, will run the rollers or cylinders of glass to a length of 100 inches, twice that produced by the skillful blower. It has already demonstrated that it will produce glass of less thickness than the most expert blower can produce, "dry plate" glass it is called. It will also produce triple-thick glass, three-eighths of an inch thick, while the ordinary blower can only produce single and double strength glass. It is asserted that the compressed air machine system produces glass which is more mellow, as it is put by the trade, and easier to flatten than that product blown by the man.

John Lubbers of Allegheny, the inventor, was formerly employed in the Chambers factory at Arnold, Pa., of the American Window Glass Company. He now lives in Allegheny. He has contributed other ideas which have advanced the window glass industry, including a patent lear for flattening ovens and a carriage for conveying the cylinders of glass.

SAYS FRAUD WAS USED.

D. Maginn Denies He Owes T. M. McDonough $1,500 on an Agreement.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of T. M. McDonaugh against Daniel Maginn, to recover on an agreement. The plaintiff does not deny that he entered into an agreement to pay the plaintiff $1,500 if he secured the interest of Eliza Jane Martin in the estate of Edward Maginn, for $30,500.

The defendant says the plaintiff failed to secure this interest, but did obtain an agreement in writing from her, by falsely and fraudulently representing to her that he was sent to her by her attorney to have her sign it. It is said that upon the discovery of the fraud Eliza Jane Martin repudiated the agreement.

BARWELL NOT GUILTY.

Man Arrested in West Virginia Proved His Wife Died From Pneumonia.

John Barwell was acquitted of a charge of felonious assault and battery, preferred by Julia O'Brien, the defendant's mother-in-law. It was alleged that Barwell beat his wife so severely that she died. His daughter, aged about eight years, told of her father beating her mother.

Barwell produced witnesses that his wife was a heavy drinker and that her death was caused by pneumonia.

TWO GIRLS MISSING FROM THEIR HOMES

MARY FLANIGAN AND HELEN PARK CAUSING MUCH UNEASINESS.

The Former Has Been Absent Since June 2 and the Latter Since May 20—Police Have Been Asked to Look for Them, but Have No Clues.

Mary Flanigan, aged 13, the daughter of Rose Flanigan, living in the rear of No. 2402 Forbes street, has been missing since June 2. On that day she left home in the morning to go to her employment in the stock room of one of the large department stores. Her mother gave her $1 to purchase wire screens and she had $5 salary due her.

She did not return that evening, but her mother was not uneasy, thinking her daughter had gone to a friend's house for the night. The following day and night passed. The mother went to the store, but the girl had not been there since the previous Saturday night.

The mother stated yesterday this was the third time her daughter had left home, and when found each time the girl had given a fictitious name. Mrs. Flanigan visited the morgue and other places where she thought her daughter might be, but found no tidings of her.

Mrs. Park of No. 1632 Fifth avenue is greatly worried over the absence of information concerning her daughter, Helen Palmer Park, who left home three weeks ago. Mrs. Park consulted the police and detectives and recently enlisted the interest of County Detective Robert G. Robinson and the Allegheny police bureau. The Pittsburgh police and detectives have been unable to learn anything about the girl.

On the morning of May 20 Mrs. Park handed her daughter a $10 bill and told her to go downstairs and pay the rent in the store on the ground floor. As Helen did not return, the mother supposed she had gone to school, but at the Grant school she learned that the girl had not been there that day. Helen, the mother says, was fond of going to the theater and talked of being an actress. The girl will be 14 years old on September 11. She is tall for her age, has light brown hair, hazel eyes and dark, heavy eyebrows.

FOURTH FUND GOES OVER $17,000 MARK

State Offers to Supply Ammunition Needed for Salutes to Be Fired in Roosevelt's Honor.

A check for $300, received yesterday from the Pittsburgh Golf club, sent the fund for the Greater Pittsburgh Fourth of July celebration at Schenley park, over the $17,000 mark. It was the largest contribution of the day. Upward of $6,000 will yet be required to supply funds necessary to cover appropriations made to the various sub-committees. At the rate the fund is growing, however, it is believed that enough money will be subscribed to insure the success of all the plans.

Col. A. J. Logan, chairman of the executive committee, has received word from Adjt. Gen. Thomas J. Stewart at Harrisburg, that he will provide ammunition for the firing of salutes to President Roosevelt on the Fourth.

Propositions from various amusement providers continue to pour into headquarters. One of the most unique, perhaps, was that of a man who wanted the committee to advance him $2,000 to complete an airship which he says he is building, and which he would like to float in the park on the Fourth. It is needless to say the committee turned this proposition down. Balloonists from all parts of the country have offered to come here, and the heavens would be darkened with them if the committee on sports engaged them all.

Following are the subscriptions made to the fund yesterday:

Maria A. Lenz	5 00
Pittsburgh Valve, Foundry and Construction Company	25 00
Philip Keller	10 00
Ash & Baldwin	10 00
Valley Trust Company	10 00

Germania National Bank	50 00
B. M. Brackenridge	10 00
Sheinberg & Weisberg	3 00
Thomas H. Johnson	2 00

These contributions make a total to date of $17,410 01.

Chairman W. A. Carr of the finance committee, again commented yesterday on the fact that he has not heard from any of the hotel men, who are likely to benefit from the crowd that is expected. Mr. Carr thinks they should take the same interest in the big celebration that is displayed by the business houses of the city.

COST OF FOOD.

Grape-Nuts vs. White Bread, Etc.

A family figured carefully on the cost of food, taking into consideration the strength and health that Grape-Nuts furnished. The report is interesting.

"We first took up Grape-Nuts because it agreed with me so well. I was suffering from dyspepsia that medicine did not relieve. I frequently laughed at the idea when some of my friends told of the use of Grape-Nuts; however, one day wife bought a package and we found it good and it agreed with me.

"We were accustomed to using white bread and oats, wheat or barley mushes boiled from two to four hours. We considered Grape-Nuts too expensive, but I noticed that when I had a breakfast of Grape-Nuts I felt fine, and other days when white bread and other cereals were used I felt weak and bloated.

"One day about six months ago I said to wife, 'I am satisfied that Grape-Nuts is the thing that makes me feel better in between the blue spells.' Then we sat down and figured a while on the cost of living and came to the conclusion that we could live better and happier on fifteen cents' worth of Grape-Nuts than on twenty-five cents' worth of white bread or 'cooked at home' cereals. You see four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts furnish more strength to work on than large quantities of other food, so we started on Grape-Nuts in earnest, using it every morning, and a wonderful change has come over me.

"I am gaining in weight every day. Never have any of the old bloated feelings. Feel strong and well and can endure more hard work than I could on the old diet, and this result is all without any doctor or drugs at all, but directly from using Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Pennypacker's Nomination Assured.

There is no longer any room for doubt about the result of today's Republican state convention. Stone and Elkin will be overwhelmed. The 206 votes cast in the caucus at the board of trade rooms assure an ample majority to make the party nominations. Of that number probably 19 were the votes of delegates pledged to ex-Lieut. Gov. Watres, the other 187 being out-and-out supporters of Judge Pennypacker.

It must not be assumed that 206 represents the full vote that will be polled against Stoneism today. Many delegates do not attend the preliminary caucuses. Some are opposed to the caucus on general principles, others do not wish to disclose their position and thus expose themselves to solicitation to change their attitude. With 206 votes to start with, it is likely that Senator Quay's prediction of 225 on the first ballot in convention will prove pretty nearly accurate.

This showing is gratifying. It has been made in the face of an exhibition of the power of the state administration such as was never before witnessed. It is a triumph for the people over all the influences of patronage, deposit of public funds and manipulation of public contracts.

The Result Is Foreshadowed.

In the extremely sensational encounter between Senator Quay and Attorney General Elkin at the meeting of the state committee there was reflected the course of the campaign and the result of today's convention. The fact that Mr. Elkin has been able to make a showing of formidable strength at all is due wholly to unfair use of the power of the state administration and the machinery of the state committee. Senator Quay has met and countered, in behalf of the rank and file of the party, every move of the Stone organization just as he met and defeated the attempt to create a sub-committee opposed to the will of a majority of the whole body.

Undoubtedly the state committee is representative of the popular sentiment. Its decisive majority on the test vote was no more preponderant than the element of the party at large opposed to any extension of the power of Gov. Stone to blunder or do worse. Mr. Elkin's wrath only indicates that he realized the truth of Senator Quay's retort: "You will get no nomination at all."

Crop Prospects.

The citizen who follows the crop reports from week to week is quite likely to get into a gloomy frame of mind. First it is too dry and then it is too wet. Anon the weather is too hot and again it is too cold. One week spring wheat has no show at all, and another week no good corn weather can be found anywhere on the map. This week's report indicates a most injudicious distribution of rain. There has been so much moisture in Missouri, Indiana and Illinois as to cause the appearance of rust in the wheat fields. Farmers are harvesting grain as far north as North Carolina, but here again too many showers are reported, and the work progresses under difficulties. While this superfluity of rain is making trouble and causing anxiety in the wheat districts, we are told that more moisture is needed in the cotton belt. These factors are not unusual, however. In fact, they are the regular thing, and have been expected as far back as the memory of man goes and the records of the weather bureau extend. Oats share the unfavorable weather with wheat. The prospect is poor for the oats crop in the east, but there will probably be enough in the Mississippi valley to supply any deficiency in the yield of the Atlantic states.

A really saddening paragraph in the government's report this week is this: "The outlook for fruit throughout the country is not promising." Last year was a poor one for fruit, and if this year is no better there will be a scarcity of pie-filling throughout this broad land.

More Victims Heaped Up.

The Allegheny county delegates who decided in caucus to vote for John P. Elkin are perfectly well aware that in so doing they misrepresented local sentiment. The feeling in Allegheny county is one of intense aversion for Gov. Stone and Gov. Stone's candidate. The situation was stated with pungent accuracy by the organ of the local organization in an editorial article just after the municipal election in February last. The Pittsburgh Times then said:

> Many causes contributed to the defeat of the Republican organization of Pittsburgh at the polls on Tuesday. The chief of these was the undisguised anger of thousands of citizens at Gov. Stone, whose boundless capacity for blundering laid upon the Republican party a burden too heavy to bear. This appears to have been plain for a year past to every Republican of discernment in Pennsylvania, except possibly, Gov. Stone himself, whose consuming ambition, coupled with an impenetrable hide, dull persistency and fat wit, has laid its victims around him in heaps, ever increasing as the days pass. Ever since the assembling of the last legislature there has been a constantly growing army of Republicans, and citizens generally in Pittsburgh, impatiently awaiting the opportunity to pay its respects to the chief executive of the state. This was done on Tuesday with exceeding neatness and dispatch.

The chief cause which the Times characterized with such precise appreciation is still violently active. Everybody knows that the nomination of another Stone candidate invites the repetition in Allegheny county of what took place in Pittsburgh last February. There is still an army of citizens impatiently awaiting another and an ampler opportunity to pay its respects to Gov. Stone. Those who are to constitute the latest heap of victims are fully aware of the fate that threatens them. And yet the first move of the delegates is an indorsement of the Stone candidate.

The only reasonable explanation is that the local organization is still subject to the obligations of the recordership deal. Delivery of the delegates was understood to be part of the consideration, and evidently the contract still holds. The delegates that submit to be bargained away in fulfilment of the terms of the recordership deal are violating the sentiment of the community they profess to represent, and are throwing away whatever chance of success their county ticket has at the polls. They must know all this perfectly well, and their submissiveness indicates that they are bound hand and foot, so that they are unable to move. Some have displayed ability to think and act upon their own judgment of party requirements. We hope that others of the delegates may follow their example.

Damaging Testimony.

Testimony adduced before the committee investigating the "yellow book" yesterday was suggestive of the application of the law of 1897. Employes of the police bureau asserted under oath they were given five minutes to sign the book and that they understood there was a penalty attached to refusal. Certainly their conception of the matter would bring it within the statute which makes it a punishable offense for any officer to assess a public employe for political purposes. The only question is whether they understood the situation aright.

At the same session a recent machine sensation was exploded by the testimony of Councilman Brown, who related the whole of his connection with the ordinance providing for an increase of the pay of policemen. It is an indication that the machine feels an urgent need of support when it undertakes to bolster its position by groundless stories of that sort.

Revolutionary Processes.

Official information is finally given out concerning the window glass blowing machine about which rumors have been circulating for some time. The official announcement is of grave import, to the effect that the machine is a complete success and will throw many skilled workmen out of employment. This is not good news for the towns that depend almost altogether upon window glass factories for their prosperity. It is bad news for many of the workmen. Yet there is a bright side to the picture for others.

In course of time conditions in the window glass industry will readjust themselves as they have in other industries where labor-saving machinery has been introduced. It will then be found the new invention has promoted the good of the many. Labor in general will be better employed and the prestige of America will be greater than before. Occasionally someone suffers in the march of progress, but the majority derive benefit.

Palma's Generosity.

President Palma of Cuba is the possessor of a heart which is quickly touched by the cry of distress. A crowd pleading for bread gathered about the executive building in Havana yesterday, and in response to their appeals the Cuban president took from his private funds $1,000, with which he purchased food for distribution among the poor who had applied for it.

While the incident has the pleasing feature of charity promptly and liberally bestowed, it reveals a phase of life in Havana which is somewhat disquieting. A crowd that found use for $1,000 worth of bread must have been of large proportions, indicating a degree of poverty in Havana of which there had been no previous general knowledge. After that bread has been eaten there will naturally be an appeal to President Palma for more, and if the appeals and responses continue much longer the financial welfare of the president will be seriously affected. The furnishing of work for the poor of Havana would be much better for them than charitable distributions of bread, and this is a problem which deserves the prompt and earnest attention of those having in charge the affairs of the new republic. As a means to that end the congress of the United States should long ago have adopted the reciprocity measure for the relief of the people of Cuba.

Eager to Get In.

At a recent sale of lots in the Pittsburgh district scenes were witnessed rivaling the distributions of free lands by the government in the west. Scores of people camped on the ground over night in the hope of getting first choice in the bidding next day.

It is not far to seek the significance of such eagerness to get in. The sale was widely advertised in the newspapers. The fame of Pittsburgh as the center of industry and prosperity has spread abroad. Many who are out are anxious to get within the radius of Pittsburgh influence. Each new industrial town in the suburban region offers opportunities to at least a few to become part and parcel of Pittsburgh. The city itself is growing by accretion from the suburbs as much as from anywhere else, so the movement of concentration is constant. It is not to be wondered at in the light of Pittsburgh's past that enterprising men are anxious to participate in its future.

Making the Best of It.

Fortunately for the interests of all concerned the Boers are accepting defeat as gracefully as could be expected. It was feared for a time the majority might be irreconcilable, but in nearly all instances they have decided to make the best of what is to them an unpleasant situation. Up to yesterday 7,000 of the burghers recently in arms against the British had surrendered. Doubtless the submissions will continue until all have accepted the terms of the peace agreement.

There is said to be considerable bitterness of feeling on the part of those who fought to the bitter end, the objects of their wrath being the Boers who surrendered earlier in the war. This, however, is but a local manifestation of displeasure and does not affect the relations between the victors and the vanquished. Indeed, there has been a surprising display of good-fellowship between the former foes. Even Gen. Kitchener has been cheered by the men he conquered. It is well for both Boer and Briton that this condition of affairs prevails, as it augurs well for a long era of peace in that part of South Africa which was so long the scene of warfare.

Senator Gorman's remark in 1895 that Quay might have taught his opponents all they know about politics, but he hadn't taught them all he knew about politics, seems again apropos of the Harrisburg situation.

Gov. Jeff Davis of Arkansas is no longer in a churchless state. The Second Baptist church of Little Rock cast him out, but the Baptist church of Russellville has taken him in.

The deanship of the diplomatic corps at Washington has worked around to Ambassador von Holleben. And Prince Henry's visit had nothing to do with it, either.

Kaiser Wilhelm has heard of St. Louis. He has been good enough to hope that the fair to be held in that city will be a success.

The friends of rag time will have to rally to its support again. It has been cut out of the Marine band's popular programs at Washington.

The hegira of officials to the state capital leaves the county and municipal governments to move by their own momentum.

Not long ago it was too dry for the crops. Now it is too wet. Crops are difficult to please.

Contracts for exposition music are reminders that time has not lost its habit of flying.

Detonations come from the direction of Harrisburg at frequent intervals.

Philadelphia's liberty bell had a very successful trip south.

Capt. Hobson is making a kissless lecture tour.

Who said Quay had lost his grip?

Nevin a Surprise.

From the Washington Post.

No one would ever suspect the genial "Bob" Nevin of Ohio of being a student of oriental lore. And yet the other day, when the anti-anarchy bill was being discussed in the house, he contributed an interesting chapter of history for the enlightenment of his colleagues. He told how the word "assassin" originated and gave the story of the band of cut-throats who have become famous in history. It is a story of the 11th century, when three students at Nishapur agreed that if either of them arose to eminence he would take care of the other two. One of them became vizier to the sultan. Then Omar Khayyam and Ali Ben Hassan, the other two students, went down to him for recognition. Omar Khayyam, who wrote the Rubaiyat, was given an annuity, while Hassan was given a powerful position. Hassan then intrigued against his benefactor, was banished, and became "the old man of the mountains." From his name, Hassan, came the word "assassin," for Hassan's band used to follow their victims and kill them by stabbing them in the back with dagger or knife.

Of course all Mr. Nevin's colleagues listened to him with great interest while he related the story with a detail that showed great familiarity with Persian history, and also when he told how the thugs of India never harmed an Englishman, although they strangled or slew thousands of their fellow-countrymen.

"Where in the world did you learn about all these things?" an admiring congressman asked Nevin.

The Ohio member winked his eye. "Out of a book," he said.

The Bashful Senator.

From the Baltimore Sun.

Senator Hanna is not happy, and he makes no secret of his melancholy. Bold, bad men, it appears, are trying to thrust presidential honors upon him, and Mr. Hanna is both grieved and shocked. "I am having a hard time," he said in an interview a day or two ago, "trying to put an end to this talk of me for president." It must grate on the nerves of a sensitive man who shrinks from the public gaze, to have his name mentioned frequently in connection with the presidential nomination of his party.

It may be inferred from Mr. Hanna's pathetic protest that the office of chief magistrate of this nation has no charms for him. He longs for seclusion. He yearns to get away from the "madding crowd" of politicians who have determined to thrust greatness upon him. If his admirers will not desist, the Ohio senator may be compelled to emigrate in order to escape the horrors of the presidential chair.

Politicians ought to be more considerate of the feelings of sensitive statesmen. They ought not to force honors upon a man of a modest and retiring disposition, who blushes painfully every time his name is mentioned for the presidency. Mr. Hanna's wishes should be respected. He should not be rushed into the White House. Some other good man not as bashful as the Ohio senator will do just as well.

"Keep Off the Grass" Signs May Provoke Riots

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 10.

Of all the live topics of discussion in New York just now "keep off the grass" is one of the most generally brought up. Since the statement was made, authoritatively, that Central park is in a bad way, so far as the preservation of its grass and shrubbery is concerned, attempts have been made to give the grass a chance to grow. Of course this has restricted the use of certain portions of the park as playgrounds for children, with consequent lamentations from the youngsters. It has been the custom for many years to grant permits for outings in the park that are known generally as "Mayday parties." On these parties children trample down the grass and cause bare spots here and there. That cannot be helped, and hitherto the park workmen have made the best of it by watering and digging and fertilizing the bare places so that they grew a fresh crop in due time. Meanwhile some other part of the park was used for the children's pleasure days. Grass will not grow if a lot of children run over it from day to day. That everyone knows, but the point is made by champions of the children that it would be better to have the grass used in this way than to deprive youngsters of their summer recreation. When Spate set up his "pay chairs" in the parks there were riotous proceedings and suits in court, as a result of which Spate and his chairs retired from the parks. It is not impossible that there may be demonstrations over this order keeping children out of their park playgrounds, judging from comments one hears, particularly in the tenement districts. The thousands of children in the congested localities of this city have little opportunity of enjoying the fragrance of the country except in the parks, and their parents have had it impressed upon them that the parks belong to the people, with a capital "P." This being true, why should the tenement children be compelled to keep out of the parks altogether unless they are willing to restrict themselves to the hard paths instead of roaming freely over the springy turf? This is the tenement argument. On the other hand, there are the people who never use the park or its playground because they have lawns of their own, and they appland the authorities. There have been no actual rows over the question yet, but there may be.

Actor Odell Williams' Career.

Much regret is expressed here over the death of Odell Williams, the actor. While it was known that he was in poor health and had been pronounced incurable, it was hoped that he would live for a long time to come. Mr. Williams was well-known in Pittsburgh, having played there year after year in many parts. One of his earliest appearances in Pittsburgh was in Bartley Campbell's drama, "Clio," in which Williams was the old campaigner. His biggest hit was as the Squire in "Way Down East," which character he played for several years, alternating it now and then with Burr McIntosh.

Passengers on the First New Flyer.

Indications are that a large number of New Yorkers will be on the new 20-hour-to-Chicago Pennsylvania railroad train when it makes its first trip on Sunday next. Some of them will drop off in Pittsburgh, but most of them will go through, just to experience the satisfaction of covering nearly 1,000 miles in less time than it has ever been done—at least, by a regular train.

Doubts About Sage's Health.

No one seems to know certainly how Russell Sage is physically. He has not been at his office for weeks, and Wall street is inclined to believe he is not in robust health as it is reported from his home. He goes out driving occasionally and looks like the "Uncle Russell" of old as he gains along; but that does not prove him to be in magnificent health, for he has always been anemic and sad-eyed, so far as the memory of the present generation goes. However, it is declared that he will be down tomorrow. If he does appear in his office, fit for business, it will dispel many unpleasant rumors as to his actual condition.

An Electric Fan Bursts.

It is not often that an electric fan runs amuck; but one of them, a 10-inch specimen, in the offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company in this city, did so today. It burst with a loud report and one of the flying blades struck an operator named Smith in the back, cutting it badly. The doctor said that if it had struck a few inches lower or half a foot higher there would have been another vacancy in the exclusive Smith family.

Mayor Low Shipwrecked.

Mayor Low, with three important city officials, enjoyed the sensation this morning of being shipwrecked. No lives were lost and there were no shrieks of despair abaft the binnacle; but all hands had to abandon the ship, and the mayor, with his corporation counsel, Rives; his comptroller, Grout, and one of his dock commissioners, Hawkes, were compelled to come to town in a very un-nautical railroad train. It was the mayor's yacht Surprise, which struck a snag in Long Island sound on the trip down from his honor's summer home at Rye, and soon there was half a ton of bilgewater rushing out of the scuppers, while the skipper in his confusion boxed the compass backward and cuffed the cabin boy for not manning the lifeboat. The yacht managed to get to Whitestone, Long Island, somehow, and there the owner and his friends caught a train, reaching city hall only two hours late. But it has been as good as one of Clark Russell's novels to step into the mayor's office today and hear him spin the yarn.

Funeral of Dr. Hepworth.

Funeral services over the remains of Dr. George H. Hepworth took place at the Manhattan Congregational church uptown this afternoon. There was a large attendance. Dr. Collyer, who was an intimate friend of the deceased, said that the weekly sermons of Dr. Hepworth, printed every Sunday in The Gazette, as well as in the New York Herald, were the crowning work of his life. In his sermon Dr. Collyer said: "We became dear friends almost 40 years ago, and while we seldom met in the later years our fellowship had not withered away. We were still brother ministers, and were one in heart and mind about the great essential things of our faith and the 'church of the living God, the Pillar and Ground of the truth.'" The body will be cremated tomorrow at Fresh Pond, Long Island.

Policemen Grumble at Transfers.

There are a lot of grumbling policemen in Brooklyn and other remote quarters of Greater New York today. They are the captains and inspectors who have been transferred from Manhattan precincts, where there is "something doing," to the outskirts. No one around headquarters seems to care how the transferred ones like it, however. The general feeling is that Commissioner Partridge has "woke up" and that it is a good thing for the public.

Suicides Utilize the "L."

It is to be hoped that New York is not to have an epidemic of suicides on the elevated railroads. There were two such cases yesterday. A man jumped in front of a Brooklyn bridge train and was beheaded, and soon afterward a woman allowed a Ninth avenue "L" train to run over her but without suffering serious hurt. At a few of the "L" stations there are guard rails to prevent people falling or jumping to the tracks from station platforms. It may be necessary to extend this system of guard rails to all the stations, if rattle-brained men and women get into the habit of diving head first in front of the engines, as seems not unlikely.

Gotham Growing Smokier.

The health department here continues to say what it will do to persons who burn soft coal, and threatens all kinds of pains and penalties. All the same, you cannot see across the North river for the black smoke from the tugs and ferryboats, and lower Broadway smells like a chimney afire. Anthracite coal is becoming a luxury, but as there is plenty of the bituminous article its combustion goes merrily on. New York is taking all the more kindly to it because some solemn statistician has discovered that the mortality percentage in Pittsburgh is considerably less than in this city. This may not all be due to the soft coal smoke, however. Although the statistician aforesaid believes it is.

A Poet Missing.

A poet has been lost in New York, and it is thought he may have drowned himself. He was in distress because he could not find a publisher for his romantic novel. Considering that lower Fifth avenue is full of unpublished poets and novelists, it seems that he should have found enough consolation in seeing fellow-sufferers to keep him from despair's last dread resort. At least, no one will believe that he has drowned himself until his body is found.

Lulu Glaser Finishes Resting.

Lulu Glaser is back in the cast of "Dolly Varden" at the Herald Square theater. Lulu has been enjoying the prerogative of a prima donna, to be indisposed when it suits her. She laid off last Friday, and her understudy appeared until last night. Then the lively little Pittsburgher felt that she had had rest enough and reappeared before the footlights as joyously as ever. She will have a large proportion of the members of West Point academy to see her performance in the evening, and the havoc she will make in the susceptible young soldiers is something fearful to contemplate.

"The" Finds an Eminent Sympathizer.

"The" Allen, who has been called the "wickedest man in New York," but has never convicted of crime, boasted today that he had shaken hands with District Attorney Jerome. "The" Allen is one of the picturesque characters of Manhattan. He has been charged countless times with keeping pool rooms and gambling otherwise, but always gets out on the convenient decision of "not proven." Jerome thinks "The" is persecuted by the police and "The" agrees with the district attorney. So when today the famous Allen stood outside the court room in a group of loungers who had been listening to the disposal of a number of gambling cases in general sessions "The" straightened up with pride and said: "Jerome shook the hand of an honest man—the hand of a man who has always been on the square and is afraid of no one except his Maker." And it sounded so pious that the crowd took off their hats and murmured "Amen."

Recorder Goff Takes a Rest.

Spring fever and summer lassitude catch the solemn judiciary equally with the perky soubrette. An illustration of this fact is that Recorder Goff quit business today, adjourning court and retiring to his home uptown. He said he was overworked and must have rest. He will not go out of town, but just sit around and swap yarns with his intimates. Before he became recorder Goff could do that as well as anyone in town, and it is said that even now, in the privacy of his home, he enjoys kicking off the ermine, kicking up his heels, figuratively speaking, and with a good cigar in his teeth, giving and receiving the newest funny stories of the town.

More Race Track Cars Needed.

Every summer there is a howl of greater or less volume from people who attend the races down by the sea in Brooklyn about the transportation facilities. The trouble seems to be that the crowds are too large for an ordinary trolley line or elevated railroad to handle; so the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company gets into a squabble as regularly as the racing season comes around. The special trains that run from Park row to the track are crowded to suffocation when they leave the platform at the Manhattan end of the bridge, and it is only by a strenuous use of fists and elbows that Brooklynites are able to get on the trains at all. Hanging to the eaves of the cars and to the platforms by the teeth, with only room to rest one foot on a window sill or iron gateway, is beginning to wear upon the nerves even of the long-suffering Brooklyn race goers.

"Burns Girl" Still Stage-Struck.

The "Burns girl," as the papers here call her, who was declared innocent of shooting young Walter Brooks in a Manhattan hotel, still has a hankering after the stage. Her attorney, who is spokesman for the girl, says she has great dramatic talent, but he does not think it would be in good taste for her to trade on the notoriety she has had in connection with Brooks' death. This is commendable in the attorney, of course; but it will surprise most persons who know anything about the common methods of exploiting a new theatrical star if Miss Burns is not before the footlights some time next season. It is not likely that she will be indicted for the killing of the young man; but if she is her attorney says she will be produced immediately to answer to the indictment. Her whereabouts is not publicly known, although her family are living in their old home in Brooklyn.

Whistling Buoys for Long Beach.

Three firsst-class whistling buoys are to be established about three miles from shore off Long Beach, two or three miles from Rockaway. According to the last report of the life-saving department, 11 vessels struck on Long Beach during 1901. Some of them were pulled off in a more or less damaged condition. The estimated loss was $37,125. The wrecks and losses this year will be very much greater, since three large steamers have already been on the beach and got off only after losing portions of their cargoes. It is thought at first that a lighthouse would be the thing, but the choice of whistling buoys is the result of the captains of the life-saving crews, who are agreed that a lighthouse would be of use only in clear weather, whereas the worst wrecks occur in thick, foggy weather or during snowstorms, when a light could not be seen far enough away to be of any use.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

HEAVY rumblings continue to come from the direction of Harrisburg.

The eruption of Mont Harris is due to day.

Boer generals who are going back to farming will have a chance to fight the army worm instead of the British army.

Kansas' supply of harvest hands never comes up to the demand of the harvest.

He Saw the Time.

Mrs. Hammersmith was waiting at the head of the stairs for her husband, who was out later than usual.

She was angry, for she had been "nursing her wrath to keep it warm" for several hours.

When she heard her husband's key in the lock she gritted her teeth, and as soon as he appeared at the foot of the stairs she demanded:

"Do you know what time it is, John Henry Hammersmith?"

"Yes'm," chirped John Henry, with a cheeriness of expression that he was far from feeling.

"It's after 2 o'clock in the morning," she went on.

"Oh, you're mistaken my dear," he said.

"I'm not mistaken," she insisted. "The clock struck 2 a quarter of an hour ago. You don't care whether burglars break in or not. You haven't the slightest consideration for your poor wife. You don't care how frightened and nervous she gets while you are wasting your time and money with boon companions."

"Don't fret, darling," Mr. Hammersmith broke in, soothingly. "Your clock must be wrong. It's three hours fast."

"Nonsense! You set it yourself on Sunday."

"Well," said Hammersmith, in the tone of one dismissing the subject, "I'll swear that the clock on the Elks' temple at Fifth avenue and Jumonville street was pointing at 11 pressicly when I came by in the trolley car."

Subjects for Commencement Day.

Among the problems to be settled by the orators and oratresses of the various colleges and high schools are the following:

"What is to be done with the island of Martinique."

"The measure of self-government that should be accorded to the Philippine Islands."

"How England may win the undying affection of the Boers."

"How to be happy though one has no opportunity to marry."

"Brief suggestions for the government of the solar system."

It Is an Old Idea.

"It is now said that laziness is a disease," remarked Mr. Squirrel Hill to Mr. Murray Hill.

"So?" replied the latter.

"Yes; one of these scientific gentlemen has come out with that theory, and supports it with an elaborate argument."

"It's not a new idea."

"Isn't it?"

"By no means. I've heard of spring fever as long as I can remember."

POINT BREEZE.

A Tale from Illinois.

Right at the opening of the fish story season the Geneseo (Ill.) News editor makes a desperate lunge for the cake in this manner:

Two men were fishing in Rock river.
It was in the evening.
Mosquitoes came in clouds.
The men plunged into an old steam boiler.
The mosquitoes drilled through.
The men seized stones and clinched their bills upon the inside.
Frantically they worked all night.
In the morning they looked out.
Every mosquito had been clinched to the boiler.
"Now we can fish," said one.
When they tried to emerge the mosquitoes got scared and every one attempted to fly away.
The great boiler rose in the air with the men inside.
They flew toward Green river. It is believed that the outfit landed somewhere in the fastnesses of Jacks branch, north Geneseo.

PERSONALS

The Alumni association of the collegiate and engineering departments of the Western university held its annual dinner at the Hotel Henry last night. The affair was held in the banqueting room, and about 200 members were present. The toastmaster was Edward E. Mayer, A. M., M. D., of the class of '95. The first toast, "Class of Naughty Two," was responded to by R. W. Wallace, '92; "The College Man in Politics," by George W. Guthrie, A. M., '66; "College and Railroad Ties," T. H. B. McKnight, '71; "The Humanities: Thomas Patterson, A. M., '76; "Our Alma Mater," Acting Chancellor John A. Brashear, Sc. D. After the business of the association was transacted the following officers were elected: President, Thomas Patterson; vice president, F. W. McKee; honorary vice presidents, the Rev. J. G. Brown, Hon. Thomas Mellon, LL. D., the Rev. Joseph Horner, D. D., '49, Col. A. S. Morgan, A. M., '49, James D. Layng, A. M., '49, John A. Wilson, A. M., 64, the Rev. John Wightman, A. The committee consisting of W. R. Errett chairman, I. N. Patterson, Frank C. Osborn, George H. Clapp, Charles W. Scovel, R. T. McCormick and Daniel H. Wallace, which was appointed three years ago for the purpose of establishing an alumni chair in the university, was instructed at the meeting last night to proceed to solicit subscriptions for that purpose.

Paul Dresser, the New York song writer, passed through the city to Chicago last night from Washington, where he had been in the interest of the National Music association. "My visit to Washington," he said, "was in the interest of the international copyright bill. Under the present law English song writers are protected in this country, but American song writers have no protection in England. I called on Senator Beveridge, who introduced me to Senator Hanna. They took me to see President Roosevelt, who at once became interested in the matter. The state department was told to take the matter up and Ambassador Choate was notified. He called on Secretary Baltour and as a result a bill was drawn up which has passed parliament and is now on its last reading in the house of lords."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kirschler last night celebrated the 10th anniversary of their marriage in Newell's hotel, of which Mr. Kirschler is a part owner. At the same time Mrs. Kirschler's father, John McClurg, celebrated his 53d birthday. The banquet room was profusely decorated for the occasion. Among those present were: John McClurg and wife, Joseph G. McClurg and wife, Charles Lambie and wife, George W. Watson and wife, T. D. Miller and wife, the Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second Presbyterian church; the Rev. E. M. Paddock of the Emanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny; Mrs. Willie Shuart, Mrs. Susan Curry, Miss Belle McClurg, J. E. McClurg and Master Karl Kirschler.

"I will return to Cuba in a short time and engage in the raising of live stock," said D. Lamb of Havana, a former oil operator of Western Pennsylvania, at the Seventh Avenue hotel last night. "I went to Cuba last March to look over the country with a view of settling there. I purchased a large plantation in the Pinar del Rio district, and will engage in raising cattle on it. The land throughout the island is exceedingly rich, and there is a wealth of minerals in it. I would like to see 5,000,000 Americans settle in Cuba, for they would soon make the island hum."

Among the out-of-town distillers who are in the city to attend the meeting of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, which convenes in the Hotel Henry this morning, is John P. Boyle of the Steward distillery of Highland Town, a suburb of Baltimore. Mr. Boyle is one of the oldest manufacturers of whisky in Maryland, having started in the business in 1860. For the past 20 years he has been connected with the Stewart distillery, which is one of the largest in Maryland.

Capt. W. Sanders Scott, of the quartermaster's department of the United States army, and a former member of the staff of ex-Gov. Geo. Leonard Wood of Cuba, passed through the city last night to Indianapolis. Capt. Scott was formerly yardmaster at Walls Station. "I am going to Indianapolis," he said, "to superintend the construction of a set of barracks for a battalion of infantry."

Dr. W. J. Holland was notified yesterday that A. W. Van Kirk, who is connected with the paleontological laboratory, Carnegie institute, was bitten by a rattlesnake while at work in the bone mines in Nebraska a week ago. Mr. Van Kirk will recover.

The Rev. Dr. J. S. Black, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Halifax, N. S., who is visiting Edward McClelland of the Westinghouse Machine Company, will leave in a short time for Toronto to attend the general assembly of the Canadian Presbyterian church.

A monthly meeting of the National Mirror Manufacturers' association was held at the Hotel Henry yesterday. There was little business of importance to discuss. The officers of the association are: J. J. Kinsella, Chicago, president, and George H. Anderson, Chicago, secretary.

L. G. Haas, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Pittsburgh, was in Baltimore yesterday consulting with General Manager G. L. Potter in regard to the improvements being made in and about Pittsburgh.

Over 200 members of the Catholic Total Abstinence society of the Pittsburgh diocese went to New Castle yesterday in a special train to attend the annual convention of the organization.

Thomas M. Morrison, general manager of the Edgar Thomson steel works, accompanied by his family and servants, went to Spring Lake, N. J., in the special car Rambler last night.

Lewis Daizell and family of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, went to Seabright, N. J., last night, where they have a large cottage.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Thomas Boyd.

Thomas Boyd, one of the oldest and most prominent architects in Pittsburgh, and senior member of the firm of Thomas Boyd & Son, with offices at No. 400 Market street, died last evening at 7:50 o'clock at his home on Wheeler avenue, near Vernon avenue, Allegheny. Mr. Boyd had been suffering from paralysis since last Thursday evening, when he had a stroke at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Matthew Hamilton, No. 10 Norman street, Allegheny, shortly after returning from a drive through Riverview park. Mr. Boyd was born in Allegheny, June 15, 1841, and for a number of years was a member of the firm of William Boyd & Son, contractors. He afterward became an architect and for the past 25 years had been in this business in Pittsburgh. Mr. Boyd made a specialty of public buildings and during his life designed the Allegheny county buildings at Marshalsea, the court houses at Lexington, Nicholas and Georgetown, Ky., and the court houses at Wooster and New

CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF CHURCH LAW

Judicial Commission Appointed to Sift Rev. Dr. Donehoo's Complaint.

PRESBYTERY HEARD IT

A Proposition to Establish a New Church in the East End District Stirred Up a Heated Debate at Yesterday's Meeting.

Yesterday's meeting of the Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church was the liveliest held this year. The battleground was the Riverdale church at Shousetown, on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The ball started rolling with the appointment of a judicial commission to investigate the trouble between the West End church, the Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo, pastor, and the Ingram church, of which the Rev. D. A. Dunseith is pastor.

This is the first time in many years that the presbytery has appointed a judicial commission to settle church grievances. Some time ago W. P. McCormick, a prominent business man, left Dr. Donehoo's church and later went to Ingram, where he applied for admission to the Presbyterian church. The church laws require that a member shall have a certificate from the church with which he was formerly connected.

Mr. McCormick wrote Dr. Donehoo a polite letter requesting a certificate, and received a reply to the effect that he should call and see the treasurer of the church, after which he (the pastor) would gladly issue the certificate.

Filed a Complaint.

Later Dr. Donehoo was informed that Mr. McCormick was received into the Ingram church on the "confession of faith." Dr. Donehoo became indignant at what he termed an "insult to himself and his congregation," and made a formal complaint last month to the stated clerk of the presbytery. A committee was appointed to sift the affair and reported yesterday that it would be advisable to appoint a judicial commission. Moderator Calhoun then appointed the following as this commission: The Revs. A. H. Jolly, U. S. Greeves, G. P. Atwell, R. B. MacHattion, and Elders W. A. Boothe, C. H. Riggs and William Ablett. This commission, according to the church laws, has power to dispose of the case for all time, and each of the parties must abide by its decision. Speaking of the affair, Dr. Donehoo said to a Gazette reporter: "I have no fight with Mr. Dunseith, but I do not propose to stand by and see the church laws ignored so openly. A bill for only part of a year was sent to Mr. McCormick, whereas, had we conformed to the common custom, we should have demanded a full settlement, which would cover almost three years."

Opposed to a New Church.

By far the most heated discussion provoked yesterday was when the Rev. Dr. J. T. Gibson, representing some 75 people, requested the presbytery to permit him to organize a new church in the East End district, at the corner of Roup street and Friendship avenue. Dr. Gibson has been without a charge for some years. In his report to the presbytery he stated that $17,775 has already been subscribed for the support of the new church.

Dr. Dunn, an elder from the Fourth church, in quite vigorous language opposed the establishment of the proposed church on the ground that it would eventually cause the dissolution of the Fourth church, inasmuch as it is proposed to build in a neighborhood from which the Fourth church has its strongest support.

The Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan spoke in favor of establishing the new congregation, saying it was needed in that part of the city. "If we do not take advantage of this opportunity," he contended, "there are other denominations waiting eagerly for it." Dr. George Chalfant also spoke in favor of it. The speech that roused the presbytery, however, was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Frank W. Sneed, the new pastor of the East Liberty church.

No Evidence of Pledges.

"It appears to me, brethren," he said, "that the one argument against this new congregation is that it has not been begotten, as it were, in the old Presbyterian way. I have heard nothing of religious meetings being called, and a mission opened, and members formally received. I see no evidence here of pledges from those who are to be its members, who are to support it. From all the evidence that has been given us there has been more interest manifested in the financial matter than in the matter of establishing a soul-saving institution."

An attempt was made to have the affair put off until the September meeting, but Dr. Gibson and those favoring the new church movement succeeded in having an adjourned meeting of the presbytery called for June 23, in the First church. The following committee was appointed to investigate the affair and report at the adjourned meeting: The Revs. J. M. Work, R. S. Holmes, H. T. McClelland and A. D. Carlisle; Elders T. D. Davis, W. A. Boothe and H. Plummer McCullough.

The report of the establishment of a new church in Mendelssohn was adopted. The resignations of the Rev. W. S. Miller, of Crafton, and the Rev. Dr. J. M. Maxwell, of Monongahela, were accepted. Dr. Maxwell, however, is retained as pastor emeritus of the Monongahela church, at the request of his congregation. He has been pastor there for sixteen years. The commissioners to the general assembly made favorable reports.

J. H. H. Forsyth, of Bellefield, a graduate of Princeton, was examined and licensed by the presbytery. He will take a vacation for some months and then begin his ministerial duties.

Other Presbyteries.

The Allegheny presbytery of the Presbyterian church, held its meeting yesterday in the First church of Aspinwall. Outside of the Cheswick church case, purely routine work was taken up. In the Cheswick case a commission headed by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay, was appointed to sift it to the bottom and report at the next meeting. The resignation of the Rev. Clarence E. Hills, of Emsworth, was received and the Rev. Samuel C. George of the Steubenville presbytery, admitted. The commissioners to the general assembly reported favorably.

Allegheny presbytery of the United Presbyterian church met in the Hampton church. The resignation of the Rev. W. L. Wilson, of the Tenth church, was received. He has accepted a call to Carnegie. The commissioners to the recently adjourned general assembly reported.

Because it is a sure worm destroyer, it is none the less a strength-giver—Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

Latest News of Society and Gossip of the Home.

"NEWINGTON," the historic home of Mrs. Halsey Williams in Shields, Pa., was visited yesterday by patriotic men and women. The day was the 11th anniversary of the founding of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and together with the anniversary celebration was held the observance of Flag day. The reception hours were from 3 o'clock until 6 and at 4 Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson gave an address.

"Newington" was decorated with a wealth of graceful vines and potted plants, the place of honor, however, being given the flag, which was draped over the doorway. Each afternoon train going from the city to Shields carried guests to Newington, shortly before 4 the largest delegation arriving accompanying the speaker of the afternoon, who was met at the train in Pittsburgh by Dr. and Mrs. William J. Holland. Dr. Holland made the introductory speech. Receiving with Mrs. Williams on the broad verandas and in the drawing rooms were Miss Kate McKnight, who represented Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, the regent of the chapter, who is in mourning; Miss Paulette Guffey, Mrs. William T. Wallace, Mrs. William H. Baltzell, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh and Mrs. J. Dexter Thayer. Refreshments were served after the address in the dining rooms, the committee being assisted by Miss Marie Jennings, Miss Catherine Quay, Miss Helen M. Clark, Miss Edith Darlington Denniston, Miss Elizabeth Utley and Miss Mary Guthrie.

Dr. Holland introduced the speaker, who, although he had prepared a lecture on "The Navy," had decided best to discuss the significance of Flag Day, being observed by the Daughters of the Revolution yesterday. In part he said:

"When we stop to think what a domain is this of ours! What rivers, what hills and vales reaching from shore to shore, what an abundance of riches, oil, gas, metals of all kinds, and everything to make this the grandest nation on the face of the globe. We are the grainery, bakery and butchery of the world.

"Let us notice our institutions. We are the only liberal nation on earth, being ruled by peace and are the one great peace loving nation of the world. This country never compelled its rule over any people—and thank God, no people has ever ever ruled over this country. Other countries are too much given to servitude, while the Americans are engaged in useful pursuits. But think what this wonderful inheritance of ours has cost; think of the self-sacrifice of our forefathers; think how they toiled and sacrificed, and what it cost to colonize this country; what it cost to plant colonies and to win liberty. The civil war was a sociological question, with both sides fighting for what they thought right, and if either side had changed places with the other, they would have done just the same. The marches and battles were hard for the men, but not so hard as was the terrible suspense and agonies of the watching mothers and sisters. We see monuments for the men, but none for the women. Man is not able to raise a fitting monument to the women of '61 to '65, but a Celestial Architect alone is able.

"We are the champions for free institutions in the whole world. We may differ as to how to deal with the Philippines, but we are a unit in that none of us would think of allowing any other country now to rule over those eleven millions of Filipinos. It is in the course of divine Providence that our feet have been planted in the orient. We play a majestic role. Then let us say to Europe, we will help take charge of the yellow and black men; we will help open China; but we will open it as Japan was opened. Let us follow commerce with our influence for peace, and in time we will have the power to command peace wherever it be desired."

The committees appointed to take charge of the arrangements of the annual celebration held yesterday were the following:

Invitations and addresses—Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams, chairman; Mrs. George Heard, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh and Mrs. Upson A. Andrews.

Decorations and music—Mrs. James B. Oliver, chairman; Mrs. James J. Umbstaetter, Mrs. John E. Porter, Mrs. John S. Dickson and Mrs. Theodore W. Nevin.

Refreshments—Mrs. William Walker, chairman; Mrs. Edward Gilmore, Miss Mary Gray, Mrs. Frank Paulson, Mrs. Theodore W. Nevin, Miss Rebecca Shields, Miss Mary K. Guthrie, Miss Lucy P. Bitzinger and Miss Sutia Alberta Rice.

A handsome gown of black net and sequins over white taffeta silk. The yoke is formed of the sequins embroidered on the net in a conventional flower design. The same effect is carried out more elaborately around the top of the skirt. Turquoise blue velvet trims the collar. The sleeves reach to the elbow.

Carter Conservatory Chores.

The annual public concert of the Carter conservatory took place last night at the Alvin theater before a large and interested audience. The commencement exercises of the conservatory occupied the early part of the program and the latter half was unique in including the production of Gounod's charming and seldom heard lyric opera, "Philemon et Baucis," rendered by students and faculty of the conservatory for the benefit of the conservatory scholarship fund.

This opera, which consists of two acts and depicts one of those earthly interludes with which the existence of the ancient gods were frequently enlivened, was given a single performance in Pittsburgh some eight years ago, and is unfamiliar to the great majority of opera goers. The music is deliciously melodious, swinging in characteristic rythm from the very start, and giving excellent opportunity for amateur study, being pleasing without any exceedingly difficult passages, and spirited without making any great demands for dramatic force.

In the first and miscellaneous part of the program, Miss Anna Bramhill, Miss Margaret Whyte and Miss Ruth Thomas at the piano, and Miss Flora Woernley and Miss Rose Goettman in vocal music, gave proof of their fitness for graduation honors. Miss Maud F. Kulp, at the piano, and Miss Virginia Murdoch, in vocal work, both graduates of last year, participated as post graduates. The program included some other eminently pleasing selections, not the least of which was a completed number by Mr. Carter, sung by the conservatory quartet, consisting of Miss Alice Lauinger, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Mrs. M. Corwin Beach and Miss Flora Woernley.

The chorus of the conservatory, numbering some 40 voices, was conspicuous for its excellence, giving the chorus of bacchanalian music with a spirit and precision that gave evidence of careful training, and which might be taken as a model by more than a few of the genuine opera choruses appearing here during the season.

The four characters in the Gounod operetta were capably taken by Miss Olive Beach, who sang Baucis; J. Robert Wright as Philemon, Edward G. Smith as Jupiter, and George A. Kraber as Vulcan. Mr. Carter directed the orchestra, which gave vigorous support to the singers.

Wedding in St. Peter's.

The first wedding in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, since its removal and re-erection in Oakland, takes place today. The bride to enjoy this distinction is Miss Elizabeth Knapp Metcalf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Metcalf, who will marry James Tod of Edinburgh, Scotland. Yesterday afternoon the wedding rehearsal was conducted. The wedding this evening at 7 o'clock will be a large affair and will be followed by a small reception, given by Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf, at their home, Fulton street and Cliff.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Ellen Mendenhall Metcalf, as maid of honor, and six bridesmaids, Miss Sarah Scott, Miss Millie Slagle, Miss Elizabeth Bylesby, Miss Suzanne Riddle, Miss Charlotte Pendleton and Miss Jeannette Knapp of Sandusky, O. Andrew Melvin of Edinburgh, Scotland, accompanied Mr. Tod to this country, and will be his best man. The ushers will be Charles Metcalf and Orlando Paul Metcalf, brothers of the bride; William H. Coster, Ellis Bylesby, Philip Hasbrouck and William G. Doolittle. The bride will be given away by her father, and the marriage ceremony will be performed by the rector of the church, the Rev. Edward H. Ward, D. D.

Last Wednesday Miss Millie Slagle gave a luncheon in honor of the bride-elect and her maids. Miss Lucy Haworth entertained similarly on Friday. On Saturday the entire bridal party were guests of Miss Sarah Scott at a porch party. On Monday, Mrs. George H. Nelson, a sister of Miss Metcalf, gave a supper at the Westmoreland Golf club for the bridal party.

Enlarging the Scope of Work.

A resident, or social settlement house, will be opened on the South Side in September. This is the outcome of the work of the South Side branch of the Young Women's Christian association. Miss Elizabeth McKenzie, the present branch secretary, will be the head resident, and her associates will be three other teachers. A resident housekeeper will be in charge of the building.

The present home of the South Side branch, at No. 1703 Carson street, will be retained as the resident house and the work will be conducted under the auspices of the Central Young Women's Christian association, though the branch will not be so dependent upon the Central association as in the past.

The resident house is centrally located. The first floor is occupied by business offices. On the second floor will be the reception room, library and the apartments of the residents. The third floor will be utilized for classes in domestic art and domestic science, and for club meetings.

During the past year Miss McKenzie has organized two cooking classes, one millinery class, one in dressmaking, two gymnasium and three Bible classes. A singing class has 102 members enrolled. A girls' club, called the Pansy club, made scrapbooks for the little ones in the Children's hospital and some of the newest features is the Boys' American club, with 20 members. In addition to the classes organized, Miss McKenzie has conducted noon services each Wednesday at the glass houses and other industrial establishments on the South Side.

Entertaining a Western Girl.

Mrs. Samuel C. Schoyer and her daughter, Miss Edna Schoyer, gave a garden tea yesterday afternoon which by reason of its delightful out-of-door features was one of the most enjoyable of the season. They received at their home in Dallas avenue, in honor of Miss Nancy Wood of Portland, Ore., who was a classmate of Miss Edna Schoyer at a music school in New York. The house stands in a group of forest trees which afford ample shade over the sloping lawns. Chairs and tables were placed under the trees, bright colored cushions gave piquant color to the vistas in all directions and the large open porches were picturesque with vines and clusters of gay spring flowers.

Mrs. Schoyer, Miss Schoyer and Miss Wood received in the parlors, which were gracefully decorated with ferns and a few white flowers. In the library, pink clover blossoms were massed effectively at the windows, and before the large fireplace, and in the dining room the tables were simply adorned with masses of yellow daisies. The charm of the simple, unconventional decorations, the open doors and windows and the pretty gowns of the hostesses and their guests, made a irresistable ensemble.

Assisting Mrs. Schoyer in entertaining her friends were Mrs. George W. Little, Mrs. M. A. Preston, Mrs. Henry Preston, Miss Brown, Miss Frances Martin and Miss Elizabeth Rodgers.

Delightful Informal Tea.

An informal tea was given yesterday by Mrs. Frank C. Watson of Bellevue to meet her sister, Miss Catherine Watson of Niles, O., who is visiting her. The hostess, her sister, and Mrs. Walter Kellogg, a recent bride of Bellevue, received together, assisted by Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Frank Harvey, Mrs. Peter H. Housley, Mrs. Harry Barnett, Misses Gertrude and Helen Bailey, Miss Harvey, Miss Elizabeth Carlisle and Miss Mary Kerr. The house and the broad porches, screened for the occasion, were prettily decorated with flowers and palms. Large red roses and red peonies were used in all the rooms but the dining room, where color tones of blue and white were carried out with iris and white roses. An informal dinner for the aids followed in the evening, after which there was dancing for a few of the young people. An orchestra furnished the music during the afternoon and evening.

Miss Casey's Artistic Work.

At the Pittsburgh conservatory rooms, in Fourth avenue, yesterday afternoon, a song recital of unusual interest was given by the pupils of Mr. Freni, vocal master of the conservatory corps. The program included several operatic and concert arias and the beautiful trio of the Rhine daughters from "Gotterdammerung," sung by Mrs. Myron Stowell, Miss Frances Casey and Miss MacLean. Miss Casey was conspicuous by reason of a rare vocal gift, which will in all likelihood place her among the noted singers of the day. She sang besides the Wagner music the famous contralto aria from "Les Huguenots," in French, with an artistic finish, which gave no evidence of her youth, and with a dramatic force which strongly emphasized the beauty of her voice and indicated a breadth of musical conception worthy of an experienced singer.

Reception at the Home for Women.

The managers of the Christian Home for Women will hold their annual reception tomorrow afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5, at the home, No. 1423 Locust street, Allegheny. Sterlin, Mrs. A. M. Cavitt, Mrs. John McClure, Mrs. Washington Jarvis, Mrs. John Blair, Mrs. A. M. A. Balph, Mrs. Robert Latham, Mrs. Samuel McKee, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Joseph L. President's Day in Wilkinsburg.

One of the prettiest social events of the season was the "President's Day Reception," at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Armstrong, on Lexington avenue, Homewood, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Wilkinsburg Woman's club, of which Mrs. Armstrong is the retiring president. There were 150 guests present, including the presidents of other woman's clubs in Pittsburgh and vicinity. In her capacity as the retiring president, Mrs. Armstrong made an appropriate address, as did also Mrs. Roland A. Ralph, the newly elected president. Dainty refreshments were served and there were outdoor features which made the occasion one long to be remembered. The club colors, violet and white, were prominent.

Outing at Kennywood Park.

The Women's Press club had an outing last evening at Kennywood park, which was thoroughly enjoyable. Supper was served in the casino. The evening was spent in a delightful tour of all the novel and interesting features found within the park gates, concluding with the concert in the music pavilion by the Ladies Symphony orchestra of Boston. The excursion was taken under the direction and through the courtesy of A. S. McSwigan, connected with the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Notes gladly the growing prevalence of the shirt waist suit for morning and business wear. The old rule of tailor-made gowns for the business woman had never the wide application which most advisers give it, and the shirt waist suit, with its eternal possibilities of freshness and its cool comfort for a hot day, is suitable to all times and purposes. One of the library assistants wore a dainty little affair in blue pin-dotted duck not long ago, made with the regular plain skirt and a blouse whose edges zigzagged at the closing, each point edged with narrow white braid. In one of the big stores a pretty shopper in a similar frock was noticed lately, only that the ground work of this was brown linen and the trimming red braid, not more than an eighth of an inch in width. These gowns are so simple in the making that the veriest amateur, who is able to follow a pattern carefully, may make them presentable, and when carefully selected as to color they look smart for ordinary wear, any time while daylight lasts.

Shirtwaist Hats—
Have become a component part of summer wardrobe, and when selected with a careful eye to outline and simplicity they add the unquestionable smartness of suitability to a summer costume. Some of the prettiest of this year are made of straw in the burnt brown shades, trimmed with a drapery of linen or open-meshed lace in the linen tints, and either a quill or a few field flowers to add softness.

Silk Stockings—
In white, clocked with black, are much affected by the "girl in white" this season. With low shoes and the lacy ruffles of a frou-frou summer gown, they are smart as well as dainty.

A Poppy Fan—
Carried to the opera recently by an elderly woman was painted on gauze with ordinary oil paints, made very thin and put on with delicate touch. The fan is black, the poppies scarlet, and so thin was the paint that the black net figure of the fan foundation is plainly perceptible through the petals of the flower, giving an impression of staining or embroidery, which is very attractive. Painted by amateur hands, it rivaled many an imported article in its neighborhood, and contained a whole host of hints for the girl who can handle a brush and has a good eye for decorative effects. The design is a unique feature in itself, being copied bodily from one of the floral wall papers so popular nowadays.

For Cool Summer Days—
Nothing in the shirt waist line will be so popular as black wash silk, and in most of the smart shops these may be obtained at moderate prices, though in very modish patterns. The tucked shoulder yoke is a favorite model and one pretty affair has a line of deep tucks in front, while the edges, unfastened, are bound with another color, and pinned lightly here and there with small gold pins.

For the Hair—
New wired bows or loops of velvet ribbon are shown in one of the smart shops. These are intended to be worn with summer evening gowns or light frocks, and will be fastened just in front of the knot of hair, rising above its peak and giving height to the pompadour waves in front. They come in all shades of the velvet ribbon, but are especially pretty in a sort of sap-green and a delicate heliotrope.

For Morning Wear—
The white or pale tinted morning jacket with a lace trimmed petticoat is the favorite thing for strict house wear. Young girls seldom wear these, donning the more formal shirt waist frocks immediately on rising, but matrons and elderly women are permitted more latitude and may indulge in the laced and frilled breakfast jackets to their hearts' content.

A Picturesque Girl—
Sauntered down Fifth avenue yesterday wearing a hat of soft brown straw, so soft and pliable that its brim undulated at every step. It had no trimming save a half-wreath of purple flag blooms so real looking that one was tempted to pluck them from their resting place. A knot of violet velvet was set under the brim at one side and the whole looked as if it might have been borrowed from a canvas in this year's salon.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT PITTSBURGH COUNTRY CLUB

Many East End Tots Had a Rare Day of Jollification in the Open Air.

NEARLY 300 LITTLE GUESTS

A Band Concert, Hurdy-Gurdies, Ponies, Swings, Ping-Pong and Punch and Judy Shows Were Provided for the Children.

It was a gala day for the children of Pittsburgh yesterday. Almost 300 young representatives of many prominent, influential and wealthy families attended the second annual frolic on the grounds of the Pittsburgh Country club.

The occasion was known as the second annual children's day of the club. The officers and directors of the Country club contributed to the preliminary arrangements, and the handsome clubhouse and spacious grounds were in splendid attire. About 500 invitations were sent out and nearly 300 children accepted. No day could have been more propitious.

There was not an accident. From the child six months old to 12 years, they were all there. A small army of nurses, maids and governesses looked after the welfare of the young. The dresses were features of the affair. Each little maid had a new gown and every little boy wore his newest suit.

The interior of the club house was draped with southern smilax, greens and palms, while in almost every nook were placed vases containing cut flowers. The dressing rooms were decorated, but the most gorgeous floral displays were in the dining rooms. The tables were fairly loaded with fragrant flowers.

The decorations on the lawn were simple. Large Japanese lanterns were hung on lines of rope. After dark the lanterns were lighted and the scene was brilliant. The hours of the entertainment were from 2 o'clock until 10:30. Shortly after noon the first carriages began to arrive and from that time until nightfall they came by the scores.

The Reception Committee.

Mrs. Alexander M. Jenkinson, Mrs. Edward H. Brainard and Mrs. Albert J. Logan formed the reception committee. These ladies were assisted by their husbands, who are officers of the organization. The children were given free range of the club's property.

Luncheon was served in the dining rooms at 4 o'clock. A lemonade stand in the center of the lawn did a thriving business all day.

The Fourteenth Regiment band furnished music, and always was there a crowd around the band on the lawn. The children had their favorite tunes and the leader of the band was forced to yield to many requests for a repetition of certain numbers or the addition of others.

Rag-time ditties had the call, and of all the tunes played "Ain't That a Shame" appeared to be the favorite. It was repeated time and again. The music from "Floradora" also proved popular.

The Punch and Judy show was a leading attraction. It was given several times during the afternoon and evening, and the owner had as large an audience as he wanted at every performance. Swings were in operation and hammocks had been provided for the youngsters who were too wee to try the swings.

Ping-pong tables were placed on the lawn and croquet and many other games furnished amusement. Shetland ponies and carts and donkeys were provided, and there was nothing that seemed to delight the youngsters more than rides on these little animals. Two large hurdy-gurdies in the hollow below the club house pleased the children greatly.

Objected to Early Leaving.

The children objected to going home early, and it was after 8 o'clock before all had left the club house. Then the directors in charge provided entertainment for the older persons, and thus wound up a great day at the Pittsburgh Country club.

The directors of the club in charge of yesterday's entertainment were: President Alexander M. Jenkinson, Richard B. Mellon, J. S. Atterbury and Frank M. Laughlin.

The patronesses of the affair were: Mrs. J. L. Dawson, Speer, Mrs. Henry C. Frick, Mrs. J. McClurg Hays, Mrs. William S. Dalzell, Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter, Mrs. Alexander M. Jenkinson, Mrs. Richard B. Mellon, Mrs. John G. Bennett, Mrs. W. Harry Brown, Mrs. Andrew W. Mellon, Mrs. Charles A. Wolfe, Mrs. Albert J. Logan, Mrs. Lawrence C. Phipps, Mrs. Charles E. Clapp, Mrs. William McConway, Mrs. Orden M. Edwards, Mrs. Reuben Miller, Mrs. William Larimer Jones, Mrs. George M. Laughlin, Jr., Mrs. Bruce Millard, Mrs. William Henry Schoen, Mrs. Wallace H. Rowe, Mrs. Horace T. Dravo and Mrs. Edward H. Brainard.

Among the other prominent Pittsburgh women present were Mrs. Robert C. Hall, Mrs. Charles Arbuthnot, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Baggaley, Mrs. William McKelvey, Mrs. Alexander McKaig, Mrs. William R. Crabbe, Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mrs. Harry Sellers, Miss Hall, Miss Mabel Shannon, Miss Mabel Fry, Mrs. Rafferty, Mrs. Harry Sage and Mrs. Victor Herbert.

WRIGHT SHOWN THROUGH BOOKS BY OPERATORS

United States Labor Commissioner Spends Two Hours With the Presidents of the Anthracite Coal Companies—Investigation Over.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 10.—In the late afternoon Commissioner Wright had a two hours' conference with President Baer of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, President Olyphant of the Delaware & Hudson Company and President Truesdale of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad.

Mr. Wright said that the books had been opened and he had secured all facts and figures and now had sufficient information of both sides, which would probably not necessitate his going to the coal fields. He declared the investigation is practically over. He said he expected to spend the evening with friends and would hold no conference.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, was at the offices of the National Civic Federation, of which he is a member, today. He said he had gone there to get his mail and answer it. He had not seen Labor Commissioner Wright since last night.

Ralph Easley, secretary of the National Civic Federation, on being asked today as to the progress of the anthracite coal strike, replied:

"We have nothing further to do with the matter, although we are spoken of in connection with it. Since our overtures were rejected we have withdrawn from all participation, and the matter is now in the hands of Carroll D. Wright.

MANY JOIN STRIKE IN WEST VIRGINIA

Secretary of Miners' Union at Coopers Found Dead—Coroner's Verdict Is Suicide.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June 10.—Fewer men were at work in the Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio coal fields today than yesterday. The strikers are gradually gaining ground, and indications are that within a couple of days practically every operation in the southern district will be at a standstill.

Wayne Anderson, secretary of the United Mine Workers' local at Coopers, was found dead near that town this morning, a bullet having penetrated his skull. In the right hand was a revolver with one chamber empty. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide, but there are many who believe Anderson was foully dealt with. He was an enthusiastic striker and had previously been in trouble.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., June 10.—The prospect of miners in the Fairmont-Clarksburg district going out are considered more serious than at first. Most of the Fairmont Coal Company's mines are running today, but the strikers have gained strength and strike sentiment is stronger. Twenty Hungarian Plumlickinick miners quit work this morning. Only a few men are working in the Lynch mine at Mt. Clare. More miners are also out at Shinnston. Of the independent mines some are entirely closed.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., June 10.—Marching and sleeping in the open is telling upon the striking miners, hundreds of whom threaten to return to their homes. The leaders told them that several hundred more would join the ranks tomorrow and they promised to remain a day longer. Probably 50 strikers have joined the marchers since yesterday. There are about 225 in line now, and tonight they are again in camp at Monogah.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 10.—More men were at work today in the Kanawha and New River field than yesterday and it is expected that more will be at work tomorrow.

OPERATORS PUBLISH HISTORY OF TROUBLE

Give Reasons for Declining to Raise Miners' Wages or to Accept Arbitration.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—The presidents of the coal roads immediately affected by the strike of the anthracite miners made public today letters and telegrams which have passed between the operatives and President Mitchell and other representatives of the United Mine Workers.

The first letters in the list are those of presidents of the various coal companies giving reasons for not conferring with the national officers of the miners' union on the wage scale. They said that more trouble had occurred since the anthracite miners had become unionized than ever before; that there is continual unrest; that the producing capacity of the mines had been greatly reduced, and that the production of the mines was thereby greatly lessened. All declared their willingness to meet their employes, but said it was impossible to make the same arrangement for the entire region.

Mr. Mitchell then wired asking for a conference, and the replies were all that they would meet employes only.

The statement then gives a history of the strike from the time of the Shamokin convention to May 5, including the first conference of the coal companies' representatives and miners with the civic federation.

On May 8 President Mitchell wired to the operators suggesting, first, that the "industrial branch of the National Civic Federation select a committee of five persons to arbitrate and decide all or any of the questions in dispute, the award of such board of arbitration to be binding upon both parties and effective for a period of one year.

"Second. Should the above proposition be unacceptable to you, we propose that a committee composed of Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Potter and one other person whom these two may select, be authorized to make an investigation into the wages and conditions of employment existing in the anthracite field, and if they decide that the average annual wages received by anthracite mine workers are sufficient to enable them to live, maintain and educate their families in a manner comfortable to established American standards and consistent with American citizenship we agree to withdraw our claims for higher wages and more equitable conditions of employment, providing that the anthracite mine operators agree to comply with any recommendations the above committee may make affecting the earnings and conditions of labor of their employes."

In declining to accept this proposition President Baer says the profits of the business would not warrant an increase in wages, and adds:

"Anthracite mining is a business, and not a religious, sentimental or academic proposition. The laws organizing the companies I represent in express terms impose the business management on the president and directors. I could not, if I would, delegate this business management to even so highly a respectable body as the Civic Federation, nor can I call to my aid as experts in the mixed problem of business and philanthropy the eminent prelates you have named."

MITCHELL RETURNS.

All Quiet at Strike Headquarters During His Absence—Slight Disturbances Are Reported.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 10.—National President Mitchell of the mine workers' union, who went to New York yesterday to meet Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, returned to strike headquarters at midnight tonight. There was no change in the situation in this region. It was a very quiet day.

There continue to be acts of lawlessness, which is rather annoying to the companies. There was stone throwing and firing of revolvers today in the vicinity of the William A. colliery of the Lehigh Valley company at Duryea. The crowd dispersed before anyone was injured.

As the result of the assault upon a night watchman at Nanticoke last Saturday, several persons, among them three women, were arrested today and held in bail to keep the peace. More arrests for the same assault are threatened by the company for whom the watchman worked.

HELD AN ALL-DAY SESSION

Allegheny County W. C. T. U. Indorses Supposed Efforts of City Officials to Suppress Vice.

The supposed efforts of the city officials in suppressing vice were commended yesterday at the quarterly meeting of the Allegheny County W. C. T. U., held in the Ames Methodist Episcopal church, Hazelwood. Mrs. A. M. Hammett, in speaking of the work of the social purity department, said that she had called on several city officials for the purpose of securing better police protection for young girls who go to the parks, had been received very kindly by them and informed that the police were already looking after the matter. She said Superintendent John McAleese was doing a great work in clearing the streets of disreputable characters.

State Superintendent Mrs. George spoke of the bill now before congress for the enactment of a Sunday law for the District of Columbia, and a motion prevailed that each local union in the county send to the congressmen from this county a petition in support of the measure. It was decided to hold a basket picnic in Highland park on June 24.

The convention was in session throughout the day. Mrs. H. H. Forrest presided and Mrs. J. P. Gettman had charge of the music. Devotional services were conducted by Mrs. A. F. Bryce, Mrs. M. A. Injured Operator Called for Help by Wire; Catholic Total Abstinence Union Elects Officers

PLEADED FOR HELP BY WIRE

An Injured Telegraph Operator Collapses at Post of Duty.

SET SIGNALS FOR TRAINS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEADVILLE, PA., June 10.—"Send another operator; I'm hurt; I'm bleeding to death," was the disconnected message that came into the Meadville telegraph office last Saturday night. The sender was Operator Ferris, employed as an extra in the telegraph office of the Erie railroad at Millvillage. He proved his heroism by his courageous struggle to prevent a possible crash of trains on the road, although he himself had been the victim of a serious accident. Bruised and bleeding, he struggled to acquaint the office here with his condition, and when just on the verge of collapse he set the semiphore to stop approaching trains.

It was a little after midnight when the clearly nervous dispatch was ticked into the Meadville office from the Millvillage tower. Then came a pause of about 45 minutes, when Millvillage reported the passing of a train, and then the sender went on to say that he was the agent; that young Ferris had been terribly hurt by falling into a culvert and had been taken to his (the agent's) house.

Ferris had tripped on the semiphore signal wires and pitched headlong over the end of the culvert, cutting a terrible gash in his head. He lay unconscious for a time, but later managed to get back to the tower and send the message; then, his mind wandering, he went outside and was discovered shortly afterward leaning against a fence, completely dazed and covered with blood.

The young man had set the semiphore to stop the train before leaving the station. When the train came up an investigation was made, which revealed a trail of blood leading up the stairs of the tower. There was blood on the floor and a great pool on the telegraph table, where the wounded operator had laid his aching head—but the operator was gone.

A messenger was sent for the agent, whose home is near the station, and when he came a search was instituted, which resulted in finding young Ferris.

The first inference was that a murder had been committed, and the nerves of the train crew were given a shock which will not soon be forgotten.

Young Ferris is a relative of Train Dispatcher John O'Neal of this city.

SUIT IS DISCONTINUED.

TRENTON, N. J., June 10.—The patent infringement suit of the Rodgers Ballast Car Company against the Pressed Steel Car Company was discontinued in the United States circuit court today. The suit was on a dumping device. Judge Kirkpatrick would not allow the suit to be discontinued without prejudice.

TOOK MORPHINE TO DIE TOGETHER

Young Man Is Dead, but His Girl Companion Will Recover.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEADVILLE, PA., June 10.—Daniel L. Long committed suicide this morning by taking morphine and Miss Cecile Vanburen, who spent the night with him at the Crawford hotel, has been in convulsions nearly all day from a similar dose. Long was 19 and the girl 17 years old. The latter has been here only a short time and refused to divulge her previous home.

Long was a fireman on the Erie railroad and a hard drinker. He was married a year ago, but lived only a short time with his wife, who is head waitress at a hotel in this city. Long and the girl had been acquainted only a few weeks. At the Crawford hotel Long registered the girl as his wife. On the way to the hotel they purchased a drachm of morphine and during the night Long took a dose and gave his companion some of the drug.

About 7 o'clock in the morning he was taken violently sick and the girl summoned assistance, which arrived just as he died.

Miss Vanburen was taken first to jail and then to the City hospital. She will recover. She says the plan to die together was agreed upon by both, and on a box in the room was written: "We die for love—Dan and Cecile." The affair was investigated by the coroner and a verdict of suicide was rendered.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 10.—The Republican senatorial convention held today to nominate candidates for state senator, who, if elected, will vote for United States senator, split and the delegates held two conventions. Friends of Senator Scott nominated L. J. Murphy of St. Marys and T. A. Brown of Elizabeth, while friends of J. L. Caldwell nominated C. T. Caldwell of Parkersburg and Anthony Smith of Harrisville.

Both conventions were held at the same time and place and with many revolvers in sight a serious outbreak was avoided only by hard work.

The Scott chairman was ordered from the platform. Three big sergeants-at-arms started to put him off and a riot seemed imminent, but he stood his ground till he had taken the vote and announced the nomination of Murphy and Brown. Then he adjourned the Scott convention and the other one proceeded.

OHIO QUARREL DRAGGED UP TO THE PRESIDENT

Congressman Burton Insists on Probing of Officials in Cleveland.

TOO ACTIVE IN POLITICS

Senator Hanna Equally Determined That These Men Shall Not Be Investigated—Grosvenor and Foraker Also Heard on the Matter.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Senator Hanna had a long conference with the president today and continued to talk with the chief executive until some time after the cabinet officers had assembled. The senator, when asked regarding the charges of Representative Burton against federal officials in Cleveland and his threatened withdrawal from the race for congress in the Cleveland district, said:

"I do not wish to criticise Mr. Burton, but I do not believe his charges are well founded, nor do I desire to make that subject a national matter. The whole thing is absurd."

Senator Hanna declared that Representative Burton never spoke one word to him about the matter until last Friday morning. As the election of a county chairman was to take place at 2 o'clock that afternoon, the senator said he sent a telegram to Cleveland, asking that a compromise or agreement be effected if possible. The telegraph people, however, got his initials wrong in the transmission of the dispatch, which caused the recipient of the message to regard it as a "fake," thereby paying no attention to it.

Senator Hanna said the civil service commission had examined into Mr. Burton's charges and had failed to find anything in them that constituted a violation of the civil service laws. As a result of this examination, the senator said, the president had concluded not to send letters to the Cleveland officials censuring them for pernicious activity in politics. With some warmth, Senator Hanna said: "The mere fact that a man holds public office does not necessarily mean that he should resign the rights of citizenship."

Senator Hanna is going to Ohio shortly to attend the wedding of his daughter, and James R. Garfield of the civil service commission is to accompany him, but Mr. Garfield is going solely on social and personal business. The senator scouted the idea of any falling out with the president on this matter, and seemed to feel that he had been put in a false light by Mr. Burton's action.

Representative Grosvenor also saw the president. He expressed the opinion that there would be no sensational investigations of charges against federal officials in Cleveland. He thought the whole matter would be satisfactorily settled.

Senator Foraker saw the president later in the day, and it is said made several very plain statements concerning the political situation in Ohio. Mr. Foraker was earnest in opposing what he considered an unwarranted interference by his colleague in the senate and others who hold official positions, in affairs in the Buckeye state, and thinks the president should at once investigate the matter. While the president listened courteously, it is not learned that he promised anything in the way of investigation.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

DALZELL ON CABLE BILL.

Opposes Government Construction and Will Introduce Substitute for Private Enterprise.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—The house today, 100 to 70, defeated the bill to transfer forest reserves to the agricultural department and to authorize the president to establish fish and game preserves.

The house then adopted an order for the consideration of the Coriiss Pacific cable bill, and for the remainder of the afternoon listened to the author of the measure argue in its favor.

Mr. Dalzell announced that he was opposed to the government building a cable to the Philippines. He favored the construction of an American cable by American capital, and gave notice that at the proper time he would offer a substitute, to authorize the president to contract for the construction of a cable under certain conditions. The minority of the commerce committee opposes the Coriiss bill on the ground that the Commercial Pacific Company is building a cable which is to be laid by 1905.

SIX MORE WARSHIPS.

But the Senate Decides Against Uncle Sam's Yards Building Any of Them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—The senate today passed the naval bill, carrying more than $78,000,000. It includes provisions for two first-class battleships, two first-class armored cruisers and two gunboats, but strikes out the house provision that one of each shall be built at government yards.

When consideration was resumed of the isthmian canal question, Mr. Turner delivered an argument in support of the Nicaragua route. He maintained that the new Panama company could not pass a clear title.

Anti-Anarchy Bill in Peril.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—The house bill providing for the protection of the president was referred by the senate today to the judiciary committee, although Mr. Hoar, chairman of that committee, thought it would be impossible to get action on it at this section if the committee has to consider it.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Brig. Gens. Sumner H. Lincoln and Samuel M. Whiteside, recently promoted, have been retired.

The house committee on military affairs decided adversely to the bill to make Maj. Gen. John R. Brooke a lieutenant general.

Representatives Dalzell and Graham returned from Pittsburgh today and were warmly congratulated by their colleagues upon their renomination.

Senator McCumber introduced a bill providing for a permanent American exposition building at Shanghai, China.

The British embassy received a letter in behalf of 10 Boers at Denver, Col., asking for transportation to South Africa. The embassy will inform the British foreign office.

DRIVERS WILL TRY RETALIATION PLAN

Object to Teams Being Held Up for License in Adjoining Boroughs.

There is trouble between the transfer men aand the boroughs of Sewickley, Homestead and Duquesne. If the committee appointed last night by the Draymen's Protective association has any influence, there will be more trouble.

Several times recently teams owned by members of the association have been captured by officers of the boroughs named, and the drivers compelled to pay before they could move their loads, or even get their empty wagons home again. It has been heretofore customary for a team from either of the cities to do hauling in any of the boroughs if a license had been paid in the cities and likewise no license was asked of a team from the boroughs if a license had been paid where the team belonged.

The only time this was not so was at McKees Rocks, some years ago. Then officers watched for funerals, and arrested every driver of a hack to compel the taking out of a license.

The Draymen's Protective association met last night at their hall, No. 409 Market street. All business was suspended, because it was an indignation meeting. A number of the members told of having teams held up for license in the boroughs.

The matter was referred to a committee of three, consisting of W. S. Haugh, Dennis Shanahan and Walter Ritchie. They were instructed to see the treasurers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and urge that the ordinance officers be instructed to retaliate, to catch every team from the boroughs named and to collect from them the full license.

The nearest thing to a certain Cough Cure, is Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant; and it is deceptively cheap; it takes so little of it to do the work.

BIG WAREHOUSE SYSTEM WILL COST $2,000,000

Details of Plans of the Reorganized Henderson-Johnston Company.

NO STEEL IN FRAME WORK

Two Corporations With a Combined Capital of $800,000 Have Already Been Chartered—The Capitalization Will Be Increased.

The South Side warehouse enterprise, exclusively outlined in The Gazette a few months ago, has taken tangible shape. Official announcement was made yesterday by the heads of the Henderson-Johnston Company, which is being liquidated and its business taken over by the Keystone Commercial Company, that a system of 22 modern warehouses will be spread over the more than four acres of ground along Carson street owned by these interests. These will be ready for occupancy by March of next year.

The investment is conservatively estimated at $2,000,000. The warehouses will be of an average length of 130 feet and 30 feet in width. Most of them will be six stories high. Besides these, there will be a terminal building, 132x180 feet, which will stand at the river front along with a great stretch of docks occupying the government grants to the leaders of the enterprise. This terminal station and the docks will be between the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad tracks and the water edge of the river.

The entire system of terminals and warehouses will be equipped with a complete system of conveying and hoisting apparatus, propelled by electric power. By this system, river freight may be taken through the terminal building and loaded on the railroad cars, or from the railroad cars to the river craft without reloading.

Plans are being prepared for the buildings by Architect Charles Bickel. Fourteen of them will skirt a new street extending from Carson street to the river front. This will be known as Terminal avenue and will be 40 feet wide. The avenue will be east of the present Henderson-Johnston warehouse, the property on the other side of the street being that recently purchased by the Tradesmens National bank. This property extends up to the Panhandle bridge.

Big Warehouse System.

In front of the Terminal avenue warehouses and facing Carson street will be eight other warehouses. These will vary in ground dimensions from 20x150 to 40x150 feet. The string of storage houses along Terminal avenue will be from 20x150 to 40x150 feet. Swinging around from the present railroad yards along the river will be a yard system directly communicating with all the warehouses. The railroad tracks will communicate with the Terminal avenue warehouses on their east ends and the Carson street warehouses on the north ends.

All the buildings will avoid the steel superstructure of modern construction. Those in interest are making this departure from modern methods in the belief there will result a saving, because with the tremendous weight that will be held floor upon floor even an ordinary fire would ruin the entire building by warping the steel frame, while with the old-fashioned heavy stone and brick construction proposed there would be no such damage. On this account steel will be eliminated from the walls.

Within the past week the River and Railroad Terminal Company of Pittsburgh was chartered in Harrisburg. There was also incorporated under the laws of this state the Keystone Commercial Company. The Keystone company, with capital of $200,000, takes over the old business of the Henderson-Johnston company. The other is to operate the warehouses and the river transfer system. Its present capitalization is $600,000, but this is soon to be increased to cover the entire investment and expenditure.

The Men in Control.

Capt. James A. Henderson, president of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line; George W. C. Johnston, who was president and treasurer of the Henderson-Johnston company; J. I. Buchanan, the banker and trustee of the estate of J. J. Vandergritt; George M. Laughlins, of Jones & Laughlins, limited, and president of the Keystone Bank of Pittsburgh, and George Heard, president of the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, together form the control in the two companies. The Keystone company will continue the storage and elevator business in the building formerly occupied by the Henderson-Johnston Company, the first elevator in the country to be erected with steel grain bins. J. I. Buchanan has been elected president of the River and Railroad Terminal Company; James A. Henderson, vice-president, and George W. C. Johnston, secretary and treasurer.

The property occupied has a combined frontage of 261 feet in Carson street and a depth of 735 feet across the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad tracks to the river. Within two years, and after the Mt. Washington tunnel, upon which work has been started has been driven the warehouses will probably be in the center of population of Pittsburgh.

In the terminal station there will be maintained a clerical and laboring force sufficient to handle the business of the warehouses and load and unload cars without cost to the occupants of the warehouses. Thus the platforms of the warehouses will practically form freight stations and will serve to eliminate heavy teaming costs. The warehouse system will connect with both the Vanderbilt and the Pennsylvania railroad lines, and thereby with all the belts around the two cities.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 10.—Despite the threatening weather, fully 5,000 people gathered at Washington park, Brooklyn, this afternoon to witness the first game of the Pittsburgh-Brooklyn series, and they were well paid, as the game was anybody's up to the last man was put out.

It proved to be one of the most exciting games played in Brooklyn this year. The champions not only outbatted the Hanlonites, but outfielded them. Doheny letting them down with five hits, but these they managed to bunch in the second and third innings, along with errors by Leach and Wagner, thereby scoring five runs and winning the game, exactly as the New Yorks managed to do in the game yesterday, practically putting the game away in two innings.

Smith Was There With the Bat.

Harry Smith led his team with the stick, hitting safely the first three times he came to bat, and was a big factor in the run-getting for his side.

For the Pirates, in the third inning, Smith placed a beautiful single in left. Doheny got Flood all tangled up on a hard hit grounder, which resulted in the latter throwing the ball in the bleachers, Smith and Doheny both tallying on the error. Davis hit to Hughes and died at first. Clarke rolled a hot one past Flood. Beaumont had the Brooklyn infield in the air on a well placed bunt, but Wagner and Bransfield could not get the ball outside of the diamond, both proving easy outs.

The sixth inning netted the champions one more run, when Dahlen made a mess of Bransfield's hit. Ritchey and Leach both hit hard to second base and were disposed of by Flood and McCreery, Bransfield reaching third on these two outs. Smith followed up his good work with the stick by landing on the ball for a double, scoring Bransfield. Doheny ended the run-getting this inning on a little hit to Hughes.

The Pirates Fought Hard.

In the eighth inning things looked as though the champions would tie the score at least, as Wagner, the first man at bat, contributed a neat single. Bransfield died on a pop fly at first, but Ritchey was more successful and planted a single in right field, sending Wagner to third. Leach forced Ritchey at second, but Wagner scored on the play. Smith failed to make a hit this time and died at first, ending the run-getting for the Pittsburghs.

The Hanlonites started the scoring for their side in the second inning by making two runs. Ritchey and Bransfield disposed of McCreery, and Dahlen waited for four wide ones and got his base. Flood sacrificed and Leach made a mess of Irwin's grounder, Dahlen getting to third. Irwin stole second on a close decision. Ahern's unexpected single over second scored both Dahlen and Irwin, which ended the run-getting for this inning.

Wagner Made a Bad Mess.

Dolan, the first batter up for Brooklyn in the next inning, uncorked a single. Keeler was easily disposed of by Wagner, but Shreckard worked the old trick of getting hit by an easy one and took his base. McCreery hit to Wagner, but he could not hold it, which filled the bases. Dahlen hit for two bases, sending Dolan and Shreckard in, McCreery reaching third. Dahlen started to steal, but was nailed at least 10 feet off the bag. McCreery ended the run-getting for Brooklyn by scoring on a wild pitch. The score:

WILSON AND NELSON.

Local Rider Meets Eastern Wonder June 21—Champion vs. Freeman on Saturday.

The biggest event provided by the Colosseum track so far, at least for the enthusiastic local admirers of Lester Wilson, is fixed definitely now for June 21, when Joe Nelson, the racing sensation of the present season, will be seen here against the fast Pittsburgh boy. Nelson has been breaking records right and left behind pace and is regarded in the east as the biggest sensation since Jimmy Michael.

Howard Freeman, the holder of the 10-mile motor paced record made at Baltimore and the five-mile record made in Pittsburgh last Saturday, races in Washington D. C., today, but will return to furnish the star event for Saturday night, when he meets Albert Champion in a three-heat 30-mile motor paced race. The world's 10-mile record held by Freeman is 14:47, and the five 7:11 2-5.

Albert Champion in the four-cornered race last Wednesday at Boston defeated Elkes, Floyd McFarland and Bobbie Walthour in 37.15, three world's record for 25 miles. Champion will arrive in Pittsburgh Thursday.

There will be two amateur events on Saturday night, the first a one-half mile race for boys who have not taken any prizes at the Colosseum. The other event will be a two-thirds of a mile open to all amateurs. Both races will be handicaps and the entries will close at 6 o'clock Thursday night.

FIRST CRICKET MATCH.

Cleveland Team to Play Here—New Player for Field Club.

The first inter-city cricket match of the season will be played here on Saturday between the Pittsburgh Field club eleven and the team of the Cleveland Cricket club. A close contest is looked for and it is one of the big events of the year for local enthusiasts of the English game.

The Field club is jubilant over the acquisition this season of W. Thayer, a cricket player, formerly for the Merion Cricket club of Philadelphia. He was the maker of one of the highest scores against the Gentlemen of England when here. S. B. Lohman, a noted English professional, coaching the locals, is another addition this season. Saturday's line up will be: Harvey Penn, S. Harding, F. H. Taylor, W. Thayer, B. Robertson, S. B. Lohman, W. Thomas, T. Watkins, C. C. Preston, Rev. A. T. Campbell and W. Liddell.

Distinguished Spectators at a West Point Ball Game.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 10.—The military academy baseball team played the Yale university nine here today and was defeated by the score of 15 to 4. A distinguished crowd witnessed the game. Gen. Nelson A. Miles was conspicuous in the sectional grandstand erected on the plain, and near him sat Gen. Longstreet. The cadets' fielding and general team work were very poor. Score by innings:

CLEVER BASEBALL BY CUBAN GIANTS

THE COLORED TEAM PLAYED ALL AROUND HOMESTEAD NINE.

Big Crowd Was Out and Saw H. L. A. C. Treated to a Heavy Coat of Whitewash—Jordan of the Giants Swatted the Ball Hard.

The Cuban Giants made it three straight from Homestead at Steel Works park yesterday. The contest was a fine exhibition, the visitors especially putting up a brilliant contest, taking all chances and making few errors, when their chances were considered. The H. L. A. C. could not place their hits where the active opponents could not get them, and errors were made which were largely responsible for the score run up against them. The largest crowd of the season saw the game. Score:

WASH.-JEFF. WON.

Carlisle's Team Just Saved a Shutout—Was the Best Game of the Season.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—Pop Warner's famous team of Redskins from Carlisle, were taken into camp by the Washington and Jefferson team this afternoon at College park, by the score of 6 to 3. The game was by far the best played here this year, and the attendance was the largest. The game was stopped in the middle of the eighth inning to allow the Indians to catch a train, and had the score reverted to the end of the seventh inning the visitors would have been whitewashed, as their only runs were made in the eighth. Washington and Jefferson however, allowed the score to stand and thus saved Carlisle from a shut-out. The Washington and Jefferson players did not make an error during the game, while the Redskins fell down but twice, and both were hard chances. Ridgely pitched great ball for Washington and Jefferson, allowing but seven hits and striking out five men. Decora also pitched good ball for Carlisle, but W. and J.'s hits were bunched. Johnston at second put up the best game for the Indians. The score:

SHARON, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—Jamestown hit Sharon's pitcher at the right time today and won easily. Moyer was relieved by Milford, but did little better. THE TRANSIENTS MUST DEPEND ON EUROPEAN IRON

No More of This Year's Possible Production on This Side for Sale.

IMPORTS QUITE A HELP

More Than Half of Current Production in Schuylkill and Lehigh Valleys Cut Off by Anthracite Strike. Steel Bond Litigation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 10.—Archer Brown of the well-known firm of Rogers, Brown & Co. commented in an interesting manner today on the pig iron situation and the outlook.

"There is," said he, "practically no pig iron of this year's possible production remaining for sale. To be exact, I should say that less than 2 per cent of the total possible production for 1902 remains unsold. The only pig iron now available and the only iron that will be available for the remainder of the year is foreign iron. This country is now importing the product at the rate of 1,000 tons a day. While this is no very large amount it will go a long way toward relieving the situation. Imports are being made at prices ranging from $12 to $22 a ton for Scotch pig delivered at New York.

"I still hold to the opinion that this country will produce about 18,759,000 tons of Bessemer pig this year. I may say, however, that it is impossible to make a precise estimate, because of the labor troubles now prevailing. For example, more than 30 per cent of the current production in the Schuylkill and Lehigh valleys is now cut off as a result of the anthracite strike."

Mills Abandons a Project.

It is understood on the authority of persons who are in close touch with D. O. Mills that that gentleman has abandoned the project to establish a steel and wire plant on the Pacific coast, which he recently contemplated tentatively in association with Mr. Huntington. Mr. Mills was heavily interested before the formation of the United States Steel Corporation in a property that since has become a constituent concern of the combination. He is understood to be very enthusiastic as to the outlook of steel and wire and kindred products, but the best information is that he has abandoned the Pacific coast project.

Sloss-Sheffield Business Improving.

The statement of the Sloss-Sheffield Company for the quarter ended May 31, 1902, is a much more favorable report than the one issued by the company in the preceding quarter. The earnings from operations during the last quarter aggregated $307,617, a gain over the corresponding quarter of last year of $66,585.

U. S. Steel Bond Litigation.

Representatives of the United States Steel Corporation today showed little concern in the action of Vice Chancellor Emory in granting a temporary injunction restraining the corporation from carrying out its bond conversion plan. They have anticipated opposition, but believe that the settlement of all litigation is a question of a short time only. A steel official said that the small amount of stock represented by the opposition was sufficient proof of the popularity of the plan, and that within a few days the corporation would be in a position to go ahead without further obstacles.

Not in the Trust Business.

Emphatic denial was today given to the story published in this morning's newspapers that the North American Trust Company is promoting a combination that would control a chain of banks in the principal cities of the United States. While the circular setting forth the scheme did not contain the name of the North American Trust Company, it was signed by S. D. Scudder of 135 Broadway. Mr. Scudder is treasurer of the North American Trust Company.

Another Steel Company.

The New Steel and Iron Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital stock of $100,000. The incorporators of the company are John B. Wood, Horatio C. Wood and Arthur M. Wood, all of whom give their address as Camden, N. J. E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

NEW YORK, June 10.—Eastern men have bonded 12 miles of auriferous gravel land extending from Hawkins Bar, on New river, to China Flat, Trinity county, Cal. This district is said to have great mining possibilities. There is an unlimited supply of water and operations are to be conducted on a large scale. The deal involves an expenditure of $1,500,000.

Good spring clean ups are reported from the Atlin district. Pine, Gold Run and McKee creeks have produced about $100,000 each. There has been a stampede to Gold Run, where several new pay streaks have been discovered. The Columbia Hydraulic Mining Company, of which Senator Mason of Illinois is the chief stockholder, will carry on extensive work this summer.

The recent strike on the Santiago at Georgetown, Col., is proving bigger than was first reported. An immense body of ore is exposed by the late lower tunnel, which shows from $60 to $160 gold a ton. There is about three feet of yellow copper ore running $20 gold, 90 ounces silver and 15 per cent copper.

Ore from the Ida Bell mine, sold Colony ore assaying $206 a ton has been opened up in the Old Town, Russell gulch, Idaho Springs, Col.

Anaconda (Mont.) continues to receive flattering reports of the Race Track district. Many prominent mining men have turned their attention to the camp and everything within a radius of 10 miles is to be thoroughly prospected.

TO BE ABANDONED JULY 2.

Allegheny Arsenal Will Then Be Available for Railroad Purposes.

The Allegheny arsenal is now almost a thing of the past. Orders for its final abandonment set July 2 as the date upon which it shall take place. On that date the grounds and buildings will be turned over to the Quartermasters' department of the army, and then transferred to the department of the east. The detail of ordnance soldiers on duty there will be sent to other points, and a detail of infantry will take their place. The majority of the people of the Lawrenceville district still think that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company wants the lower arsenal grounds.

When it was suggested to several business men of the district that the city might be able to have congress give the city the grounds for park purposes they simply smiled. "Why," said a prominent resident, "the entire ordnance detail was worked continually during the summer months to coax a blade of grass to grow about the place. The smoke and dirt from the numerous mills kill the vegetation as soon as it sticks its head out of the ground."

Receptions at the Grand.

At the performances of "Lady Godiva" at the Grand yesterday Mr. William Ingersoll, the popular leading man of the house, who, by the way, returns to this theater next season in the same capacity, was distinguished at the distribution of his photographs. Mr. Ingersoll, who is an established matinee favorite, was given an enthusiastic reception at his every entrance at the matinee, while more than 2,000 of his lady admirers received his photographs. In the evening Miss Bateley and Messrs. Waldron, Ware, Martin and Harris had individual receptions. They were called upon for speeches and received a veritable conservatory of flowers from their friends. At the matinee this afternoon photographs of Miss Gardner, Mr. Waldron and Mr. Meighan will be distributed, while tonight Miss Truax will have her reception. Mr. Ingersoll's reception will take place on Friday night.

Western Men Stir Up Wall Street

DULL TRADING STILL HOLDING MARKET DOWN

Influence of Government Crop Report Proves Good Thing for the Grangers.

NO OUTSIDE BUSINESS

Room Traders Hold Floor, but They Become Slightly More Active. Slowness of Market Only to Be Compared to Long Ago.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 10.—There was some improvement in the demand for stocks today and upward progress made by prices, but the market was still dull and narrow to a degree that has not been equaled for the last two years until within a week. Dealings continued almost entirely in the hands of professional room traders, but this element operated with somewhat more freedom than for several days. They were encouraged by the return to Wall street of the leader of the so-called western group of speculators, to which have been attributed all the recent important market movements. If there were operations for the account of this group they were not on a large scale, as is sufficiently attested by the figures of the day's aggregate dealings. There was some concentrated buying of Southern railway, which easily led the whole market in point of activity. A single commission house, often employed by one of the large financial interests, was credited with taking 10,000 shares of this stock. There was a general expectation that the monthly crop estimate of the government, which was not published until after the stock exchange closed, would make a very favorable showing of the progress of the crops during May.

Helps the Grangers.

This was a strengthening influence on all the grangers, including the southwesterns. Atchison and St. Paul were the most prominent in the movement. The grain markets themselves rallied somewhat from the movement to discount the monthly report on the publication of the weather bureau's weekly report, indicating damage to winter wheat from too much moisture. The reported need of rain for the cotton crop in corn sections seemed to have no effect on the cotton carrying railroads. The recent divided increase for Chicago & Northwestern and Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Omaha was a continuing influence in favor of the grangers. Some special stocks were helped by individual influences, Pacific Mail on an alleged revival of prospects for the ship subsidy bill, Wisconsin Central on a favorable state crop report and the St. Joseph & Grand Island stocks on a report that the road was to be merged again into the Union Pacific system.

Manipulation Causes Drop.

Canadian Pacific suffered from realizing, and the selling was attributed to Canadian account from the same sources as the recent active manipulation of this stock. Today's money market was rather easy, despite some demand for call loans for stock exchange purposes and in face of a sub-treasury absorption since last Friday of nearly $1,500,000. The traders were inclined to take a hopeful view of the prospect of an early settlement of the coal strike or of the resumption of operations and earnings by the companies. There were some intimations that plans were making for an attempt to resume mining operations, but no admission could be procured of any prospect of a settlement with the miners. The market closed dull and steady.

The bond market was dull and narrow with an irregular movement of prices. Total sales par value, $1,900,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

The money market is easy and helps prospects for a revival of trading.

The speculators are again banking on an early settlement of the coal strike.

The dealing in United States Steel were 13,100 common and 7,500 preferred.

The Oil Market.

The Standard Oil Company's price for credit balances was unchanged yesterday at $1 20.

New Gordon Sand Duster Is a Surprise

The new Gordon sand development in Marion and Wetzel counties, W. Va., flashes up a duster in a quarter where better things were expected. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 12 on the Geisme Robinson farm through the Gordon sand and found that formation barren. This well is located on the west side of the south end of the Robinson tract, near Folsom station, on the Short Line railroad, and as this is the best-known point in this development, will in the future be so designated. The South Penn Company is drilling eight wells on this tract.

In the Cameron end of the Marshall county development the South Penn Company has drilled its No. 3 on the E. A. Criswell farm through the sand and has a brace of light pumpers. In the same district the South Penn Company has completed its test wells on the F. M. Williams and William Vanscoy farms. The first is a gasser and the last-named a five-barrel pumper.

On White Oak creek, Union district, Ritchie county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test on the Chapman farm, through the Big Injun sand and found that formation barren. The Carter Company will drill this well deeper and test the lower formations. They expect to find some production in the Berea grit.

On the Ohio side, in the Marietta district, Washington county, Henry C. Lord & Co. have drilled in an important test on the H. C. Martin farm, located midway between Hallfway run and the Fisher farm pool. It looks now, from the good showing made by the Martin farm wildcat, as though the two pools would soon be connected by a line of producers. Lord & Co. had the misfortune to drop the tools in its Martin farm test and are now delayed with a fishing job.

In the same district, Clark & Co. have drilled in their No. 3 on the Ann M. Rippert farm and have a show for a 15-barrel producer after giving it a dose of the high explosive fluid.

Near Wilking station, in the same county, Alexander & Landon have completed their No. 6 on the J. Wilking farm and have a 10-barrel pumper.

On Wolf creek, Morgan county, L. K. Sone has completed his test on the Mace Brown farm and a duster.

Near Barnesville, Belmont county, the United Gas Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the J. A. Judkins farm and has a show for a 6-barrel pumper.

In the Corning district, Perry county, Ortz & Co. have drilled in their No. 4 on the Bradford farm and have a show for a 10-barrel well. Near Corning, Muskingum, H. Taylor & Co. have completed their No. 4 on the W. A. Shepard farm and have a duster in all sands.

In the Bowerston development, in Harrison county, the Blue Grass Oil and Gas Company has completed a second test on the P. G. Houk farm and has a very light pumper. In the same district, Furtling & Bullock have completed a test on the Miller farm and have a five-barrel pumper.

In the Turkeyfoot extension, or the Carson pool, near Harwood, county W. Va., LeComte, Garrett & Co. have completed their No. 1 on the S. Carson farm and have a show for a 40-barrel producer.

In the Moreland-Merrille extension, near Burgettstown, Washington county, Pa., W. C. Kennedy &Co. have drilled in their No. 17 on the Merrill farm and have a show for a light pumper.

Near Coraopolis, Moon township, Allegheny county, the Philadelphia Company has completed its No. 8 on the M. Clever farm and has a duster. This farm produced some gushers five or six years ago.

In Aleppo township, Greene county, the Venture Oil Company has completed a second test on the Henry Elbin farm and has a show for a 6-barrel pumper.

North of Bristoria the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia has completed a test in the Nineveh sand on the Sams farm and has a duster.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The coffee market opened steady, with prices unchanged to five points lower, following weakness in European markets and heavy Brazilian receipts. Importers and tired longs were eager sellers during the early session. While former business made little attempt to rally prices. Soon after the call a single block of 18,000 bags of December changed hands, European interests being the buyers and a prominent local importing house being the seller. Later in the day some options further eased off five points and at the close the market was steady at a net loss of five to ten points. Total sales were 40,000 bags, including July at 4.85c; September at 5.00@5.05c; October at 5.10c; December at 5.25c; March at 5.45@5.50c; April at 5.50c; May at 5.55@5.60c. The Local Market Was Narrow, but Fairly Active and Firm

Common Stock Was in Large Demand Because of the Blower Machine.

BREWING COMMON BOOMED

The Steel Stocks Were Dull at Immaterial Changes in Values—Pittsburgh Coal Preferred Declined a Fraction.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was quite narrow, but fairly active and firm, the sales amounting to something over 5,300 shares. An unusual feature was the fact that no bond sales were posted, this being the first time this department has been so treated in weeks. It was due to the enforcement of the new rule forbidding the official recognition in any way of certain securities that have not been placed in either listed or unlisted departments. The rule was generally commended and will serve to keep the posting boards free from a good many issues that really had no right to a place in the records. The principal trading was in American Window Glass common and Pittsburgh Brewing common. The buying of the former was quite pronounced, and at the close the demand, still unsatisfied, was almost, if not quite, as large as the total sales of the stock during the day, which amounted to something over 1,600 shares. The price opened at 61½ and advanced to 62¾, a gain of ⅝ for the day. At the close 62¼ was bid, with 62⅝ asked. The preferred sold 50 shares at 92½, the last price. The advance in the price of the common was doubtless due to fuller details regarding the new blowing machine. At Alexandria, Ind., a plant has been equipped with 12 of these machines, and it will be put in operation either today or tomorrow. It is asserted that if the company is the absolute owner of this machine it would effect a saving of fully 50 per cent in the cost of labor alone. But, it is said, the principal ownership vests in a few of the company's chief officials, who will be paid a royalty, the company having exclusive use of the patent. The royalty will not be heavy enough to materially affect the saving to the company. It is also stated that the invention is so valuable that the owners have refused an offer of $10,000,000 for it. If all of these things be true, or even approximately so, it would appear that the bulls on the stock have a sure foundation and that the tips of 100 for it very shortly do not look so much out of proportion. Another bull card on the stock was the advance in the price of the company's product of from 12½ to 20 per cent.

In the remainder of the list Pittsburgh Brewing common was easily the leader, selling over 1,100 shares at 27¼@27½, the close being at 27⅜, a gain of ¼. Preferred was firmer and ¼ higher at 45¼. The sales amounting to not quite 200 shares. The steel shares were dull, but the changes in value were immaterial, Crucible Steel common closing at 22¼, the preferred at 87⅝ and United States Steel common at 38⅝, ex-dividend, a decline of ⅛. The preferred was ¼ higher at 89½. 100 shares having been sold. The coal stocks were also dull, the only change being a decline of ¼ in the price of Pittsburgh preferred, 220 shares coming out at 89⅝@89½. Philadelphia Company common advanced ⅝ to 48⅝ and closed steady at that price bid. In the banking group but little was done. Allegheny National advanced $1 to 118 and Colonial Trust lost $6 at 380. South Side Trust was also $1 lower at 110. In the quotations City Deposit bank advanced $1 to $173 bid, a new high record, and Exchange National was $1.50 higher at 95½ bid. The remainder of the list was dull and unchanged.

The largest individual trade of the forenoon was 500 United States Steel common, which Robinson Bros. bought at 38⅝ from Wilson.

The strength of Wabash issues was taken to indicate South Side people are trading the market to see if a public following could be created.

The first sale on the board was a small lot of Crucible Steel preferred at 87⅜, and that price was almost immediately paid for regular lots.

The Gates crowd was credited with the advance in Southern Railway. It is thought there was similar buying in Atchison, Union Pacific, St. Paul and possibly Missouri Pacific.

N. W. Stevenson is still offering from 1,000 to 15,000 Consolidated Bonanza Gold Mining stock at $2 a share. A private bid of $1.60 for 1,000 was refused.

The report that the Ft. Pitt, Fourth and Fifth National banks are to be consolidated under the name of the Ft. Pitt National bank was denied by President D. Leet Wilson of the Ft. Pitt National bank.

Humphries Miller has been a persistent bull on American Window Glass common, yet just before the close yesterday he was conspicuous on the selling side, disposing of 500 shares.

During the first half hour Joseph Langenheim was the largest individual buyer. He got 250 American Window Glass common, and 618 Pittsburgh Brewing common, which issues were the most distinctive strong ones.

The German Trust Company of Pittsburgh is to be formed and located in the downtown district. Application will be made for a charter in July. The applicants are: Emil Forrest, Jr., Garrison Wilson, Joseph Weiss, Richard Mierswa and Martin Kraus.

The new Mellon National bank, the Ft. Pitt National bank and the Federal National bank have applied for membership in the Pittsburgh Clearing House Association and their applications will probably be acted upon today. At the present time there are 24 members of the association. The carrying out of impending bank deals will reduce this number by three. The Commercial National, which was admitted to the clearing house last June, has been absorbed by the Commercial Trust Company. The Pittsburgh National, which was one of the original members of the association, has been absorbed by the Union Trust Company. The Mechanics National, which was also one of the original members of the association, will probably be absorbed by the First National.

The following circular was received by stockholders of the Mechanics National bank yesterday: "In view of the proposed plan for adoption of the following resolution at a meeting of the board of directors of this bank, held June 6, 1902: Resolved, That we, the directors of the Mechanics National bank, accept the offer of the First National bank of Pittsburgh of $140 per share, cash, for our individual holdings, provided that 9,700 shares shall be delivered at this price; and further resolved, that we recommend the shareholders of this bank to accept the same offer." Referring to the foregoing, we beg to suggest a prompt response on the part of the shareholders, so that the matter may be speedily terminated. When the required number in shares have assented, checks in payment will be mailed. It is understood that the usual semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, due in July, is figured in the purchase price—$140, and that it will go to the purchasers.

Horse Market.

Summer dullness has commenced to make its appearance in the horse market, trading not being so active as earlier in the season, while prices have declined a trifle. At the auction yesterday 140 horses were sold, but figures at which they were taken averaged $10 a head below prices obtained last week. The quality of the offerings was about the same as for several weeks past, but bidding was not so spirited, showing a less eager demand. STAR CHAMBER EVIDENCE HEARD IN MAGEE AUDIT

John I. Shaw Gave Private Testimony on Senator's Illness.

G. W. MOORE'S TREATMENT

Said He Attended Mr. Magee When Dr. Browning Was Absent—Contradicted Plaintiff's Witnesses. Found No Physician's Accounts.

Twice during the hearing yesterday in orphans' court upon the audit in the estate of the late C. L. Magee did Judge Over, with the court stenographer and all of those immediately interested in the case, retire to the judge's chamber and hear testimony not for the ears of the public. Dr. W. C. Browning, whose claim against the estate aggregates about $350,000, was admitted to these secret sessions.

The first of these sessions behind closed doors was when John I. Shaw was giving additional evidence and the second was when the examination of one of the executors referred to Mr. Shaw's testimony.

Mr. Stewart, one of the executors, was asked after the hearing what the nature of the testimony taken in chambers was. He answered: "We will show that Mr. Magee was in good condition."

When the hearing was opened Attorney W. B. Rodgers, for the claimant, said that, in view of the fact that medical men have been in attendance for the executors, and that they may attack Dr. Browning's treatment, he possessed some information as to the complications in Mr. Magee's case, and that he did not intend to offer such testimony unless it could not be avoided.

Attorney George C. Wilson, for the executors, said there probably would be some testimony to show that all of the time Dr. Browning was treating Mr. Magee he gave him assurances of a final cure, and that upon these assurances Mr. Magee was inclined to make promises of a liberal reward.

Willing to Pay Fair Price.

Mr. Wilson said that the promise of a final cure by Dr. Browning was made when the physician knew that Mr. Magee was suffering from a disease from which recovery was extremely doubtful.

Judge Over said he would not rule finally upon the introduction of the testimony referred to, as up to that time the case had resolved itself into a question of contract between Mr. Magee and Dr. Browning.

Mr. Wilson said of course Dr. Browning was entitled to fair compensation, but that the circumstances referred to would certainly have some bearing on the result.

Charles Wolf, the nurse, was recalled but his testimony was of a corroborative nature. Frank B. Smith, general manager of the Crucible Steel Company, told of Dr. Browning having treated a member of his family and of the doctor's rates, as was testified to by others.

John I. Shaw was recalled and reiterated what he had said about a conversation between Mr. Magee and the doctor relative to compensation. As to the recovery of Mr. Magee, the witness said, he thought he should not make a statement in open court, after which it was agreed to hear this testimony in chambers. After those identified with the case were out for some time they returned to the court room and the case for Dr. Browning was closed by the offer of the testimony taken in Philadelphia of witnesses to support the doctor's claim.

Failed to Cure Sullivan.

Peter Sullivan was the first witness called for the defense. He was a patient of Dr. Browning's in October, 1900. He said he received seven treatments by Dr. Browning, who told him he could cure him, but he did not, and the witness was ultimately cured by another doctor.

Harry Kleber testified that he met Dr. Browning at Asheville, N. C., in 1893, when the doctor was the manager of the Kenilworth hotel.

H. S. A. Stewart, one of the executors of the estate, was called. He told of his intimate relations with Mr. Magee. He said that he was at Mr. Magee's deathbed and that Dr. Browning and Dr. Wilson of Philadelphia were also present. Mr. Stewart said the private papers of Mr. Magee had been carefully examined by him, but that he found no bill or account, and, to his surprise, there was no reference to the doctor. All that was found, the witness said, was the stub of the $1,000 check referred to by witnesses for the claimant. This book was placed in evidence, as was the power of attorney from Mr. Magee to Mr. Stewart.

Executor Found Stock Account.

Upon cross-examination the witness said he gathered all of Mr. Magee's papers at Harrisburg, and after his death placed them in a satchel and brought them to Pittsburgh. The witness said he found with the papers two stock accounts, but there was no reference to Dr. Browning in either of them. He further stated that Mr. Magee made several starts to keep books, but never kept them up.

At the afternoon session the cross-examination of Mr. Stewart was continued. He said that the first he noticed of Mr. Magee's illness was in 1898, when they were on a trip to Lake Superior. Some of Mr. Magee's friends, not all, the witness said, were hopeful of Mr. Magee's illness while Dr. Browning was treating him.

Mr. Stewart identified a letter written by himself to Dr. Browning under date of February 10, 1900, in which Mr. Stewart wrote from Harrisburg that there was a decided change for the better in Mr. Magee's condition; that the writer felt very grateful to Dr. Browning; also that Mr. Magee insisted upon going to Pittsburgh. In the communication Dr. Browning is asked to persuade Mr. Magee to go to Philadelphia, and that when Dr. Browning went to Harrisburg he should take Dr. Wilson with him for consultation.

Shaw's Secret Testimony.

Another letter written by Mr. Stewart to Dr. Browning, under date of March 1, 1901, referred to Mr. Magee as resting much easier.

At this point all interested in the case retired to the judges' chamber to hear some secret testimony by Mr. Stewart relative to that given by Mr. Shaw in chambers during the morning. They were absent about 15 minutes.

John A. Bell, another of the executors, was called. Mr. Magee turned over the keys to his securities in two banks, worth more than $1,000,000, for a year and a half before his death. He held these keys until Mr. Magee's death, and after his decease he examined these papers with the other executors. He never saw any bill or receipts from Dr. Browning and did not find any papers that in any way related to Dr. Browning, except the $1,000 check spoken of by other witnesses. Mr. Bell identified a check made to the order of the Wilcansett hotel in the eastern part of the state under date of October 9, 1900, to show that Mr. Magee was not in Philadelphia at the time Mr. Shaw declared he was.

Mr. Bell was asked, upon cross-examination by Mr. Rodgers, what Mr. Magee was worth at the time of his death. This was objected to and the court sustained the objection, remarking that the account would show this.

Evidence on Stock Deals.

The witness said that Mr. Magee was engaged in stock transactions in Philadelphia; that his transactions were large, and that he was a liberal man.

"That stub book will show that," Mr. Wilson said, referring to Mr. Magee's check book.

Mr. Bell did not know of Mr. Magee's making investments for others. He said there was one stock account in existence about August 1, 1899, which was opened a long time prior to that date and was continued to the time of Mr. Magee's death.

Here the mystery brought about by Mr. Shaw's testimony came up again. Mr. Bell was asked about a conversation that occurred in Mr. Wilson's office, when the bill of Dr. Browning was discussed. Mr. Wilson asked if Mr. Shaw had referred then to the matter referred to in the testimony behind closed doors, whereupon Mr. Bell said he did not.

"He sort of made a threat," said Mr. Bell, "that he would uncover something if Dr. Browning's bill was not paid. He insisted upon a settlement. He said we were not friends of Mr. Magee and used such arguments as that."

"Did you ask him what it was?" asked Mr. Wilson, referring to Mr. Shaw's story.

"I did not care to know," said Mr. Bell.

Seif Saw No Accounts.

W. H. Seif, another of the executors, spoke of his intimate acquaintance with Mr. Magee, and of his knowledge of Mr. Magee's business interests. He never saw an account kept by Mr. Magee such as was testified to by Dr. Browning's witnesses, nor did he ever see any papers relative to any account between Mr. Magee and Dr. Browning.

Mr. Seif said that Mr. Magee's accounts do not show any stock transactions between June 14, 1899, and the middle of August, 1900.

G. W. Moore was called. He told of his life-long acquaintance with Mr. Magee, and of the trips he took with the senator. As to the Atlantic City trip mentioned by other witnesses, Mr. Moore said Dr. Browning was not present. When Mr. Magee was off on these visits he was not treated by Dr. Browning, but by the witness.

Moore Contradicts Witnesses.

Mr. Moore told of a trip to New York to see the yacht race, when the witness said laughingly, "I kind of got lost on that trip."

After this trip Mr. Magee was confined to his room for a week. This was about October 16, 1899. Mr. Moore declared this was the first that Dr. Browning visited Mr. Magee at the hotel. Then Dr. Browning gave him two treatments a day. These treatments, the witness said, were not unlike those administered by himself. While upon a trip to Pittsburgh, the witness said, Dr. Browning was not along, and he (Moore) gave these treatments to Mr. Magee as he did in Philadelphia. When court adjourned, Mr. Moore was on the stand.

ASKS AN INJUNCTION.

Pittsburgh Tunnel Company Wants Rival Enjoined from Taking Rights of Way.

The long threatened injunction proceedings against the Mt. Washington Tunnel Company and Booth & Flinn, limited, were entered in common pleas court No. 1 yesterday by the Pittsburgh Tunnel Company. It is asked that the defendants be restrained from entering or interfering with the premises and rights of the plaintiff; also that the defendants be enjoined from proceeding to construct a tunnel through Mt. Washington which will in any way interfere with the rights of the plaintiff, and that the defendants be ordered to remove their property and appliances upon the property of the plaintiff.

The plaintiff states that it was incorporated on April 29, 1874; that letters patent were granted it on April 3, 1897, and that the tunnel was located in May, 1897. It is stated that, by deed from John B. Bosch, dated May 29, 1902, the plaintiff acquired the right of way through property in the Thirtieth ward, beginning at the Washington turnpike, running to an alley upon the Bailey plan of lots, thence to the turnpike and to the place of beginning; also property along Sycamore street.

It is said that the route and location of the Mt. Washington company have been amended and are located across the premises of the plaintiff; that it is impossible for the plaintiff to operate, as far as its own enjoyment and possession of its tunnel is concerned and the safety of the public, a tunnel constructed by itself over its premises.

It is charged that on June 2 the employes of the defendants illegally and at night, surreptitiously and with a force of some hundreds of men and police officers took possession of the premises of the plaintiff, and in the absence of the plaintiff's contractor took the tools and other appliances belonging to the plaintiff's contractor and proceeded to excavate upon the plaintiff's property.

It is charged that by threats and violence the defendants are now preventing the entrance of the plaintiff's contractor upon the plaintiff's right of way. It is said that the rights claimed by the defendant company are illegal and void and that its acts are an unlawful trespass. A hearing will be held Saturday morning. Attorneys A. M. Neeper and W. M. Lindsay represent the plaintiff company.

PRINCIPAL ACQUITTED.

Charge of Assaulting a Pupil Not Sustained—Dickerson Pleaded Guilty.

In criminal court C. C. Williamson, principal of the Bellevue schools, was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery preferred by William Teller, and the costs were divided. Williamson was accused of cruelly punishing John Teller, the 12-year-old son of the prosecutor. The parents had been notified of the boy's playing "hooky" many times, and had instructed the principal to use such means as would compel the boy to attend school regularly, and to punish him if he failed to do so.

The boy testified that he often left school without permission, and on May 15 went home because he hurt his eye. He said he went to school the next day with an excuse, but did not give it to his teacher. He said he was taken to the basement and punished.

Witness testified that marks were left on the boy's body by the punishment.

Miss Fetterman, the boy's teacher, testified that he had been absent 31½ days during the school year, and that he was absent four days preceding May 15. She said she had written to his parents and had reported the matter to the principal.

Mr. Williamson said the boy's mother had told him that she could do nothing with her boy, that he should punish him if he did not attend school. He said an agreement was made then that he should whip the boy the next time he played truant. He let the boy go until the fifth or sixth time, and then took him to the basement and punished him. The boy, he said, refused to go with him and told him that if he punished him his father would settle with him. He said the boy fought and kicked so that he asked Janitor James McMinn to help him, so the boy would not injure himself, and that the marks on the boy's body were made by his throwing himself around.

Fred Dickerson, alias Dixon, pleaded guilty to a charge of voluntary manslaughter, for the killing of Leslie Woods at Neville island, on October 19, 1898. During a game of "craps" the men quarreled and Dickerson shot Woods through the heart. He will be sentenced Saturday.

Archie Long was found guilty of felonious assault and battery and was sentenced to the workhouse for one year. He struck William Fullerton on the head with a hatchet.

John Geary was found guilty of aggravated assault and battery and sentenced to one year in the workhouse. During a fight on May 21, M. J. Clifford was severely injured by Fullerton.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury yesterday returned true bills for murder and involuntary manslaughter against John Barry. He is accused of being responsible for the death of his brother, Michael Barry, who died at the Mercy hospital on February 25. The indictment against Barry reads that his brother's death was caused by "the shock due to burns received from a lamp thrown by Barry during a fight at their home at No. 11 Crawford street, on February 16."

Other bills were returned as follows:

McCoy; malicious mischief, Thomas J. Beall; misdemeanor, John Szetowicz, Sophia Kuposky.

Ignored bills—Assault and battery, William Soles, Joseph Fry, James Cooldey, Jacob Murphy, Margaret Weber, David Worhafe; aggravated assault and battery, Joseph McGilbery; larceny, Wenzie Palsamaye; false pretense, B. Mahogany Hall Table

If you require a Table for your hall, and wish it to be of more than average beauty, we feel that you'll care to see the one whose outline is suggested by the picture shown above.

One is speaking literally in saying that this picture merely suggests the table in question, for this superb piece of furniture is made of mahogany, which defies accuracy in illustration. But the moment you see it you will concede its claim to the attention of discriminating persons. It is a magnificent example of workmanship selling at a modest price—

The top is 40 by 28 inches—oval, of course—and the finish is as pleasing as the design is effective.

The styles are all original and prices are always an inducement at Hair-Vain?

Why not? A little vanity is a good thing. Perhaps you can't be hair-vain, your hair is so thin, so short, so gray. Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over 40 years. I am now in my 91st year and have an abundance of soft brown hair, which I attribute to the use of your preparation."—Mrs. Mary A. Keith, Belleville, Ill.

OUR NEIGHBORS MAKE COMMENT UPON CONTEST

Victors Are Congratulated While Causes of Defeat Are Explained.

FAILURE TO CONCENTRATE

Communities That Were United and Worked Early and Late Secured Prizes—Public Interest Was Intense During the Struggle.

Many of our colemporaries comment saliently upon the teachers' contest for the grand tour of Europe. Some congratulate favorites who have won, others explain why the local candidates failed. The interest in the voting was intense, and there is naturally disappointment in some quarters, though there have been very few complaints. In the opening of a column complimentary article the Connellsville Daily News says:

"The coupon contest has ended at last, and Connellsville, as usual, is on the honor list. Miss Clara Smith is a winner, and her numerous friends here and elsewhere are just as happy as the winner herself. The struggle has been a long and arduous one, but there was no let-up until the last ballot was in Saturday night. Miss Smith sent in almost 6,000 late Saturday evening. Her vote is quite complimentary, not only to Miss Smith, but to Connellsville."

Two Winners in Westmoreland.

Though the Greensburg Tribune's candidate was not a winner, it is glad to note the success of two Westmoreland candidates. It says: "The teachers' contest for The Pittsburgh Gazette's tour of Europe is closed, and the count of the over eleven million votes cast revealed the fact that Greensburg's favorite candidate, Miss Laura Cochran, fell short in the exciting wind-up. Westmoreland county, however, got two candidates, Prof. John W. Anthony of Jeannette, and Annie Keener of Latrobe."

Success Was Deserved.

This compliment for one of the fortunate teachers is from the Kittanning Times: "Miss Lulu Findley, who resides with her mother in this place, but is a teacher in the Ford City public schools, and was registered in the contest from that place, is one of the 25 teachers who will make a four weeks' tour of Europe as the guest of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, those papers jointly paying all the expenses and giving to each of the 25 winners fifty dollars for pin money. Two hundred and ninety-seven teachers contested. Of this number 12 had to be elected from Pittsburgh and Allegheny; 6 outside of those two cities and within the county, and 7 outside of Allegheny county. An additional credit comes to Miss Findley in that of the seven candidates outside of Allegheny county she lead the rest, leading the second highest by over 18,000 votes, her vote being 150,196. We venture that no other candidate worked more diligently or had more hearty support of friends than Miss Findley, and she has won because she deserved success."

Failure to Concentrate.

Why Braddock did not win a place is thus explained by the Evening Herald:

"The teachers' contest for the tour of Europe under the auspices of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph came to an end and the list of successful ones was published today. Votes were cast for almost 300 teachers. Edith J. Latshaw and Miss Mary E. Steele of Edgewood are among the winners.

Braddock and McKeesport are not represented in the teachers' trip because they failed to concentrate their votes. The total vote polled in Braddock was quite large enough to send a representative, but when split up between two or more candidates was ineffectual."

Victor and Vanquished.

Says the Washington Reporter:

"Two Washington county teachers were among the winners in The Pittsburgh Gazette-Telegraph coupon contest for the trip to Europe. These teachers are Prof. G. G. Hertzog of California, with 84,672 coupons, and Miss Emma Campbell of the Canonsburg public schools, with 82,852 coupons. The people of these two towns united each on one candidate and no others were voted for. Mrs. M. B. Redman of Humboldt school, Pittsburgh, was highest in the contest, having 725,286 coupons."

During the contest the Monongahela Republican was an ardent advocate of Prof. Wolford, and it has this to say of the result:

"The winners for The Gazette-Chronicle coupon contest were announced in this morning's Gazette. Our candidate, Prof. C. H. Wolford, was unfortunately not among the winners. His defeat was possibly due to a contestant in an adjoining town, who came to Monongahela during the latter part of the contest soliciting aid and engaging the services of clergy. This resulted in the defeat of both. Over eleven million votes were cast, the highest number, 725,286, was sent in by Mrs. M. B. Redman of the Humboldt school."

Rheumatism
of 33 years' standing
Cured

For 33 years I suffered from rheumatism until I became so crippled that I could hardly feed myself. Seven physicians had tried their skill in vain. My last doctors told me that it was useless for me to take more medicines, claiming there was no cure for me. My family also discouraged me from taking more medicines, but when my church paper endorsed Gloria Tonic, I resorted to that and the systematic use of this excellent specific completely cured me. G.
